PLOW UP BERRIES
IN MIDDLE WEST

The first boys in the Middle West who are now engaged in fruit picking are those from Mason City, Iowa. The boys, who are working up North, are spending their summer vacations picking fruit for a living. This is a novel idea, and will no doubt be followed by others. The boys are paid $1.00 per bushel for their work, which is considered fair pay.

McCLURE TO PLANT
1000 CHERRY TREES

Dr. C. H. McClure, of Missouri, has been in town this week. He is interested in the fruit business, and has purchased a tract of land on the south side of town, where he is planning to plant 1000 cherry trees. The trees will be ready for bearing in three years, and will provide a valuable addition to the fruit interests of the county.
