

Hood River Glacier

THURSDAY, MARCH 2, 1905.

That some men are fit subjects for chloroform at 60 is evidenced by Dr. Osler's own philosophy.

Frances Joseph Honey, United States district attorney for Oregon, has lunched with the President Roosevelt. Now what do you think of that?

The high price for hops has induced the Willamette valley farmers to insert a lot of rubbish in their hop bales, and now comes an announcement from the English brewers that they will boycott the Oregon growers if this practice does not cease.

The Salem Push club is anxious that a meeting of the Willamette valley commercial clubs be held in the capital city prior to the meeting of the Development League in Portland in April. Thus the spirit of enterprise spread over the whole state.

The foreman in the office of the Madras Pioneer forgot to change the date line in last week's paper, but not to be behind the times, the devil was at once set to work to raise the date on each paper with pen and ink before sending it out.

A new creamery is to be established at Eugene, to occupy the first story of a new brick building soon to be erected there. When will Hood River have a creamery? There is money in the business, and as soon as hay gets cheaper in the valley there will be a splendid opening for dairying at Hood River.

Arrangements have been made by Southern Pacific officials with business men of Medford to erect an exhibit building close to the Southern Pacific depot, where products of the Rogue River valley, such as fruits, minerals, and farm produce, can be shown. It is understood all passenger trains will be allowed to stop 10 minutes to give travelers an opportunity to inspect the resources.

By degrees the farmers of Oregon are learning the usefulness of the short course at the Oregon Agricultural college, and an unusual interest was shown by those in attendance this winter, some of them came hundreds of miles. The indications are that there will be an extraordinary growth of attendance of the short course students within the next few years.—Rural Northwest.

An editor can give columns in his paper in praise of persons of his town and nobody even takes the trouble to say thank you, says the North Yamhill Record. The editor consoles himself by thinking the articles are overlooked. But let him say something that is not pleasing to certain individuals or make a mistake, and he soon finds out that his "flings" are not overlooked. An editor has to resort to some means to find out whether or not his paper is being read.

Slates are fast disappearing from schools all over the country. In many states the health boards have made regulations forbidding the use of all slates in the schools declaring them unsanitary. No more spitting on the slate and then wiping it off with the sleeve for the boys of this generation. No more sponges to throw at each other. All the pleasures of our boyhood seem to be denied to the child of today, who must content himself with paper. Paper tablets are replacing the slates and last year in the United States about $10,000,000 worth of paper tablets at retail prices were sold. This would make about 150,000,000.

Two bright and capable members of the bar were advanced to the bench when Governor Chamberlain appointed L. T. Harris of Eugene, a republican, to fill the new circuit judgeship in the second judicial district, and Sam White, of Baker City, democrat, to fill the new judgeship in the eighth district. Lawrence Harris was born and educated in Oregon. He has been speaker of the house of representatives and last spring was a leading candidate for the congressional nomination in the first district. Sam White comes from Georgia, but is a prominent and well liked member of the Oregon National guard, and was chairman of the state central committee when Chamberlain was elected governor. Both are personal friends of the writer, who is pleased to see them secure deserved recognition.

Apples have been arriving very freely the past week and the market has shown no improvement. There is a fair demand for fancy fruit, but the supply of medium grades is excessive and such kinds find a poor demand unless at retail concessions.—Boston market report in Chicago Fruit and Produce News.

Time and again has the statement been made that poor fruit ruins the market, and here is only another incident of further proof. Why will farmers declare they must find a market for their wormy apples, when if they sold them for cider, or fed them to the hogs or baked them up, they would more than make up the difference in higher prices for the better grades? There is no need to have wormy apples. The successful farmer by careful spraying reduces his wormy apples to five per cent of his crop. An even better showing than this has been made by Hood River orchardists. If one man or ten men can do this, all can.

Its Folds Covered Washington. Special to the Glacier.

Portland, Mar. 2.—Secretary Henry Reed of the Lewis and Clark fair, is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. O. W. Saunders of Kalama, Wash., in which she states she is desirous of exhibiting at the World's Fair a quilt used by the immortal George Washington during the revolution.

The quilt, claims Mrs. Saunders, is the handwork of a woman who resided in Cortland county, New York, in the Revolutionary period. The woman danced with General Washington at many social functions, and during the strife between King George's and Washington's forces, distinguished herself by mending her valuable pewter for use as bullets.

Washington, it is said, wore the quilt through the war, and its folds are said to have protected him from the intense cold at Valley Forge.

A Day out of Town.

Last Wednesday, through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, we went to spend the day with Mrs. Lee Morse. Had a fine time and a good dinner, which we all enjoyed. Those who enjoyed the good time were Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Fannie Bailey and Mrs. Carson. B. E. F.

The F. F. B. Party.

The F. F. B. club of White Salmon entertained their many friends Friday evening at the Lauterbach hall.

Dancing was the amusement of the evening. Maine-Bowman orchestra furnished the music. The hall was decorated for the occasion in pink and green, the club colors, and punch was served at a small table, also trimmed in the colors.

At 1 o'clock the last waltz was played and as the guests left they expressed themselves gratified for the good time they had enjoyed.

Mrs. Fred Rosenkrantz and Mrs. Herbert Bowman were the patronesses.

Rushing Into Crook County.

Whether it is the result of the generous advertising which Crook county has received, or the recent action of the Interior department in restoring to entry practically all the land withdrawn two years ago in the Deschutes valley and farther south for forest reserve purposes, the tide of homeseekers and land applicants having already set in. The van guard arrived the first of the week and occupied three extra coaches. The members of the party did not wait until the excursion rates went into effect and assurance is given that they form only a very small part of the number which will follow inside of a few weeks.—Erinville Journal.

Play Dalles A Close Game.

Saturday evening the home team basket ball rubbed a close score with the Dalles boys of 15 to 18 in favor of the Dalles. Although outdone by a few points in the score they did not come home with feathers dragging or feeling blue, for the general good feeling and hospitality given them left no impression of a defeated team.

Some of the features of the game were Morgan's luscious shots that set the girls screaming for fear of crushed feathers on their hats; Guyers and Hartness goals; Dempsey's effective guarding that held his man from making a single basket, and Brosius' feet exhibits as he went into the orchestra pit for outside.

Roberts was star man for the Dalles, 12 from the foul line. Humphrey did pretty work with sure passes in working the ball to their baskets, but they were weak in shooting baskets.

The line up was:

Tigers—Moran, center; Bartness, captain, rf.; Guyer, lf.; Davenport, rg.; Brosius, lg.

Dalles—Humphrey, captain center; Guyer, rf.; Roberts, lf.; Kent, rg.; Barzee, lg.

Both Teams did Good Work.

As was expected when prizes were announced, a small audience saw the basket ball game at the Vogt Saturday night, when the Hood River team met the Dalles team and were defeated in a score of 15 to 18. The game, however, was a good one, and those who saw the game felt repaid for going. The two teams made a fine appearance. The Dalles boys looking decidedly natty in their new suits consisting of blue serge and red trousers. Hood River boys were unfortunate in the number of fouls made, which gave Dalles the advantage. At the end of the first half the score was 12 to 4 in favor of the Dalles. "Mind Over Matter" Dalles boys, but the Tigers woke up and the final score was 15 to 18. Both teams did some good work, and Mr. Betts is to be congratulated on the training given them.—Chronicle.

Deed.

In Hood River valley February 25, 1905, Kenneth Merle Crockett, aged 2 years, 8 months, 23 days.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Crockett wish to announce that words cannot express the gratitude they owe their kind friends in the time of their great affliction.

Mrs. W. H. League desires to thank her kind neighbors and especially the local camp of Modern Woodmen, for the kindness rendered during the sickness and death of her husband.

MRS. W. H. LEAGUE,
MR. and MRS. W. G. GANGLER,
MR. and MRS. T. J. LEAGUE.

A native Filipino theatre, in which amusements peculiar to the inhabitants of the island territory will be represented, is to be one of the many excellent attractions of the "Fair."

Mrs. Henderson, the mother of John Leland Henderson, was taken to her former country home, a mile and a half southwest of town, Monday afternoon. The old lady is still confined to her bed, but stood the trip well, and keeps in the best of spirits.

CITY IN BRIEF.

J. H. Surface of Mosier was in the city Tuesday. Mr. Surface states that the evangelistic services which have been conducted at the Dalles since the session of the county court, will close Sunday night of this week. Rev. Dick of Yakima, who has had charge of the work, has been very successful.

Several business houses of the Dalles suffered a $2,000 loss in the Vogt block Sunday night.

March comes in like a lamb. Mrs. C. G. Roberts and Mrs. Margaret Reid left for The Dalles Tuesday morning.

Attorney A. A. Jayne and N. C. Evans are in The Dalles, attending the session of the county court.

C. E. Rogers was in the city Wednesday and went out to Odell in company with C. R. Bone. Mrs. Rogers has been confined in a Portland hospital for a few weeks, but is much improved, and as soon as she sufficiently recovers, Mr. Rogers will move his family to Hood River, where they will reside on their Odell ranch.

Charles T. Bennett of Mosier was registered at the Hotel Waconoma Monday.

T. A. Hudson of The Dalles was a Hood River visitor Monday.

A dead man, constructed of old clothes and a dry goods store dummy drew crowds to the railroad track below the freight depot Monday morning, whether people were directed by perpetrators of the joke, who circulated the report that an unknown man had been run over by the train. Col. Odell Hartley was among the deluded citizens who "hit" it. He immediately turned the tables on Tamp Osburn, who didn't like the joke a little bit. The deputy sheriff was called down to see the corpse, and was about to shove the corpse, when he took a tumble.

County Clerk Bolton was in Hood River Monday.

L. E. Gano tells the Glacier that a nephew, George Maughner, living in the state of Connecticut, writes that the snow has drifted 15 feet deep up against the side of his house. This is too much for Mr. Maughner, and he writes for information on the Oregon climate. Mr. Gano answered him with 14 pages all about Hood River.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Love left Sunday for the wheat fields of Eastern Oregon, where they will reside. Mr. Love and his son Ralph have rented 1200 acres of fine wheat land in the Columbia river valley, and will engage in a farming outfit and will engage in the wheat business. They have bought 12 fine horses, which Ralph took through about two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Trotter, who have been located on the Twin Oak farm the past year, will leave shortly for Asland.

Vocal Talent.
I had been taking a horseback ride through the southern part of Missouri, and one night, I was forced to continue in the saddle until midnight before I saw the dark shadows of a village at the road. Just outside the village I came to a miserable little cottage where a light shined in the window; I knocked on the door to inquire for a place to get up for the night.
