

FLOUR MILL IS RUNNING

Joe Wilson had the city editor take down the receiver of his telephone and listen to the wheels go round in the new Hood River flouring mill.

DITCH BUILT AND WATER IS RUNNING

The high flume of the Farmers' Irrigating Co. over Pine Creek gulch has been replaced by a flume and ditch along the side of the mountain.

Monday, Manager A. C. Staten started out with a force of men to clean the ditches and widen the main flume and canal in places where it is considered too narrow.

The Farmers' Irrigating Co. expect to bring down between 100 and 120 inches of water this summer.

There are several parties who say Mr. Nickelson, who haven't the money to secure permanent shares in the ditch company.

Here is a difficult proposition for the board of directors of the company.

Some sort of security will be taken on the crops of farmers securing water in this manner.

Thought Clark Got up the Fair.

"Is Senator Clark behind the fair you are going to have out there this summer?" inquired a well-dressed and apparently well-educated man.

Mr. Orr says there are whole lots of people who have no more idea of what the Lewis and Clark fair is, but he talked with hundreds of people who have heard there is to be something here.

Mr. Orr went West for a rest, and returned 20 pounds heavier in weight. He looks hale and hearty.

PARKERTOWN MILL STARTS UP MAR. 1

The hum of the big saws again fills the air at Parkertown, the mills of the Davenport Bros. Lumber Co. having started up for the spring run yesterday morning.

Frank Davenport returned recently from Portland with a contract in his pocket to furnish piling and timber for the portage railroad now in course of construction around the rapids in the Columbia at Celilo.

E. E. Allen, recently of The Dalles, has been made general manager of the mills and business of the Davenport Bros. Lumber Co. of this city.

VOGT BROS. OPEN CLOTHING STORE

Vogt Bros. have opened for business in the Brotons brick with a stock of men's furnishing goods, clothing, hats, and haberdasherie.

The firm intends to carry a high grade stock of goods and hopes to become finally established in the business community of this city.

The firm is forced to put up with the inconvenience incident to a delay in the arrival of many of their goods, and for this reason have been unable to start with the stores fitted up as they wish.

Both gentlemen are well known in Hood River and the The Dalles, their former home, and their friends feel confident the young men will meet with deserved success.

Dalles Boys Give Vogt a Dinner.

After being employed in the dry-goods department of the A. M. Williams store for the past seven years, Will Vogt left yesterday for Hood River, where he will go into partnership with his brother, Joseph, in a clothing store.

The Mount Hood Railway Co. has been organized, and last week articles of incorporation were filed at Salem, the company having incorporated under the laws of Utah.

The capital stock of the company is placed at $200,000, with a paid up stock of $10,000.

All but one of the incorporators are Utah men. The incorporators are William H. Eccles, president; Thomas D. Dea, vice president; Henry H. Rolapp, secretary; David Eccles, treasurer; H. H. Spencer, David C. Eccles, Joseph A. West, all of Ogden; Charles W. Nibley, W. W. Ritter, and George Romney, of Salt Lake; and Charles T. Early of Hood River, Or.

Mason's Sulphur and Lime Spray.

Hood River, Mar. 1.—Editor Glacier: While attending the meeting of the Oregon Horticultural society at Portland and the Northwestern Fruit-growers' meeting at Boise, Idaho, last January, I found I stood alone in experience in the use of sulphur and lime spray with caustic soda.

At both meetings I tried to explain why I thought it was a superior method of preparing this spray, and since that time many inquiries have come to me relative to how to prepare the spray.

Every mail brings me letters asking for the formula; so, to benefit all, I will ask you to print the following formula: 25 pounds lime; 15 pounds sulphur; 5 pounds caustic soda; add enough water to make 50 gallons of the mixture.

Mix the sulphur into a thin paste with warm water then add it to your undiluted lime, then shake your lime with warm water, but do not drown it. After your lime and sulphur is slacked and while at the highest heat add your caustic soda, keep stirring it and do not let it burn dry.

At all times keep enough warm water in the mixture to make it a paste. After the caustic soda has stopped its boiling, add enough water to complete the formula. Warm water is preferable, but cold will do after it is cooked.

This spray is no new-fangled affair. It has been experimented with by our government experiment stations for the past three years. Both the New York and the Connecticut stations speak very highly of it.

At one station last year 10 different sprays were used and this one left the least percentage of live scale. I used it on my 20-acre orchard last season with perfect success and expect to use it again this season. It saves much labor and time over the old methods of cooking over a fire. Don't be in a hurry to spray; wait until the buds are swelling. There is no danger of it burning the trees before the buds are burst.

A. I. MASON, President, Apple Growers' Union.

Was Oregon's First Locomotive.

Special to the Glacier. Portland, Mar. 2.—One exhibit at the Lewis and Clark exposition, which will attract something more than usual interest, will be the first locomotive used in this state, a mere pigmy when compared with the massive engines of today weighing, as it does, but 10 tons.

This "Baby" locomotive, was built in San Francisco in 1867-68 and imported here. For two years it made daily runs on wooden rails over a seven-mile track along the Columbia river.

Mr. Hennes now vouchsafes his intention to exhibit the diminutive locomotive at the World's Fair, where he will place it alongside of a 90-ton locomotive, recently constructed for the Oregon Railway and Navigation company.

Electricity in its every conceivable application, representing the most marvelous achievements in modern science, may be seen at the Lewis and Clark exposition.

COSTS HIM $75 TO STEAL FINE HENS

Special to the Glacier. Goldendale, Wash., Mar. 1.—Two more chicken thieves were caught last night in possession of some of the finest chickens in town.

The thieves are now in the county jail awaiting trial. One of them was recently fined for this offense to the amount of $25, and costs, amounting in all to $75.

The railroad strike is over. There is a new crew throughout, and trains are running on the regular schedule. The old crew were all paid off and discharged.

The proposed new grade across the Big Kikchit river was surveyed by Deputy Surveyor Richardson, and was not considered practicable, it being too steep to make a grade. This is on the Goldendale and Cams Prairie road.

SPECIAL MEETING COMMERCIAL CLUB

"What Shall we do to Advertise Hood River at the Lewis and Clark Fair?" will be the subject under discussion at the meeting of the Commercial club, Tuesday evening.

Both Placed in the Same Grave. Particularly sad is the death of Mrs. Virgil Winchell and little daughter who were buried this morning in the little graveyard at Pine Grove.

Monday afternoon, Mr. Winchell went to Portland with his three-year-old daughter Lena, who was suffering from peritonitis, and whom he took to the hospital for special treatment.

At 2 o'clock in the morning Mrs. Winchell was dead. Death it is supposed was brought about through heart trouble. Mr. Winchell returned Tuesday morning, and the following morning received word that his daughter had passed away.

Funeral services were conducted at the Pine Grove church this Thursday morning, attended by a large concourse of friends and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Winchell were among the early pioneers of Hood River. Mrs. Winchell came here with her father, George Knapp, nearly 25 years ago, while Mr. Winchell is one of the first white persons born in the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Winchell would have been 33 years old the 7th of this month. She was married 18 years ago, and was the mother of eight children, seven of whom survive.

Last Day of School, April 21.

The Hood River public schools will close the term, Friday, April 21, when there will be special exercises for the graduating class of the eighth grade. The class this year will be 25 strong.

Superintendent Wiley is arranging to secure some prominent speaker of the state to deliver an address to the graduates.

It has not been decided yet whether the 10th grade pupils will hold graduating exercises. While it is possible the district will not be able to hold the 10th grade this coming year, it is almost certain to add the third and fourth years two years from now, and make for Hood River a high school with as complete a course as any in the state.

Give School a Handsome Flag.

The women of the Canby post W. R. C. of this city presented the Pleasant View school with a handsome flag last Friday afternoon.

Mr. P. Isenberg of the Grand Army delivered the principal address. The presentation of the flag was made by Mrs. E. L. Smith and Mrs. T. J. Conning, patriotic instructor of the corps.

Director Cruise made a few remarks in behalf of the school. The flag is a large one, 10x15 feet, but the pole is not large enough to prevent the flag from sweeping the roof, so the Grand Army has promised the school a liberty pole which shall be placed in the school yard.

Will be no Rest for the Wicked.

Irrigation Irrigator. The Hood River people did not get their new county, which they proposed to call Cascade, through much lot, fight, and showed mighty plainly they are on the map. They deserve to win and will win next time.
