

OREGON APPLES AT ST. LOUIS.

Charles V. Galloway, in charge of the Oregon horticultural exhibit at St. Louis, on receipt of the apples Mr. Smith forwarded from the orchards of J. L. Carter, August Paasch and Oscar Vanderbilt, wrote as follows:

"I reported the arrival of the 12 boxes of apples and two boxes of pears from Hood River to Mr. Wehrung on October 10, and presume that you have received his acknowledgment of the same ere this. I have covered one table with these apples (about 120 plates) and do not hesitate in saying that for the size of the display, they make the finest showing of anything in the building. Oregon's exhibit is getting better each day, and is now attracting much attention."

"President Myers of the state commission arrived last Tuesday. I suggested to him the advisability of having 15 boxes of Hood River apples each week until the middle of November, and a telegram was sent to Mr. Giltner to this purpose. If this plan is carried out we will make a showing to astonish the people. Of course we can get along with less fruit, but the more there is exhibited, the more there is to enter and the better our chances for awards. In securing here, twenty points out of a possible hundred, are reserved for the extent or quantity of the exhibit."

"One of the Gloria Mundi apples you sent weighs 27 ounces. Arkansas has exhibited one apple weighing 34 ounces, the largest shown thus far, and has done a good deal of crowing. People will pass without noticing, all manner of good things, just to see a big apple, 'the biggest in the building.' If there are any 'great big' apples in Oregon, and we know there are, we want them. For the first one sent in weighing 35 ounces or more we will pay the grower the sum of five dollars. This is a personal offer, not made in behalf of the commission."

"Permit me to thank you for the courtesies extended to Mr. Sandness of Germany. I trust that you found him interesting as he evidently found you."

Bright Prospects at Minadoka.

H. M. Abbott is home from the Minadoka country, Idaho, with glowing accounts of the district which will be irrigated with water supplied from the Snake river through irrigating canals now in course of construction by the government.

Mr. Abbott says about 15 Hood River people have claims in the Minadoka country, and that the government has appropriated $2,000,000 for the great irrigating system, which is under contract to be completed one year from next spring. When this is done the sagebrush desert will be turned into a veritable paradise.

A large part of the land will be planted to alfalfa and fruit trees. The land is about 4000 feet above the sea level, and Mr. Abbott believes all kinds of small fruits and vegetables can be grown excepting possibly tomatoes. The land will produce very fine melons.

About 120,000 inches of water will be brought out by the Minadoka ditch, while a similar volume will be turned out to the sand by the Great Falls ditch now in course of construction. The Minadoka ditch will be 80 feet wide at the bottom and 120 at the top. Some 300,000 acres of land will be reclaimed by the irrigation systems, says Mr. Abbott.

The land is already spotted with settlers' tents and cabins. About 15,000 acres of desert land remain to be filed on. There are thousands of settlers there from Nebraska, Iowa and the Dakotas, Seattle and a few from Oregon. The settlers are enthusiastic, and expect to make permanent homes in that country. The government has reserved several plats for townships.

Mr. Abbott believes this land in a few years will be the best part of Idaho. He says there is every possibility that a city will spring up at Riverton that will rival Boise for size and influence. Mr. Abbott and Mr. Crosier have been selling furniture at Minadoka, and expect to open for business in a few weeks.

The lumber from the fair pavilion was bid in at the auction last Saturday by E. L. Smith. The lumber two years ago went for $50, when there was less than that in the present building, but no one appeared to be out for bargains in second-hand lumber.

Educational Exhibit at the 1905 Fair.

As soon as definite plans as to the best way to make an educational exhibit at our Lewis and Clark fair have been agreed upon by the educators of the state, the various schools will begin preparations for the same, reports The Dalles Chronicle. A week ago Superintendent Landers interviewed the principals at Hood River on the subject and next Saturday will place it before the Dafer principals. All the schools of Portland, public and private, are talking of the subject. Multnomah county school await the return of Superintendent Robinson to go ahead actively. Baker City is planning for a full exhibit. Astoria, Oregon City and Salem are also at work. The state institutions and universities appreciate the advantage of a direct demonstration. The convents and denominational schools have well matured plans, and are now at work on the matter. The state agricultural college is taking very active steps. President Gatch says the work is progressing favorably. County Superintendent Alderman, from McMinnville, says the county is anxious to make the Oregon educational exhibit second to none, and Superintendent G. W. Jones, of the Oregon school for the blind is working hard.

Have Added Many New Phones.

Foreman O. H. Giltner, who has been here for the past two months in charge of improvements being done in Hood River valley by the Pacific States Telephone company, has completed his work and returned to Portland with his crew November 1.

Over 150 miles of new wire has been put up, and 62 new subscribers added to the list, making a total of over 400 phones connected with the Hood River central office.

The telephone instruments for the new subscribers are expected to arrive this week. The ranchers should all be ready for them.

The Telephone Co. is preparing a new list of subscribers, which will be printed in convenient form and contain the names of all telephone subscribers of the company in Wasco county. The list will be ready for distribution about December 1.

Pheasants are Good Swimmers.

Charles Waters informs the Glacier that on Sunday, October 9, a bevy of six China pheasants was seen to fly from the Oregon side of the Columbia at a point just above this city and alight in the water about 40 rods from the White Salmon shore. The birds swam to shore, and ran so fast to cover that but one was caught by young Mr. Egan. Several fifty Salmon people witnessed the incident.

China, or Denny pheasants as they are sometimes known, are very plentiful in the Willamette valley, where they were first introduced about 12 years ago by Mr. Denny, but very few of these birds find their way to Hood River. There being no grain fields here for the birds to feed on, and the severity of the winter weather and the deep snow perhaps keep them away.

If not molested, the flock that went to White Salmon last week, may be induced to remain, where protected by the bluffs they can find shelter along the banks and food sufficient to keep them through the winter. There is always less snow on the bank of the river at that point and the birds may breed and produce a large flock next spring.

The Exact Thing for Constipation.

"As a certain purgative and stomach purifier Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets seem to be the exact thing required, strong enough for the most robust, yet mild enough and safe for children and without that terrible gripping so common to most purgatives," says R. S. Webster & Co., Udonia, Ontario, Canada. For sale at Williams' Pharmacy.

Hood River to Get Another Writ.

D. Frederick Carnes, field editor and photographer of the Pacific Homestead, Friday, spent Friday and Saturday in Hood River gathering material for a writ in a special edition of the Homestead which is to appear the latter part of this month.

The business men contributed generously toward the purchase of extra copies to send to inquiring friends in the East. A. L. Craig of the O. R. & N. has agreed to distribute 10,000 of these copies to his immigration agents in the Mississippi valley and the publishers have a large list sent in by subscribers to whom copies of the paper will be mailed.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many railway wrecks and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. "Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by Chas. N. Clarke, druggist. SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon For Wasco County.

Emma Imlay, plaintiff.

Harry Curtis Imlay, defendant.

To Harry Curtis Imlay, the above named defendant.—In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, within six weeks from the 15th day of September, 1904, said day being the first day of the publication of this summons; and if you fail to so answer, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the court for relief demanded in her complaint filed in said cause, for a decree of divorce in said cause, and for the restoration of the plaintiff's maiden name and for her costs and disbursements in this suit.

This summons is published by virtue of an order of Honorable A. E. Lake, County Judge of the county court of the county of Wasco and state of Oregon, dated the 15th day of September A. D. 1904, which order specifies and provides six weeks and for seven publications as the time for which this summons shall be published.

Dated at Hood River, Oregon, this 30th day of September, 1904.

JOHN LELAND HENDERSON,

Attorney for Plaintiff.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Notice is hereby given that an execution and order of sale was issued out of the circuit court of the state of Oregon for Wasco county on the 15th day of October, 1904, upon a judgment and decree given and rendered therein on the 15th day of October, 1904, in a cause therein pending, wherein G. W. Phelps and W. B. Wilson were plaintiffs, and JOHN FRANCIS WYNN was defendant, and to me directed, and commanding me to sell the real estate herein described for the purpose of satisfying said judgment and decree and the costs thereof. Now, therefore, I will on Saturday, the 19th day of November, 1904, at the hour of 1 o'clock p. m., at the court house door in Wasco county, Oregon, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in hand for the purpose of satisfying said judgment, the following described real estate, to-wit:

Beginning at a point 166 feet south from the northwest corner of section 3, township 2 north, range 10 east, W. 34, running thence east to rock, thence south 24 rods thence west eighty rods; thence north 34 rods to point of beginning; containing 42 acres, more or less, and situated in Wasco county, Oregon.

Dated this 15th day of October.
