A stranger by the name of Biting, called at the home of U. A. Newman of the East Side last week and asked to stay at his place for a while in the hope that he could find better health. Mr. Biting said he was from Portland. The man grew worse, and became so weak as to be unable to help himself in any manner. Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Newman, with the assistance of his neighbors, R. E. Harbison and W. Fike, brought the stranger to town and sent him to the hospital at Portland.

When Conrad Repp boarded the train last Saturday for The Dalles his actions aroused the suspicions of his friends, who ventured to remark that he was going after a marriage license. Returning later in the afternoon he was seen carrying a box of cigars under his arm, and this more than cinched the conclusions of his friends. Monday the report of the granting of marriage licenses showed one to have been granted to Conrad Repp and Phoebe Collins, both of Hood River. The Glacier learned Tuesday that they were married at the residence of George Repp Sunday evening, and the Glacier therefore extends to friend Repp hearty congratulations.

But the Glacier doesn't believe the Dukus Valley or any other correspondent would intentionally say anything through the columns of the paper to injure in any way the business reputation of their neighbors, and if their neighbors wish to know who the writers are, would not doubt be glad to make themselves known.

Metcalf-Coe.
Howell G. Metcalf and Myrtle G. Coe were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Coe, on state street, Sunday evening, October 2, 1904. W. C. Evans of the M. E. church officiated. The young couple entered the parlor to a wedding march played by Miss Inez Adair of Oregon City, and took their positions under a beautiful bell formed of ivy. The decorations were profuse. About 40 relatives and intimates were present. A dainty lunch was served after the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents. The newly married couple will be at home to their many friends in the Hill cottage on the hill, after Monday, October 10.

Miss Cramer Leaves For St. Louis.
Miss Laura Cramer, who won out in the voting contest last Saturday night, to decide who was to secure the free trip to St. Louis, left this morning for Portland, where she will take passage on the Canadian Pacific for the world's fair city.

Much interest was manifested in the closing of the contest last Saturday night, when a large crowd gathered at Williams' drug store to await the count of the ballots. More than half of the ballots had been deposited that afternoon. William Kennedy voted the largest block of coupons and turned the tide in favor of Miss Cramer.

Miss Cramer's total vote was 55,618, a plurality of 13,090. Miss Meliss Olinger secured a vote of 42,520; Miss Stella Richardson, 19,590.

Good Record Of Barrett School.
The following report comes from the Barrett schools, and shows the number enrolled October 3:
Primary department, 49.
Intermediate department, 43.
Advanced department, 28.
Total 120.
Certificates granted for being neither tardy nor absent during the first month of school, ending last Friday:
Primary department, 31.
Intermediate department, 26.
Advanced department, 14.
Total 71.

The attendance and interest for the first month, ending September 30, was excellent. Each department earned a half holiday by having no cases of tardiness during the month.

The instructors are C. D. Thompson, principal; A. B. Cash, Ola Norman, assistants.

Local Fighter Gets Decision.
"Kid" Corley of Portland lasted less than two rounds before the terrific onslaughts of Clarence Elliott, in what was to have been a ten-round bout at the opera house Saturday night. Both fighters mixed things lively from the start. The Portland lad was the heavier of the two, but he lacked steam. Elliott had been in training for a month, taking long runs in the country each evening under the direction of "Dutch" Charley, and he came out of the mill fresh as he went in. Time and again Corley went to the carpet, and a hard job in the ring put him out of business for good, shortly after the opening of the second round.

For fear that the affair may lead to prosecution, there have been claims that the Portland fighter laid down; that he was not knocked out and suffered no bodily discomfort. There appears to be no move to prosecute the boys for fighting, but the affair has aroused the indignation of a large number of people who declare nothing like this shall take place again within the city limits. At Monday night's council meeting, Councilman Early asked that an ordinance be prepared to prohibit boxing matches in the city in the future.

Robert Jones started overland for Grass Valley last week.

Fred and Albert Blalock returned to Belmont Saturday after spending three months in Sherman county.

The basket social given at the Frankton school house last Friday evening was a complete success in every particular. The proceeds were $92.25. A motherly for Frankton. Where is Barrett.

Mrs. Joseph Frasier, ex., visited friends at Belmont last week.

Rev. C. H. Clark will preach at Belmont next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and also in the evening at 8.

The ladies' aid of Belmont will meet at the residence of Mrs. Will Tarrell Friday afternoon.

A beautiful little brown-eyed girl was welcomed at the home of John Hudson, September 24.

Mrs. Georgia Gilbert, who has spent three weeks at the Henderson ranch, in Belmont, will leave this week for Los Angeles, where she will visit for a short time and from there return to her home in Chicago.

John Wilson started on Monday's noon train for a visit at his childhood home in Indiana, where he has not been for 23 years. His many friends wish him a safe and pleasant journey.
