40. The Masseys belong to the true type of the Southerners of whom we ave heard so much in song and story. good. We regret exceedingly their inclination to leave the valley, for they are the kind of people that are missed. Honest to the core and generous to a fault, it affords us great pleasure to say kind words concerning them.

Last week the typo of the Glacier made us say some awful things in our notes quoting from Bryant. We were quoted as saying "park" for past, "gratified" for grateful, and "Haubert Newton" for Hubert Morton. Mistakes will happen, however, and when we will happen, however, and when we reach that condition that we shall be freed from them, then we will have an order filled for wings and go to a purer

In our round up at the close of the year there was one thing omitted that I now desire to speak of, to wit: The Glacier. By way of comparison, I am now taking the Polk County Observer, published in Dallas, the county seat of Polk county, and one of the best counties in the Willamette valley. The town boasts of more than 2,000 inhabitants, the center of agriculture, and with Mr. Wells' sister, Mrs. Chapman's sister, Mrs. Maloy.

Hans Lage returned from The Dalles Saturday, where he spent a couple of days on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman's sister, Mrs. town boasts of more than 2,000 inhabitants, the center of agriculture, and one of the best stock counties in the state, and vet the party land of the best stock counties in the state. state, and yet the paper is only a 4-page paper with little advertising and scarce paper with little advertising and scarcely represented at all in the column of correspondents. Bro. Hayter is a live, capable editor and remarked this himself while here last fall that he was ashamed of his advertising columns as compared with the Glacier. It is with leasures that we note the fact that the asure that we note the fact that the Glacier is worthy of its high calling and ranks at the head of the list of weekly papers. And all this is true because the business men of the town and the readers in the country patronize your worthy paper and make it possible to give us what we are getting, the best weekly paper in the state.

Long may the Glacier flourish!

D. L. Davidson is now painting the Odd Fellows' building under a contract.

President Roosevelt's declaration that no distinction shall be made between men in high places or low, that crimes would be punished regardless of position or political influence, should find for him a warm place in the hearts of all loyal American citizens. His recent acts and declarations should surely endear him to the hearts of the American citizen. I think the average voter has a supreme contempt for the partisan political who finally develops into a political grafter. If political parties fail to do their duty toward the country much longer, the people will rise up and do it themselves, and when the whole people are fully aroused then will the partisan politician lose his occupation. They had best reform or pack their grips, for when the people settle questions they settle them right.
