WOODWORTH MAKES SOME GOOD ROADS

G. D. Woodworth, supervisor of road district No. 3, which includes the greater part of the west side of the valley outside of the city limits, has been doing some splendid road building in the southeastern part of his district, where he has constructed a road a foot or more in depth of solid rock, on top of which he has placed earth and gravel.

Mr. Woodworth was assisted in this work by subscriptions in cash and labor from the citizens of the town and country. Some of the subscriptions were paid to H. E. Bloucher last fall, before Mr. Woodworth took charge of the work.

Of these payments he has no record, but of those who paid him in cash or labor the following is the list handed in by the supervisor:

Five Bears and a Cougar.

Dan Mears and Earnest Hemmen returned Sunday night from a week's hunting trip with Mordcael Jones in the woods about Mount Adams. Five bears and a cougar were the combined results of the chase. "Teddy," Dan's plucky little Scotch terrier, was the hero in the cougar fight. The grizzly little dog has an ugly scar on his back where his hide came too close to the claws of the cougar.

Profitable Session at Pine Grove.

The educational meeting at Pine Grove school house Saturday was well attended by the teachers of the valley, some 25 of them being present. County Superintendent J. T. Neff, accompanied by Mrs. Neff, was down from The Dalles. Principal Orcutt and Miss Effie A. Taylor were also Dalles visitors.

rett school. The address was attentively listened to and furnished the teachers with solid food for thought. At the close of the morning program, long tables were spread with good things prepared by Principal Riddell and her able assistants at Pine Grove school. This splendid dinner was perhaps one of the essential ends to which Professor Thompson drove that morning, and it is said he was well pleased with the results.

The general session in the afternoon, which convened shortly after 1 o'clock, was as follows: Paper on "Language in the Eighth Grade," by Effie A. Taylor of The Dalles, "Thoroughness," C. Crouse assistant principal of the Hood River school; "The School and the Home," J. M. Orcutt, principal of The Dalles high school.

Sixteen teachers left town in the morning, driving to Pine Grove by way of Tucker's bridge. The meeting adjourned in time for the visitors to take the afternoon boat for The Dalles. The next meeting will be held at Hood River, Saturday, November 19.

Large Audience Greeted Miss Carter. It was a pleased and appreciative audience that greeted Miss Madel Lankton Carter in her impersonation of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" at the First Unitarian church, last Friday evening. That deliciously humorous story of Mrs. Wiggs, with now and then a touching bit of pathos, was portrayed in a capital manner by Miss Carter.

The generous and spirited applause showed how plainly Miss Carter had won the heart of her audience, and after the close of the entertainment there were frequent expressions of the wishes of one and all that Miss Carter appear soon again before a Hood River audience.

Miss Carter is a graduate of the Columbia school of oratory, Chicago, and for the last four years was dean of the college of oratory at Willamette university, Salem. She left during the week for Chicago, where she will continue her studies in post graduate work.

The other members of the program were generally applauded, particularly the solos of Murray Kay, who was repeatedly recalled. This was Mr. Kay's first appearance at Hood River, and it is hoped he will be heard soon again.

Slumber song, by Miss Smith and Miss Kelsay was sweetly sung, as was "Forget-me-not" by the trio, Mrs. Sletten, Mrs. Bateham and Miss Smith.

Frank O'Brien. Sherman J. Frank, proprietor of a lucrative harness business in this city, and well known here, was married Monday evening, October 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Farley at The Dalles, Or.; to Miss Annie M. O'Brien of that city; Rev. Father James O'Neill of St. Peter's Catholic church, officiating.

Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom and a very few intimate friends were present. The bride was very pretty in a dainty gown of white silk organdie over white silk and carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by Miss Grace Lauer, who wore white organdie with pink trimmings and carried pink carnations. Glen Allen was best man. After the ceremony light refreshments were served.

The bride is the only daughter of L. O'Brien, a well known stockman of Warwick, Wash., and the groom is the eldest son of Mrs. G. J. Farley, of The Dalles, and as best guests up in The Dalles they have hosts of friends who wish them great success and happiness in their new life.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank returned Saturday from a trip to Walla Walla, Seattle, Spokane and Portland, and have made their home in a cozy little cottage on East Sherman avenue, which Mr. Frank had furnished for his bride.

Bill Nye's Advice.

Bill Nye, the humorist, in reply to a Wisconsin youth who asked if Kansas was a good state in which to start another drug store, said: "If you mean by the drug business the sale of sure-enough drugs I would not go to Kansas. If it is the great burning desire of your heart to go into a town of 2,000 people and open the thirteenth drug store in order that you may stand behind a tall, black walnut prescription case day in and day out, with a graduate certificate in one hand and a Babcock fire extinguisher in the other, filling orders for whiskey made of stump water and the juice of future punishment, you will do well to go to Kansas. It is a temperance state and no saloons are allowed there. You can run a dummy drug store there with two dozen dreary old glass bottles on the shelves, purchased by the hand of time and the Kansas fly of the period, and with a prohibitory law at your back, and a tall red barrel in the back room filled with a mixture that will burn great holes in nature's heart, and make the cemetery blossom as a rose, and in a few years you can sell enough of this poisonous preparation to fill your flabby pockets with wealth."

Effects of Prohibition.

The following letter from Hon. Geo. B. Pendleton of Temple, Texas, ex-member of congress, will interest communities contemplating prohibition: "I have been asked to make a statement regarding the success of prohibition in Bell county. I was an anti-prohibitionist in the campaign before the election, but as a law-abiding man after prohibition went into effect, I wished to see all the laws enforced and hoped it might be a success.

So far as I know the laws are now being obeyed and there is more drunkenness in Bell county than there was before. I understand that there are seven or more in the town of Temple, and also at Benton and other places in Bell county. There are said to be more than 2,000 members of the clubs in Temple.

These clubs belong to private individuals and can be legally kept open on Sunday and are not open on Sundays at all times. I understand also that it is no crime for minors to enter a club, so we have Sunday opening and minors visiting places where liquors are sold and all done legally, while under the license system Sunday opening or selling or giving to minors was illegal.

I am not on the streets at night and am kept busy in my office during the day most of the time, but understand from others that there is more drunkenness in Temple than there was under the license system. I have also heard it stated that many parties who took an occasional drink at a saloon are now members of a club so that they can get their drinks regularly, ordering by the quantity from other places, and keeping it at home. The effect of this is manifest, because persons who drink but little when they must go after it would necessarily drink more when it is constantly in their presence.

I do not believe that it has improved the morals of the people; on the contrary, I believe there has been a distinct decadence in morals. I do not believe in considering the question of money or profit until after the moral questions are disposed of, but inasmuch as it has not improved the morals of the people, on the contrary has injured them, I think we have a right to take the pecuniary phase into consideration and from my standpoint I may say that the loss of revenue from the traffic has been a loss of many thousand dollars to our county, which must necessarily be made up by taxation upon the farmers and business men of the community.

Geo. C. Pendleton.
