Marriage license was granted Saturday night to Warren M. Cooper and Kate Gribble, both of Mount Hood, and it is presumed the happy young couple were married Christmas day, although no announcement of the event has reached the newspaper office.

The Lewis and Clark centennial souvenir spoon has made its appearance and is as handsome a work in moulding as the eye ever meets. It was originated and is distributed by the women of Sacajawea society. The principal engraving is a reproduction of the statue of the Indian heroine in the bowl, but along the handle there are excellent representations of Multnomah Falls, the Lewis monument and portraits of the northwestern explorers. The back showing the state seal of Oregon, a view of Mt. St. Helens, two big pine trees and a characteristic salmon. The spoon is bronze in color and will be a beautiful ornament in thousands of American homes. The price is 75 cents.

A copy of the brief in the Williams' murder case, which was filed in the supreme court a few days ago, has been received at the office of Prosecuting Attorney Menefee. It is rather a unique affair, and would tend to give one the impression that the defense was indeed "up against it." Less than four pages, including the title page, is devoted to the statement of the case and points out the authorities, the remaining thirty-four being devoted to a paper on corpus delicti, read at the annual state attorney's convention at De Kalb, Ill., last July. Evidently Menefee has abandoned all propositions on the appeal except that evidence introduced by the state was not sufficient to support the verdict of guilty. The prosecution will now be allowed twenty days in which to file the state's brief and Mr. Menefee is working hard in order to have it in by every day and no day past proceeding. In ten days after that the reply brief is to be filed, when the time for hearing by the supreme court will be set.—Chronicle.

George Stranahan has recovered from his accident, and is around once more. John and Laura Bokes, of Amity, Ore., spent Christmas with Walter Fike and family.

Rev. Spight and family went to the Saturday to spend Christmas with Mrs. Spight's parents.

Mrs. P. Hemeral and daughter Sadie are visiting friends in Portland, where they expect to be for a month or more.

A. W. Onthank states that he had green peas and lima beans for Christmas dinner picked from his garden on that day.

Ralph Button, a sophomore at the University of California, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Button.

The ladies' aid society of the Congregational church will hold a business meeting Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. George P. Crowell.

H. A. Dyke, special agent of the Des Moines Life Insurance Co., was up from Portland Friday on business and also visited A. D. Moe and family.

Irene Sprot, daughter of Chas. Sprot, came up from Corvallis for the holidays. Miss Sprot is taking a musical course at the Corvallis college.

There will be a dance at the Mt. Hood Hall Friday evening, Dec. 30, given by Cooper and Knox. Everybody invited. Good music and good order will be maintained.

Herbert M. Vannier is building a fine residence on his portion of the Boardman property, which was recently purchased by him and Jos. O. Mark. Mr. Mark will occupy the Boardman residence.

G. D. Woodworth sold Lot No. 6 of his Sunnyside farm consisting of five acres to James Abbott of Warrenton, last week, consideration $200 per acre without water rent. A good bargain for all concerned.

John H. Belleville is erecting a nice residence on the old Chamberlain place on the west side of Washington, recently purchased. He is improving the place, all around, and will have the major part of it set to apples next spring.

If you have anything to sell advertise it in the Glacier. H. W. Wait, of the Farmers' Feed store, received an order last week from a man in Grand Rapids, Mich., who wanted two of the Hood River fruit ladders advertised in the Glacier.

W. H. Orendorff, who left for Portland last week to be treated for tapeworm, writes that the physician discovered he had no tapeworm but was being eaten up alive by small intestinal worms. Proper medicine and treatment will bring him around alright.

G. D. Boardman, writes from Los Gatos, Cal., that flowers and roses are in full bloom and the sun is bright and warm as summer. "Still," he continues, "the country has no charms for me. Tell Hood River people to stay with their apples. They are all right."

Following are the new officers of Idlewild lodge No. 107, I. O. O. F., elected for the ensuing year: W. Ganger, N. G.; H. C. Coe, V. G.; H. C. Smith, secretary; Clarence Shaw, recording secretary; J. M. Wood, treasurer. Installation of the new officers will take place, Thursday evening, January 5.

Dr. Watt returned Friday from Twin Falls, Idaho, where he spent a few days looking over that country. Dr. Watt says that about all the land under ditch, amounting to 70,000 acres has been sold, and nearly half as much more outside of the ditch district now being completed. Thousands of settlers from the East are flocking in.

A. Hophold presented this office with a few Yellow Newtown apples this week, grown on Sherman county soil and with out water, they are beautiful, and as Mr. Hophold has apples for sale, don't fail to give him a call. The apples are equal to the best Hood River apples in every respect.—Wason News.

Pete Hemmerl is the new devil in the Glacier office. The late incumbent, Horatio Wood, is edging along toward the mark of a good composer, and has been promoted to the position of ex-devil, while his predecessor has been relegated to that position of innocuous despatch (?) generally known as a "common print." Verily the Glacier "do move."

The lady's jacket advertised as lost near Odell on the night of December 3, has been found and is in possession of the blacksmith at the Parker town mill. The owner whoever she may be, can probably get it by calling there. More evidence of the efficacy of Glacier ads. But when you advertise for anything, sign your name to it. The Glacier people have a right to know besides the names of all its advertisers.

Bargain counter inducements in the marriage license business will soon be a thing of the past in Oregon if the legislature continues to get in its work. At its last session a raise in the price was made, whereby the price was to "glow" in years, prices and other fruits. Last year it was $5 per year. It was at least considered to allow leap year to pass before the raise was suggested.—Dalles Chronicle.

J. J. Turner expects to leave the latter part of the week for Idaho, where he has purchased a $17,000 fruit farm, 30 miles this side of Lewiston. The farm contains 110 acres all set to fruit. Fifty-one acres are in peaches, and the balance in pears, prunes and other fruits. Last season, the former owner, Mr. Offield, cleared above all expenses, $3,000. Mr. Turner's daughter is located at Grangeville, Idaho, and her father reports that she is gaining in strength every day.

The Lewis and Clark centennial souvenir spoon has made its appearance and is as handsome a work in moulding as the eye ever meets. It was originated and is distributed by the women of Sacajawea society. The principal engraving is a reproduction of the statue of the Indian heroine in the bowl, but along the handle there are excellent representations of Multnomah Falls, the Lewis monument and portraits of the northwestern explorers. The back showing the state seal of Oregon, a view of Mt. St. Helens, two big pine trees and a characteristic salmon. The spoon is bronze in color and will be a beautiful ornament in thousands of American homes. The price is 75 cents.

Some one once told an Indian that feathers were nice to sleep upon. He got one and tried it. "Ugh," he said, "White man dam-ny-lar." So it is with the merchant who tries one little advertisement and does not get his store crowded the first day. One little feather will not make a soft bed, neither will one little advertisement as a rule, bring everlasting prosperity. Keeping everlastingly at it brings success.

Railroaders say that owing to the absence of rain and snow on the Blue Mountains the past three months, water is very low in all the streams and the O. R. & N. experiences much difficulty in keeping a supply at the different tanks for the use of locomotives. The tanks at Huron, Kamela and Meacham have only a part of a supply, while the temporary tank four miles east of North Fork is yet maintained. Ordinarily this tank is abandoned in October, but is greatly needed this season, and will probably remain in service all winter.—Chronicle.
