

WAS A GREAT FRUIT FAIR

"The greatest fruit fair Hood River ever held," is the opinion heard on every hand concerning the fifth biennial Hood River fruit fair that closed at 12 o'clock Saturday night.

There never were so many exhibitors, such fancy colored apples, such large crowds of visitors from out of town, such splendid entertainments each evening, such a general good feeling over the work of the awarding committee and the general success of the whole undertaking.

Thousands of dollars will come to Hood River in the next few years as a result of the apple fair just closed. The editors of Oregon will write columns about the valley and its world-famed apples. That no other place in the world can duplicate such a display of fruit was the opinion of all who saw the exhibit here. Hood River throws out the challenge. Let all try who think they can.

Two hundred fifty-nine boxes of the exhibit left Monday night for the world's fair at St. Louis. The state commission of the fair is putting up for half the expense of forwarding the display, the business men of Portland donated $250 and the citizens of Hood River raised the balance of $30. R. B. Miller, the general freight agent of the O. R. & N. Co., voluntarily reduced the freight rate on the car of fruit from the regular rate of $40 to $120.

Among the farmers who had fruit in the car were: B. R. Tucker, Ladd & Warren, Campbell Bros., G. E. Crastner, C. Dethman, A. I. Mason, M. Dragseth, James Lacey, Henry Bissell, H. C. Sprout, F. G. Church, Ed Barker, C. E. Copple, John A. Wilson, L. Silliman, William Davidson, Peter Mohr, F. Chandler, William Ehrck, H. O. Sevirkrupp, L. E. Clarke, John Gardner, O. Yanderbilt, S. C. Cople, J. L. Carter, Joseph Jarvis, Miss Dollie Mosier, A. P. Bateham, S. Hess, J. N. Knight, F. M. Jackson, William Kennedy, A. C. Staten, J. Jordan, B. F. Moser, Mary A. Ries, C. G. Metcalf, Frank Davenport, R. E. Harbison.

The car also contained potatoes from the farms of G. W. McClinton, A. O. Hershey and J. M. Hollowell sent some onions. S. D. Garner's squash with the map of Hood River valley was included. Frank Chandler furnished a box of fine Oregon grape for decorative purposes and some peaches went from the orchard near Van Hook.

The entertainments each evening were highly successful and there have been many compliments for the women of the entertainment committee, who did so much to make the fair a success. The securing of the large tent from Portland for the evening meetings showed good judgment on the part of the fair management. Saturday night the pavilion was so crowded that people had to be turned away.

As the committee on awards, consisting of Commissioner Weber, Dr. A. LeRoy of the Oregon Information Bureau, and Mr. Taylor of the Dalles, were placing the ribbon on the displays, at the suggestion of President Smith, a blue ribbon was tied to each of the Moo twins as the best "pear" on exhibition.

The bills of expense are not in, but the fair management informs the Glacier that if the salvage from the building material, which will be sold Saturday to the highest bidder, brings a reasonable figure, there will be a deficit of only a few dollars. It may be possible that the management will set out even and that the guarantee fund of $800 will not have to be drawn upon.

Map Formed On Squash.

S. D. Garner exhibits at the fruit fair a Hubbard squash with the map of Hood River valley sketched upon it. The work was done with a knife point while the squash was growing. Mount Hood loomed up at the head of the valley, and Lost Lake, the East Side orchards, county roads, O. R. & N. line and other objects, including Mr. Garner's house with its name on it, are shown in the outline. Mr. Garner also exhibits fine, big summer squashes, upon one of which is outlined the words "Hood River Fair, Oct. 13, 14, 15, 1904." He has a squash vine 40 feet long on which is a good sized squash growing 33 feet from the root. He will place this on exhibition today, if he can find space for it in the big tent.

MacRae of Portland and a lady whose name we did not learn from The Dalles. Mrs. MacRae said the judges had the hardest task of their lives to decide among so many fine-looking babies, and she was an experienced hand at judging babies at baby shows. There were 39 babies entered for prizes, and 33 disappointed mothers. The prizes awarded were: First prize for finest baby, silver spoon engraved with a Hood River apple; second prize, a Lewis and Clark souvenir dollar; third prize, silver napkin ring.

Like the Fair, Dance a Big Success.

The dancing floor in the opera house Friday night was a gay scene with the 80 couples dancing to the splendid music furnished by Mr. McCally with the violin and Mr. Tuttle of Portland at the piano. Beautifully gowned women and fashionably dressed men, with the excellent music made the event one of the most successful of the many events of the fair week. Mr. McCally, who gave the hop, has been fairly overwhelmed with compliments since the affair Friday night. There was such a general appreciation of the swell function that Mr. McCally has decided to prepare another dance for Thanksgiving night. This will be a strictly invitation affair, and will probably be a leap year dance. The floor managers who assisted in making the dance last Friday a complete success were Dan Mears, Jack Bagley and Jim Hunt.

Apple Show Too Big.

O, dear E. L., O, good E. L., O, E. L. Smith Esquire, I have a word or two to say. A something to desire.

I've been to see your apple show, I tried to look it through, But 'tis too big, too big by half For jays like me to view.

Cut your mammoth show in two, The show is too big for you, Send sections west and sections east, 'E'en to Atlantic's shore.

And you will rake all prizes in Where'er a section goes, For 'tis "The greatest show on earth," So do as I propose.

And thus the name, and thus the fame Of fair Hood River town Will brighter grow, and farther go Till world-wide her renown.

A. BENNETT, Irrigator.

PINE GROVE.

There are now 85 pupils in school. Mrs. Marcellus is visiting at the home of her niece, Mrs. L. E. Clarke.

Mr. Ritting, who was taken to the hospital by Mr. Newman, died Saturday, October 8.

A trunk belonging to Miss M. Smith, after wandering around about a month, arrived at its destination, Hood River, October 12, and was a very welcome visitor.

The population of Pine Grove is on the increase, two new citizens having arrived since Monday.

Elmer Boardman, who has been in the hospital at Portland for the past six weeks with a siege of typhoid fever, returned home Tuesday. He is slowly improving but is still weak.

B. N. Spout and family, formerly of Pine Grove are here from their home in Beaverton, visiting at the home of C. H. Sprout.

We hope that the illness of Mrs. Talbot will not prove serious. Mrs. John Gleason came home from Portland Sunday, where she has been having a siege of sickness. We hope she will remain her health.

The prize apples and babies are from Pine Grove.

We are sorry to learn of the illness of Mrs. G. D. Boardman.

Little Zoe Newman wears a very proud look these days, all on account of her rising to the dignity of the title, Auntie Zoe.

Do not forget the Night Cap social at the Pine Grove school house Friday evening, October 21. The following program will be rendered:

Instrumental Solo—Blanch Harrison. Chorus, "Sweet Summer's Gone Away." Recitation—Ralph Ordway. Concert Recitation, "Poor Old Maids"—Nine little girls.

Pantomime, "Cat Pie." Musical Tunes, "Cyprey's Warning." Fares, "Popping the Question."

Fun for everyone. Girls, don't forget baskets with a night cap enclosed.

Bill Nye's Advice.

Bill Nye, the humorist, in reply to a Wisconsin youth who asked if Kansas was a good state in which to start another drug store, said: "If you mean by the drug business the sale of sure-enough drugs I would not go to Kansas. It is the great burning desire of your heart to go into a town of 2,000 people and open the thirtieth drug store in order that you may stand behind a tall, bald walnut prescription case day in and day out, with a graduate student in one hand and a Babcock fire extinguisher in the other, filling orders for whiskey made of stump water and the juice of fruit punishment, you will do well to go to Kansas. It is a temperance state and no saloons are allowed except in the city. You can run a dummy drug store there with two dozen dreary old glass bottles on the shelves, punctured by the hand of time and the Kansas fly of the period, and with a prophylactic in your back, and a tall red barrel in the back room filled with a mixture that will burn great holes in a man's heart, and make the cemetery blossom as a rose, and in a few years you can sell enough of this poisonous preparation to fill your baby bottles with wealth."

Effects of Prohibition.

The following letter from Hon. Geo. B. Pendleton of Temple, Texas, ex-member of congress, will interest communists contemplating prohibition: "I have been asked to make a statement regarding the success of prohibition in Bell county. I was an anti-prohibitionist in the campaign before the election, but as an ardent abiding man, after prohibition went into effect, I wished to see all the laws enforced and hoped it might be a success. So far as I know the laws are now being obeyed and enforced, but under the law as it stands organizations known as clubs can be created anywhere. While I am not a member of any of these clubs, I understand that there are seven or more in the town of Temple, and also at Benton and other places in Bell county. There are said to be more than 2,000 members of the clubs in Temple. These clubs belong to private individuals and can be legally kept open on Sunday and are kept open on Sunday at all times. I understand also that there is no crime for minors to enter a club, so we have Sunday opening and minors visiting places where liquor are sold and all this legally, while under the license system Sunday opening or selling or giving to minors was illegal. I am not on the streets at night and am kept busy in my office during the day most of the time, but understand from others that there is more drunkenness in Temple than there was under the license system. I have also heard it stated that many parties who took an occasional drink at a saloon are now members of a club so that they can get their drinks regularly, ordering by the quantity from other places, and keeping it at home. The effect of this is manifest, because persons who drink but little when they must after it would necessarily drink more when it is constantly in their presence. I do not believe that it has improved the morals of the people; on the contrary, I believe there has been a distinct decadence in morals. I do not believe in considering the question of money or profit until after the moral questions are disposed of, but inasmuch as it has not improved the morals of the people, on the contrary has injured them, I think we have a right to take the pecuniary phase into consideration, and from my standpoint I may say that the loss of revenue from the traffic has been a loss of many thousands dollars to our county, which must necessarily be made up by taxation upon the farmers and business men of the community. Geo. C. PENDLETON."
