

CORRESPONDENCE.

TROUT LAKE.

A ball was given at Husum, at Mordecai Jones', Saturday night, September 24. It is reported that 150 persons were present, and supper was served to 105. Quite a number of Trout Lake citizens attended. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Fay Fritz, Mr. and Mrs. Kingman, Mr. and Mrs. Byrket and Miss Janet Lacy. All seemed to be in good spirits and say they enjoyed the ball very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and their two younger children spent a few days of last week in Goldendale visiting relatives.

James Coate, the eldest son of Representative and Mrs. Coate, has returned to Portland and will remain this winter and attend a business college.

Mrs. Wagnitz, who is in Portland at the hospital sick with typhoid fever, is reported to be convalescing.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fritz, who is now in the hospital, is reported to be in good health and is growing rapidly. It also has the best of care, regardless of the reports to the contrary.

George Camp, while burning logs in a clearing, burns his left foot quite badly, and is unable to wear his shoe.

Mrs. Witt is spending a few days in Portland. Mr. Witt is moving from Lyle to their Trout Lake home.—Sentinel.

BARRETT.

Fred and James Ingalls have returned from the North Yakima hop fields, and speak very well of the hop raising business.

The telephone in this district for the past two weeks has been just a dead letter—a continual ring for central but no reply. I am informed that the chief of the young lady operators has gone to the St. Louis fair. Perhaps that is why we cannot get central.

Another addition to Barrett's district. On Saturday in the early hours of the morning the house of F. C. Sherrieb was blessed with another daughter. Mother and baby are doing well. F. C. feels young yet.

Will Ellis has purchased a yearling colt from fine trotting stock. Suppose Will will have him on the track soon.

We noticed Rev. Cummings and wife Brother Holman and others passing through our streets on Sunday morning on their way to Parkertown to hold preaching services at that place. Mother and baby are doing well. F. C. feels young yet.

PINE GROVE.

Apple picking has begun in earnest at Pine Grove, and will continue for some weeks. The crop is as large as usual.

Rev. and Mrs. Spight of The Dalles were guests at the home of L. E. Clark last week.

Mr. Bitting, who came up from Portland in hopes of benefiting his health, returned to that city last week accompanied by U. A. Newman.

Mr. Rollins and family of Redding, California, arrived in Pine Grove October 5. Mr. Rollins intends to make his future home in Hood River valley.

A spelling school was organized Saturday evening October 8, for social and educational purposes. Many were present and all report a pleasant as well as profitable time.

Fred Mack went to The Dalles last week to look at some land, with a view of purchasing it.

Friday evening, October 21, there will be given an entertainment at Pine Grove school. An interesting program will be rendered, after which the real fun will begin. Come one and all. The night will not be dark for we have secured nature's electric light (the moon) to light the way. Girls, bring a basket plating therein, besides a lunch, a night cap, the counterpart of which keep in your own possession for the purpose of identifying baskets. Program will be given later.

Messrs. Martin Drageath and Will Magill took in the county fair at The Dalles last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lage spent Sunday at Meonimie.

Misses Mabel Riddell and Mara Smith attended the superintendent's and principals' which met in Hood River Saturday.

A debate was given by members of the ninth and tenth grades last Friday afternoon, the question being "Resolved, That women have the right to vote." Leaders were, Edith Winchell, affirmative, and Charlie Lage, negative. The negative came out victorious.

Miss Nettie Gleason entertained a few of her friends Friday evening, October 17. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

PARKERTOWN.

Hello, friends! We have not all gone to sleep out here; on the contrary everyone is very much alive. The mill is running full blast; logging goes merrily on, and Mark Davenport has a crew of 20 men at work at Greenpoint. So you see we are all alive yet.

Mrs. J. R. Bennett went to Hood River last Monday where she was the guest of Mrs. Robert White until Tuesday, then took the train to Portland for a short visit with friends.

S. S. Johns went to The Dalles last Thursday, where he had some business affairs to look after. While there he took in the annual fair.

George M. Cornwall, a "lumber newspaper man," came out to Parkertown last Monday with Messrs. Kelsey and Davenport. They took him for a drive up to Greenpoint, and he expressed himself as having enjoyed the trip very much.

Willis Thornburg is cooking for the crew at Greenpoint, and the boys are all very loud in their praise of his art in that line.

The mill had a break-down on last Friday, which might have been very serious, only for the brave and quick action of John Shaffer, engineer, and Fred Newby. It was at first thought a new fly wheel would be necessary, but repairs have been made by which it is hoped everything will go all right. They expect to be running the mill again by October 11.

Threatened to Kill Frank Davenport. For threatening to kill Frank Davenport, because of the inability to secure a settlement of a small account, John Zimmerman, the one armed peddler who was conspicuous on the streets of the city last week, is now serving 30 days in the county jail at The Dalles.

Zimmerman was going about town seeking Mr. Davenport and making threats that he would collect the bill at all hazards. Marshal Olinger took away his gun, when he acted in such a surly manner that the officer at once placed him under arrest. Saturday he was given trial before Justice Nickelsen. The peddler pleaded not guilty, but further than that he would say nothing. He refused counsel. Attorney Hartwig appeared for the prosecution. Justice Nickelsen sentenced the prisoner to 30 days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $25. Marshal Olinger took the prisoner to The Dalles, Sunday morning. The fine has not been paid, which will increase his sentence ten days. Marshal Olinger says Zimmerman intimated he would give his time and made threats that he would get even with Davenport yet. Olinger will keep watch for the gentleman as soon as he has served his time.

ABLE TALENT AT FAIR CONCERTS

The entertainment committee for the fair have made elaborate preparations for each night. They have secured a large tent and have been able to get together the best talent in Portland and Hood River for these nights.

Thursday night Mr. Webber, leader of the Marjann Grand theater orchestra, will give as choice a concert as has ever been given in Hood River.

Friday, Press club night, local talent will assist the Press club.

Saturday night, a concert, in which several of Hood River's favorite amateurs will take part. Miss Nettie Gleason gives a reading "The Gipsy Flower Girl" in costume, which alone will be worth the admission price. Mrs. Sletten's beautiful voice will be heard to advantage in "For All Eternity."

Mrs. H. L. Dumble and Miss Anne Smith have been entering in their efforts to make the entertainments during the fair a complete success. It was through the efforts of Mrs. Dumble that the services of the Webber Mandolin club have been secured. Mr. Webber is one of the best known instructors of the Pacific coast on the mandolin, banjo and guitar.

Only a few years ago the mandolin, banjo and guitar were regarded in the light of a fad; now they are recognized as legitimate musical instruments, and are yearly growing in popular favor. Many persons who do not fancy the harsh strident tones of the piano, find in the melody of their tone a happy medium for expression of musical thought.

Does He Deserve Such Luxuries? Williams, who is in jail at The Dalles under death penalty awaiting the action of an appeal to the supreme court, is well high hopeless. He refuses to see most of those who apply for an interview saying he is disgusted with the morbid curiosity they display toward him. We understand the authorities refuse to let him have the papers to read. This, we think, is a mistake, the penalty in his case is not solitary confinement but that he shall be taken from the jail and hanged until he is dead. Besides, he is now in a position that allows a re-examination of parts of his case and may be said to still on trial. The only thing demanded by the law of the officers in whose care he is, is safe keeping. He asks for some drawing paper and crayons, but expressed himself in a way that he did not expect to receive them. While we are among those who accept the correctness of the jury's verdict, and believe Williams to be, and to have been a dangerous man, we would say there is no need of the additional punishment of seclusion further than to assure his safe keeping.—Dufur Dispatch.

By a Lewis and Clark Dollar. The Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition Company offers for sale at the price of two dollars each, 25,000 souvenir gold dollars. To each purchaser of five coins will be given one coin free of charge, making six for ten dollars. These coins are issued by the secretary of the treasury, under authority of an act of congress, approved by President Roosevelt, April 13, 1904. The issue is limited to 250,000.

These coins are singularly interesting from the fact that they have two heads or obverses. On one side is the head of Captain William Clark and the words "United States of America" and "One Dollar." On the other side appear the head of Captain Meriwether Lewis and the words "Lewis-Clark Exposition, Portland, Ore. and the date, "1904." The coin has neither creases nor stars.

Some estimate of the value of this small issue of souvenir legal tender gold dollars may be made from the present value of the ordinary United States gold dollar, of which there were coined 19,499,337 between the years 1849 and 1890. These now sell for $2 each.

No coins of this issue will be placed upon sale at a lower figure than is quoted in this circular. All coins are sent to purchasers by registered mail at the expense of the Exposition company.

These coins may also be obtained at Butler & Co's. bank.

Road to Skamania County Mines. William Dawson, of Barington, Illinois, who is interested in the Kamgaroo group of mining claims in the St. Helens district, reports that there has been a large amount of work done in the district this season, and that the thing most needed now is a railroad. He is confident that a railroad will reach the mines within the next two or three years at the latest, and that there is good reason to believe that the work of building the railroad will actually commence next year. Mr. Dawson states that although there are many good mining claims taken up, there is a large area of the St. Helens district that has not yet been prospectively and when the railroad comes to be an assured fact there will be a big rush to the district to prospect and stake out claims.—Stevenson Pioneer.

Ashland Peach Season Nearing End. The Ashland Fruit association is loading a car of Salway peaches today, whose destination is Los Angeles, and which is the second car they have loaded this week. The crop of Salways was never better, either in quality or quantity, than it is this year, and the prices promise to be a little higher than those obtained for the late Crawford's. The latter variety and the Moirs have been gathered, and the association's shipment of the two varieties combined will amount about 15,000 boxes. The 22,000 boxes of Early Crawford's marketed by the association are being settled for with the growers, and the average prices obtained were for fancy, 62 cents; and for As, 47 cents. Apples are coming in freely and there will be a number of carloads shipped from Ashland, most of which will go to San Francisco and other points south.—Ashland Tidings.

Must Have Been Fine Ones. W. C. Lacy of Blackfoot, presented The Times, Saturday, with a box of choice plums of the Columbia and Golden drop varieties. They were fine ones, grown without irrigation, and prove beyond doubt that with proper cultivation fruits can be successfully raised here without the trouble of watering them. The plums were equal in every respect to those grown in the famous Hood River valley.—Heppner Times.

PORTLANDERS TO SEE FRUIT FAIR

A party of 150 Portland business men will pass through Hood River tonight bound for Walla Walla, where they will be the guests of the Commercial club to-morrow. Returning that night they will be anxious to spend two hours in Hood River Friday morning to view the apple exhibit.

It is the intention of the Hood River Commercial club to have the visitors spend the day here. If they conclude to do so, President Butler has arranged to take the Portlanders on a drive into the valley. Tom Richardson of Portland is very anxious to have the Portland men stay here until Friday afternoon, but he says the men will be anxious to return to their work, and therefore it may not be possible to persuade them to stay longer than the two hours scheduled to see the fruit fair.

The business men will be accompanied by their wives and other members of their families. Each excursionist will wear a white badge bearing the word "Portland" in gilt letters. The badges will be held in place by a L-wis and Clarke exposition button.

Following are the names of the Portlanders who will be members of the party: F. F. Gaylord, of Bell & Co.; W. J. Barnes, president chamber of commerce; W. H. McMonies, of W. H. McMonies & Co.; F. W. Moeseohn, of the Moeseohn Advertising Agency; Samuel Connel, of the Northwest Door company.

Work of the Development League. Portland, Ore., Oct. 4, 1904.—The design for the Oregon Development League letter heads to be used by the commercial and industrial organizations holding membership in that body will be given to the printer October 10. Membership in this organization costs each commercial body $5.00, and this entitles them to one thousand letter heads made local in every particular. No memberships can be accepted between October 10 and January 1, 1905. These letter heads will contain on the back the names and addresses of the corresponding officers of the several organizations and condensed statistics regarding Oregon as a state. The first order will be for a thousand letter heads, and all bodies not holding membership are urged to please remit $5.00 before October 10.

The officers of the Oregon Irrigation Association held a meeting in the rooms of the Portland Commercial Club today and decided that they would send a large delegation to El Paso, Texas, to attend the convention in that city, and invite the Congress to meet in 1905 in Portland. It is especially desired that Oregon have a large delegation present at El Paso. Mayors of cities and Presidents of Commercial Clubs are urged to appoint delegates to attend this Congress.

The prize articles entered for contest in the offer made by the Portland Commercial Club will be turned over to the judges October 15. It is necessary that these articles shall have appeared in papers printed outside of the state of Oregon before October 1, 1904. A great deal of interest has been excited in this contest and it has resulted in securing an enormous amount of advertising for the state of Oregon.

Enquiries addressed to the Oregon Development League and the Portland Commercial Club are being received from all portions of the United States, Canada, Mexico, and some from European countries and home-seekers, with a view of becoming permanent residents of Oregon, are looking over all portions of the state.

The excursion of the business men of Portland to North Yakima, including stops at Seattle and Tacoma, was very successful, and the success of a similar business men's excursion to Walla Walla, Washington, is already assured.

Will Build Larger Warehouse. Stranahan & Bagley, Hood River proprietors of the Measco Warehouse Milling Co., The Dalles, whose warehouse was burned at the time of the Davidson fire, have not yet decided upon a location for their warehouse. Mr. Stranahan says it will depend somewhat on the grade of the street leading to the railroad freight depot. He left Tuesday for Portland to confer with Superintendent O'Brien in regard to the matter.

The old warehouse had a capacity of five or six cars of feed, and Mr. Stranahan says when they build they expect to have a larger building, and to engage in some additional business. Just what this will be Mr. Stranahan says has not been determined upon.

An Editor Notably Related. Editor Harlan of the White Salmon Enterprise accompanied by his wife spent Sunday in Centerville. This is Mr. Harlan's first visit to Centerville since four years ago when he was stump-ing the country for Bryan. He says he is going to support Turner for Governor through the columns of the Enterprise, and the Democrats of the county are going to make up a fund for him to circulate his paper among the voters during the campaign. Mr. Harlan is a relative of Justice Harlan of the Supreme Court, while Mrs. Harlan is a cousin to Ex-President Cleveland.—Centerville Journal.

Wagon Loses Suit Against Chambers. In the suit of H. D. Wagon against F. L. Chambers to recover $1050 balance due for finding a purchaser for the property of the Valley Improvement Company for $1000, Judge Cleland rendered a decision in favor of the defendant. The defendant contended that Wagon was to make a sale for $30,000 and was to receive $1200, but didn't make it and was paid $150 expenses, which was all that was coming to him.

It Won't Take Long, Either. The Oregon Press Association meets in Hood River October 14 and 15. At this time the fair is in progress and the Hood River county proposes to convince the Oregon editors that they have as fine country as can be found in the state.—Eugene Register.

Best Country Weekly in the Country. A. A. Schenck of Omaha, who had written for a copy of the Glacier that had gone astray in the mails, says on receipt of the delayed paper: "I always miss very much my Glacier on Monday, when the mails miss carry. Your paper is one of the best weekly papers in this country."

Northwest News Notes. Mitchell, Wheeler county, suffered another flood a week ago Sunday night, a waterspout filling the main street to a considerable depth, and doing $750 worth of damage.

Oregon turned into the treasury nearly a million and a half dollars during the last fiscal year from the sale of public lands. The state heads the list for the sale of public lands, leading its nearest competitor by more than $100,000.

A daily mail service has been established between Bend and Silver Lake. This completes the chain of daily mail service across the state north and south, between the railroad at Shaniko and the railroad at Madeline, California.

The Fossil Journal has started a movement for a Wheeler county exhibit next year at the 1905 fair. There is nothing slow about Jim Stewart.

It developed at the Methodist conference, held last week at Eugene, that several preachers receive less than $300 a year each, a few of them not to exceed $150, and one only $120.
