

CORRESPONDENCE.

ODELL.

The merry jingle of the sleigh bells furnish inspiration for one paragraph at least this week. Last Sunday the noise of the bells broke the monotony of what is usually a quiet day at Odell. Sleighs from Mount Hood, Hood River and Odell lined past the Little White Store for hours. Clarence Coppel headed the list for music of the bells. Behind his pair of grays and with a string of bells on the harness of each horse, he drove like a prince up and down the line. The joyous, happy days of sleighing have a wonderful fascination for those of tender years and awaken recollections within us of old fellows reminding us of care-free days when we were young and our blood was warm.

The roads are in excellent condition for sleighing at this writing, and the wish of the writer is that they may remain until the warehouse stock can again be replenished. From present appearances inside the warehouse something has been doing. A smashup of the boys cost us the loss of two days at the beginning of the storm last week, but they were out again the first of the week laden with supplies for the Little White Store that is always doing business.

Oscar Fredenburg and Joe Holden made a record-breaking trip in their cutter last Saturday evening, arriving at the Little White Store just one hour out from home on their way to Hood River. Looking through the window and out upon the grey fringed mountains our eyes meet a picturesque if not a cheerful picture, and were it not for the eye of faith we would wonder if all nature would not die under the icy grasp of defiant Winter; but looking through and beyond the mist and storms and gloom of winter, we see again young life spring into existence under the gentle touch of spring, and we know that seed time and harvest shall come again. May we not learn a lesson from the changing seasons? When trouble, sorrow and disappointment come to us, weighing us down with gloom, may we look through them all, hoping and working for brighter and better days, remembering that "in all lives some days must be dark and some rain must fall."

The furnace of the Odell school house is beyond redemption. It never did work right; so finally, last week the directors were compelled to put in stoves, one in each room, and the children are now comfortable.

W. L. Carpes and family, who spent some time in the Willamette valley, near Junction City, have returned home. They were visiting Mrs. Carpes' parents, and W. L. reports a fine time. He enjoyed the rare sport of duck shooting along the classic banks of Long Tom, which is historic from the fact that there is the place where an old lady, during the flood of 1862, was out poking around hunting the well when the entire country was a vast lake of water. Besides this, Long Tom was the childhood home of Congressman Williamson. He tells the story of buying his first marbles from my brother, J. M. Shelley, across the river at Harriaburg, and this reminds us that "don't matter so much where a man is as what he is."

Up to the beginning of the storm surveys were busy about Odell chaining and driving stakes for the railroad. They are looting the East Side of the valley, and are long Odell and Pine Grove will be linked together with bands of steel. Pine Grove may truly boast of the best wagon road, but they must be content with the same kind of railroad that we have.

Mr. Black, who for some time has been in a Portland hospital, will return home in a few days.

Dancing seems the order of things at Odell. A big dance every week at the Odell Fellows hall.

Hubert Morton is spending a few days in Portland with friends there.

Quite a number of Mt. Hood people attended the dance here last week. As the reporter does not dance, he is not prepared to furnish a list of the visitors.

A Grim Tragedy is daily enacted, in thousands of homes as death claims in each one, another victim of consumption or pneumonia. But when coughs or colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oakland, Ind., writes "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she

BARRETT.

A meeting at the Barrett school house was held Saturday evening to discuss the matter of bonding the district for water. It was decided to take in less territory, get signers and then present the petition to the court in good shape. Persons desiring of taking water from the Water Supply company can get blanks from F. C. Sherrieb or any of the directors. Apply early.

WHITE SALMON.

J. P. Egan, county commissioner, returned from Goldendale last week. Fine sleighing. Many farmers from Canas Prairie and Trout Lake are taking advantage of the opportunity and are coming to town. The first of the week the whole of Pine Flat and Snowden country turned into town.

J. Lauterbach and wife returned from Portland and are busy unpacking furniture for the Washington hotel. Rev. Hetz, traveling evangelist, and F. P. Jones of Trout Lake, have been holding revival meetings here at the hotel last week. They went to Trout Lake Wednesday.

J. Weyer of Fulda is appointed road supervisor for the west end of Kliekhat county. Josh will make a good road supervisor, as he held that position in Canas Prairie for two years and is well satisfied with the work. The community Josh will make his home in White Salmon by the 1st of March, H. D. Cole having taken the place off his hands.

The ladies of Cook addition have formed a woman's club, as reported last week. The woman's club will celebrate the 5th anniversary of the organization of the club at White Salmon, at the Congregational church, Friday night. Free entertainment.

We are glad to see the familiar face of Mr. Condon on our streets again, even if he has grown whiskers on his face since he left here. We have missed him very much since he has been away. We need men like Mr. Condon to help us build the community, as he has shown himself capable by his labors for a good school and other public improvements. His many friends are glad to know he returns improved in health, and it is the wish of his neighbors that he may enjoy many years of health and prosperity among us.

The county clerk has ordered the road established as petitioned for by C. D. Moore and others to run east and connect with the A. R. Byrket road.

In the matter of the report of the view and survey of a proposed county road as petitioned for by R. D. Cameron and others, the board ordered hearing of same set for April 4, 1905.

By request of Mordecai Jones and others the board extended the time on the contract for building the R. D. Cameron road to April 10th of commissioner's court.

FROM THE ENTERPRISE. The White Salmon grange held a special meeting Wednesday evening and elected officers for the ensuing year. Deputy State Lecturer William Olsson and Professor Colburn, master of Human grange, were present and gave valuable suggestions relative to successful grange work. Professor Colburn especially emphasized exactness in carrying on lodge room work, also the necessity of more frequent meetings. Lecturer Olsson exemplified the unwritten work of the order to the great benefit of the members present. A library committee of three members, consisting of Frank Groshong, W. O. Cox and Mrs. Jewett were elected. The committee is to enter into correspondence with the state librarian at Olympia to secure for this community one of the traveling libraries which are sent out by the state to communities who appoint committees and choose a librarian to take charge of the same. The books are sent in a convenient and substantial book case and usually consist of some 40 volumes of various topics of general interest. As soon as arrangements are made and the books secured, the committee will give notice of the method of obtaining the same. The following grange officers were elected for the ensuing year: Master, A. H. Jewett; overseer, D. Huntley; steward, Frank Groshong; assistant steward, William Overbaugh; lecturer, Mrs. Jennie Jewett; secretary, S. C. Ziegler; treasurer, R. Lauterbach; chaplain, W. O. Cox; gate keeper, P. A. Trans; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Dora Overbaugh; cress, Miss Pearl Groshong.

Tomie to the System. For liver troubles and constipation there is nothing better than DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. They do not weaken the stomach. Their action upon the system is mild, pleasant and harmless. Sold by G. E. Williams.

MOSIER.

The daily attendance in the Mosier school, district 52, during the past month ending January 15, has been excellent. Owing to the snow storm, which came on Friday, the last day of the month, eight pupils who otherwise would have received certificates, were prevented from attending. Thus the list is as follows: George Sturges, Ralph Smith, Willie Depe, Mary Morgan, Annie Haacke, Alofa Haacke, Leodica Haacke, Mattie Hudson, Aldine Hudson, Mattie Green, Mamie Green, James Green, Alice Mosier.

Mathew Thiel, a pioneer of Mosier, died at The Dalles last week. Charles Stark is seriously ill. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan went to Portland Wednesday to consult a physician in regard to Mrs. Morgan's health.

J. H. Free, a prominent lumberman from Boyd, Wisconsin, spent several days in Mosier last week. On this last week Mr. Free shipped to an Eastern firm four carloads of No. 1 lumber, which now leaves his lumber yards clear.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Hughes of Spokane visited Mrs. Hughes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Danmore, last week. On their return they took with them Henry Danmore, who will attend school in Spokane.

Billy Hayes, a pioneer of Hood River and of Oregon, is lying critically ill at his home in Mosier.

Miss Katharine Davenport, who occupied a position in The Dalles, was obliged to resign her position there on account of an attack of typhoid fever. Miss Davenport has returned to her home in Mosier, where it is to be hoped she may regain her usual good health and resume her duties after having thoroughly recuperated.

Friday night last, our little town was made lively by the arrival of 25 gentlemen of the L. O. O. F. order, who came to assist some eight or ten of our desirous citizens in riding the unruly goat. Judging from the tired and careworn figures which presented themselves at about 8:30 a. m. Saturday morning it would be hard to determine in just what the initiation of these members consisted.

The Mosier Trading company have moved their store from the old Mosier store building into the new and more commodious building recently completed by Mr. Lamb.

Frank Ginger and Mrs. H. C. Mitchell have opened a real estate office under the firm name of Ginger & Mitchell. All business of real estate will be conducted by paying this firm a call.

Leo Root has purchased from Clarence Payne the half interest in the firm of Husbands & Payne, blacksmiths. In future the firm will be known under the firm name of Husbands & Root.

Saturday night the Modern Woodmen had a public installation of officers. After the completion of the installations, a sumptuous lunch was served by the ladies, after the partaking of which they all departed, satisfied that the ladies of Mosier understand their part of the business.

W. Nichols has about completed his new house. It was the writer's pleasure to visit or call, and we must say that it is just fine. There are about eight rooms, very nicely finished and everything is convenient and up to date. All that will need now is the electric light and street cars, and we suppose these will come in good time.

H. D. Stewart has finished painting in our district and returned home to Hood River. Mr. Stewart expects to go to Portland to work in a few days.

S. A. Skinner is very busy nowadays clearing up his land. It will soon be that you can't recognize the old Methodist lane. Rocks are being piled and stumps burned, so there is quite a change. Go on with the good work, Skinner.

E. C. Martin has a force of Japs grubbing and clearing up. Markham can't stand it to see other farmers with a force of Japs and himself left out. Well, get some more yellow men or white men, Claude, and clean the whole thing up.

Revival services are now being carried on at the Valley Christian church by Evangelist T. L. Handmaker and wife. The meetings are well attended. We hope good results will follow. Let the good work go on.

Joe Mayes of Hood River will preach at Belmont next Sunday evening. All are invited.

M. P. Isenberg is at Salem, where he has a position in the house of representatives.

Mrs. E. C. Rogers died early Sunday morning, after a long sickness. Her funeral sermon was preached at the M. E. church Monday morning at 10 o'clock and interment was made in Idlewild cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Price Hunter of Mosier came down Sunday evening to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hunter's mother, Mrs. E. C. Rogers.

Don't forget the basket social Friday evening, January 20, which will be the center of attraction at the Frankton school house. You may expect a program which is to be rendered by the pupils of the Frankton school.

The proceeds of this affair will go to the WILLOW FLAT.

Since the appointment of Frank Massee as road supervisor in No. 7, the people on the Flat may expect to get some road work done. It has been at least two years that no county work has been done on these roads. Why? Because the supervisors have always been taken from the lower part of the district and the roads exploited accordingly.

Along this same line it is safe to say that Mr. Massee has done more voluntary work than any other man in the district. It is due to his efforts alone that the Sears' road has been opened the entire length of it.

We are sorry to see the small attendance at the Dikes Valley literary. Last Saturday the program was short but well rendered. After recess 15 minutes were devoted to parliamentary practice. This caused much amusement and at the same time was mutually instructive. The debate was spirited. However, we are sorry to see so few in part. It was decided to have a question box next Saturday night. If you have any questions you want answered, bring them on.

We have passed through the first real snow of the season. It has given us a season well deserved in Snow Bend. But that is not all. What more glorious picture than these green trees draped in their mantle of white.

To him who, in the love of nature, holds communion with her visible forms, she speaks a various language.

The snow has put a stop to grubbing operations in this locality. The Dodge brothers have over five acres cleared on the Booth ranch. C. R. Bone's men have not done any pulling for some time, but have almost everything up after the machinery.

John Latimer is erecting a barn, with sufficient capacity for his freighting wards building a sidewalk for the benefit of the school children and the public, so far as they need to use it. Come one and all and help the good cause along.

Mr. Young says the engineer in charge of the government works at Cascade Locks says the Columbia river never was known to be so low. Rocks are appearing in the channel that were never seen before. At the Hood River wharf the water dropped one foot between Thursday and Monday. The wharf boat is now high and dry on the sand.

Spilled Her Beauty. Harriet Howard, of 309 W. 34th st., New York, at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble. She writes: "I had salt humor or eczema for years, but nothing would cure it, until I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. 25c at Chas. N. Clarke's drug store.

STOCK TAKING

Time is about due, and we have a lot of broken lines and remnants that we want to close out before taking stock, and will offer at prices that you can't afford to miss.

teams and hay enough to feed them a year. It has only been a few years since he bought his place of 40 acres for $700. Today it is not for sale at $6000, and he has 22 acres in a high state of cultivation.

Arnold on a Trip to the East. S. W. Arnold started last week for a visit with his friends in the East. Mr. Arnold has been on the coast for 15 years, 13 of which he has resided at Hood River.

He last reported, on the 8th, at Oakley, Kan., where he was waiting to take the train to his old home in Stockton, Okla. is the most unfortunate place to stop on the face of the earth. Sometimes the next train comes along and sometimes it doesn't. Mr. Arnold states that he arrived there at 3 a. m. and would not get away until 11 p. m. and then only provided a train comes along.

He has written home for a pair of his old overalls, shoes and hat, because the hotel has a line drawn and now seats him on the side with the commercial traveling men. He would not object to this if there were any difference except when it comes to paying the bill.

He expects to arrive here at 3 a. m. at Stockton, Kan., and to go from there to Salome Springs, Ark., where he will visit his father who has not been seen for 17 years. From there he will go to Ponca City, Okla., to visit a sister.

He has a line drawn and now seats him on the side with the commercial traveling men. He would not object to this if there were any difference except when it comes to paying the bill.

New Box Factory Machinery. The Davidson Fruit Co. has recently enlarged its box factory and made some additions to the machinery. A new saw that has been installed will enable three strips of lumber to be made from a block of wood that gave only two strips last year.

The Davidson Fruit Co. will continue in the business of manufacturing apple boxes and will be able, says Mr. Davidson, to meet the prices of all competitors. One grade of boxes will be manufactured at 8 cents, but for the fancy $2.25 Spitzbergs there will be boxes of better quality.

About the first of March the factory will begin on its annual run of strawberry crates. While it is early to figure on the coming crop of strawberries, from the present acreage Mr. Davidson figures that the crop will be about 30,000 crates less than last season's record-breaker of 90,000 crates.

River Never Was So Low. Norman Young, agent for the Regulator line, says a crew of men is at work raising the sunken Dalles City. They report good success, having brought the boat out of the water six inches the first day.

Mr. Young says the engineer in charge of the government works at Cascade Locks says the Columbia river never was known to be so low. Rocks are appearing in the channel that were never seen before. At the Hood River wharf the water dropped one foot between Thursday and Monday. The wharf boat is now high and dry on the sand.

BARTMESS Undertaker and Embalmer GRAND BALL

Under the auspices of the members of I. O. O. F. & Rebekah Lodges TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 21, 1905.

Having completed their new hall, the members of Idlewild Lodge and the members of Laurel Lodge have decided to give a social dance in their new hall. The floor in this hall is the very best in the city for dancing, they having taken great pains in this particular.

The best of music will be in attendance. A good time guaranteed to all. Invitations will be issued.

Death of Mrs. E. C. Rogers. After suffering two years from paralysis Mary E. Lingenfelter Rogers, wife of E. C. Rogers, died at her home in Belmont, at 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning, January 15, 1905. Funeral services were conducted at the Belmont M. E. chapel, Monday morning by Rev. H. C. Clark.

Mary E. Lingenfelter was born in New York state, May 22, 1850. At the age of six, she moved with her parents to Wisconsin, and six years later went to Iowa, where in her 17th year she was married to Elisha C. Rogers.

With her husband, Mrs. Rogers moved to Missouri in 1876, and eight years later came to Oregon, locating in Hood River valley, where she remained until her death. Mrs. Rogers was of a family of 12 children, and was herself the mother of 12 children. November 15, 1894, Mrs. Rogers made profession of religion, and became a member of the Methodist church at Belmont.

At the time of her death Mrs. Rogers was 54 years, seven months and 22 days old. She is survived by two brothers and two sisters, a husband, five sons and four daughters. It is said of Mrs. Rogers that she was a patient sufferer, a faithful wife and a loving mother.

Merry Time at Beulah Land. A merry card party was entertained right royally at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vanderbit on their Beulah Land farm last Saturday evening. The party left town in a large sleigh and did not return until the small hours of the morning. Those of the party were:

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rand, Mr. E. O. Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Mose, Mrs. C. E. Gilbert, Mr. Miller, George I. Slocum and Miss Kelsey.
