In connection with serve oysters, proceeds to go toward paying off pledges on pastor's salary. A general good time expected, and the enjoyment of the evening will be finding out how much the supper will cost you. Everybody invited. SOCIAL COMMITTEE.

Dolls! Dolls! Dolls!

The place to buy your little girl a doll will be at the Christmas doll sale given by the ladies of St. Mark's Guild on December 14, where you can buy a dressed doll cheaper than you can dress it yourself; dolls from the smallest to the largest and most elegantly dressed. We bought our dolls cheap and we can sell them cheap. In connection with this we will have on sale a fine variety of home made candies in attractive boxes. Just the thing for Christmas. Also a High Tea from 5 to 7, for 25 cents. One and all are cordially invited.

Dr. A. F. Rowley, dentist, will take rooms in the Smith building.

Lon Baldwin has his dwelling house on the heights well under way. St. Mark's Guild will meet Wednesday of next week at the home of Mrs. L. Clark.

E. Brayford of the Rockford store was transacting business in Portland last week.

A. T. Collins, representing the Spencer Shirt company of Portland, was in the city Tuesday.

A. P. Bateham went to Portland Wednesday of last week on a combination business and pleasure trip.

W. J. Cowherd and family are now residents of Madras, Crook county, where Mr. Cowherd has a homestead.

Fred Clarke and Claude Kelsay came up from Hood River yesterday to attend the Entre Nous club dance.—Chronicle.

Miss Clara Blythe is home from a trip to Portland, where she attended the wedding of Miss Fannie Brettell to Mr. Parker.

T. W. Thompson, president of the Hood River Milling Co., spent Thursday and Friday in Hood River, completing some business transactions for his company.

F. S. Stanley, vice president of the First National bank of Hood River, accompanied by Mrs. Stanley, were registered at the Mount Hood hotel last Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. Cooper arrived last Wednesday from Villisca, Iowa, and are visiting the family of their son, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cooper. They expect to remain here some time for the benefit of Mrs. Cooper's health.

William Harrison of Milwaukee, Wis., accompanied by N. Bohn of The Dalles, were Hood River visitors last week. Mr. Harrison is looking for a location in the West, and Mr. Bohn is proprietor of a job printing plant at the county seat.

Oscar Stranahan has made sale of several lots lately to newcomers who expect to build at once. Mr. Smith, who came with the immigration last spring from Kentucky is preparing to build, and Mr. Miller a recent arrival, will also put up a dwelling house.

Mrs. A. T. Zeek came up from Vancouver last Friday where she has been visiting her daughters. Mr. Zeek has rented the Thomas Strong house for the winter and his family will move up from Vancouver.

Mrs. C. Cudaford left Tuesday for Troutdale where she will visit with her parents a short time before starting with her husband to his former home, Noah, Nebraska. Mr. Cudaford is at present employed as blacksmith at Davenport Bros. Lumber company's mill at Parkertown.

W. V. Perry, who accompanied G. L. Robinson to Indiana, has not returned yet. Mr. Robinson left him at Indianapolis. When he saw his neighbor's apples on display at St. Louis and heard of many complimentary remarks about them, Mr. Robinson says it made him feel glad he came from Hood River.

The Hood River schools reopened Monday, after being closed one week because of several cases of diphtheria in the city. The cases were all very light, and a quarantine has been raised from all the homes the health board considers all danger is past, and public meetings will again be permitted.

Al Crofton, manager of the Portland Brewers' association, was in Hood River Thursday to find out why this section of Wasco county had four votes to spare for prohibition. Mr. Crofton had a conference with the local retail liquor dealers, but it is not thought that any effort will be made by them to contest the election.

A Goldenland dispatch says: W. F. Radkie, nominee for County Surveyor on the Democratic ticket at the recent election, was found in a dying condition Sunday night and died soon after from what was supposed to be heart failure. Mr. Radkie was a prominent civil engineer, and has long been in the employ of the Union Pacific.

Andrew Lindas, who resides at Astoria and owns a ranch at Belmont, was in the city Friday. Mr. Lindas has a young orchard of Spitzenberg and Newtowns and will put out 300 more trees of these varieties in the spring. He has put his place upon the market, but says he has concluded to keep it and come again to Hood River to live in the near future.

Faust Wallace of Salem, owner of the famous Polk county orchard formerly the property of his father accompanied by Charles A. Park, manager of the ranch, spent Friday in Hood River, the guest of Glen Fabrick. Mr. Fabrick drove the visitors about the valley. They expressed themselves as being very much pleased with the country. It was their first trip to Hood River.

Riverside Congregational church of Hood River is still without a pastor. Several members of the ministry of that church have visited Hood River during the last few months, but no selection has yet been made. The matter has been left with the board of trustees, Captain J. H. Dukes, Geo. P. Crowell and C. D. Thompson, who are assisted by Truman Butler and A. W. Othman.

Business was disposed of with new news and dispatch at the recent term of the circuit court. Through the work of the energetic district attorney, Frank Menefee, and his deputy, many cases were put into such shape that they were disposed of with dispatch. This gives Skamania county a complete set of republican officials.

The Rev. Mr. Nelson will preach at the Unitarian church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. It is probable a call will be extended to Mr. Nelson to take the Hood River charge.

Miss Edna Dow, who has been with Miss Taul since last July, returned to Astoria Saturday. Miss Taul accompanied her as far as Portland, and reports a terribly stormy day in that city.

C. A. Dano of the Geo. T. Prather Co. has received word from J. O. Mark and Herbert M. Varnier, recent purchasers of the Boardman property, who state they have left North Dakota for Hood River, and will arrive here next week. Mr. Mark says the ground in North Dakota is frozen hard, and there is six inches of snow.

Rev. T. S. Handsaker and wife of Corvallis are to begin a revival service at the Valley Christian church, January 8. Mr. Handsaker is a graduate of Drake university. For over a year he has been pastor of the Christian church at Corvallis and has been most successful. He has resigned his position to do evangelistic work. Mr. and Mrs. Handsaker are both accomplished singers.

Dr. Mary A. Johnson, whose professional card appears in another column, has taken rooms in the Smith block over the First National bank. Dr. Johnson comes well qualified for her work in Hood River. She was graduated with honors from the medical department of the University of Oregon with the class of '96, and for three years prior to locating in this city was connected with the medical staff of The Dalles hospital, where she is extremely well liked. Mrs. Johnson is a native Oregonian, and her father, Professor L. J. Powell, was for many years prominently connected with the educational work of the state. He

A Runaway Bicycle.

Terminated with an ugly end on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer unyielding to doctors and remedies for four years. Then Bueklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for burns, scalds, skin eruptions and piles, 25c, at Chas. N. Clarke's drug store.
