

IS MODEL CITY OF ENTIRE WEST

Portland, Or., March 31.—Editor Glacier: It called on to name the city having a population of not more than 10,000 that had the most prosperous appearance and genuine business look and a contented, happy people, in all the great west, I should without hesitation say, Hood River, with a population not exceeding two thousand.

It is not discreditable to the rest of the West to say that in Hood River, Oregon, possesses a city that has not its equal, possessing a population of five times its size. It is questionable if its equal exists anywhere in the world. There appears to be a pride in every house owner, business man and farmer to excel his neighbor in improving his surroundings, no gates hanging on one hinge, no pickets off the fences, no chimneys needing repairs, no farm houses but are as neat as those in an old New England village.

During my visit there of two days, I discovered the secret of this evidence of prosperity, and found it was that the people of your city and tributary country made the money to build such buildings, lay out orchards, strawberry patches, and keep them in such excellent condition, right in Hood River.

All this speaks volumes for the natural resources of your city and the surrounding country and it is not an iridescent dream to say that Hood River in the near future will be a city of at least 20,000 people. There is everything to make it so, a splendid climate, tremendous water powers of Hood River and Columbia rivers; fertility of soil, transportation facilities, both by water and rail to and from Portland and the East.

If visitors who come to Portland to see the fair fall to visit Hood River, they will miss what to them personally means more than the fair itself. Californians, especially, should not miss an opportunity to see Hood River, the model city of the entire West.

Whole Cellar of Fruit Premiums.

"In my cellar in Glenwood, I can show you 2000 ribbons and badges and medals won as premiums by Mills county fruit," remarked W. F. Laraway, who has recently returned from Iowa to look after his farm here and to make his home in Hood River.

"You people have the," apples went on Dr. Laraway, "but we can win the premiums. Whenever Mills county goes after a premium we win it. Dr. Laraway is very well known over Hood River fruit, even if his Iowa home has won thousands of premiums. During the doctor's absence in Iowa this winter, his son-in-law, Mr. Cooper, has cleared 2000 bushels of the Laraway & Cooper tract on the East Side, formerly the Cox farm. This land will be planted to Spitzenbergs and Newtowns as soon as the weather clears.

Dr. Laraway is a fine workman in jewelry. At Glenwood, Iowa, he is the proprietor of the oldest established jewelry house in Mills county. The business is in charge of his son, Seth E. Laraway, who has shown the capabilities of his father in the business line. The doctor is also an ophthalmologist, and there are many people in this city who can attest to his ability to fit glasses to weak and defective eyes.

If Dr. Laraway and his son Ralph can secure a location in Hood River, they may open a jewelry store here. The doctor says if he does, the people of Hood River and vicinity will be assured of a first class establishment. The doctor has been for years the watch inspector for the Burlington and K. C. railways, which is in itself a strong recommendation of his ability and proficiency in his profession.

The cold weather in Iowa this winter killed peach trees to the snow line, and the farmers will have to wait now until the trees are reproduced before they can expect another fruit crop. There have been three fruit carnivals in Mills county in recent years—the carnival is held the doctor says whenever there is a crop, and not biennially as is the custom here. Dr. Laraway has been chairman of the decorative committee at each of the fruit carnivals. One year he says he used 1500 bushels of apples in decorations. The next year the whole fence of the park enclosure was covered with apples and converted into a perfect fairy land.

Will Seek Fortunes in Alberta.

Carl Weidner of Mosier, accompanied by Gustav Godbertson, will leave next week for Carleton, Alberta, where they expect to take up land, grow up with the country and incidentally make their fortunes. The new country toward which these Mosierites are headed is about 600 miles northeast of Spokane. They will go by rail, either to Nelson or Rykerts in British Columbia, and from one of these points make the trip overland to their new home. In this way they will get to see the country and enjoy the pleasures of outdoor life for a month or so.

Their Oregon friends wish the young men success on their new venture. Mr. Weidner has promised to let his neighbors hear from him through the columns of the Glacier. His letters will doubtless be read with interest.

Settled at Hood River in 1858.

Mrs. James Benson, who died at her home in The Dalles, in February of this year, came to Hood River in December 1858, where she resided with her husband on what is now the Lamar place on Indian creek for 16 years. Mrs. Benson's death represents the passing of the last survivor of the first settlers in Hood River.

Margaret Jane Williamson was born in Schenectady, N. Y., December 4, 1834. Her early life was spent in that state. In 1858, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Benson, Miss Williamson started for Oregon, where her fiancé, Matthew Benson's brother James, had preceded them by several months. The journey was made by way of the isthmus. The party arrived in San Francisco early in November. On the way from that port to Portland their ship was disabled at Umpqua Bay, reaching Portland at length in safety after a 19 days' voyage.

On the day of her arrival in Portland, Or., December 30, 1858, Mr. and Mrs. Benson were married at the Birdseye hotel, Lawrence Coe, H. P. Isaacs and Judge Strong, all now deceased, being witnesses to the ceremony. The day following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Benson started for Hood River, then a small settlement, where they made a home and resided for 16 years. In 1874 the family moved to Five-Mile near The Dalles, in 1892 removing to this city, where they have since lived. Besides her husband, Mrs. Benson left three children—Frank C. Benson, James G. Benson and Mrs. H. C. Mabarr, all of The Dalles.

SERIOUS MISHAP TO DAVID SEARS

While blasting stumps early Friday morning, D. H. Sears was struck by a flying chunk of wood and his leg broken between the knee and thigh. Sears was about 200 feet from the blast at the time of the accident. A Japanese hand called to Sears that the blast was about to go off. Sears turned and started to walk the other way when a heavy chunk of wood flew through the air and caught him a fierce blow on the leg.

Doctors were immediately called from town, but the leg was so badly swollen the broken bones could not be set that day. Mr. Sears, when the Glacier man called that afternoon to see the injured man, appeared smiling on his couch, and while he suffered some pain, seemed the least worried of anyone about the place.

Will Install Sodawater Fountain.

Hood River is to have the latest innovation in the way of a soda water apparatus, installed here this spring. Messrs Keir & Cass, the new drug firm, state that they have now ordered and on the way, an elegant 20th century Sanitary fountain.

This is the fountain which has revolutionized the soda water business in the East. The old style fountains had become such a menace to the public health that the pure food commissioners in several of the Eastern states had to take them in hand, and they threatened to prohibit the sale of soda water drawn from them, if they were not put in a clean and sanitary condition.

L. A. Becker & Co. of Chicago, the manufacturers of the 20th century fountains recognized that the law and the public demanded a fountain which would be absolutely sanitary and free from microbes and disease germs, and promptly perfected a system of syring being stored in sterilized glass containers in plain view of the public.

Keir & Cass are to be commended for their interest in the public's health and foresight which impelled them to install one of these modern fountains. They deserve success.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? Hunters Must Pay License.

Under the new Washington game law resident hunters are required to pay $5 for a license and non-resident hunters $10. The sum derived from the sale of licenses is used for the creation of a game and fish fund. It created the office of deputy state warden, to be appointed by the governor at a salary of $1500 with $750 expenses, to be paid out of the game fund. It prohibits the killing of elk until October 1915, and the killing of waterfowl on the Columbia river in Klickitat, Walla Walla, Franklin, Yakima, Kittitas, Douglas, Columbia, Garfield and Whitman counties at all seasons.

For a Weak Digestion.

No medicine can replace food but Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will help you digest your food. It is not the quantity of food taken that gives strength and vigor to the system, but the amount digested and assimilated. If troubled with a weak digestion, don't fail to give these Tablets a trial. Thousands have been benefited by their use. They only cost a quarter. Sold by Williams Pharmacy.

Quick Action on Want Ad.

Thursday morning after the Glacier had been mailed, a postal card came from A. P. Batschman at Mosier with instructions to kill his man-wanted ad. "I engaged a man one hour after writing the ad. Hurrah for the Glacier."

If you have anything to sell, want to employ help, or secure a position, place an adlet in the Glacier. It has brought results for others, and will do the same for you.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear, there is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or impure hearing, and when it enters a chronic condition it results, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, since cases out of ten are caused by a running sound, or impure hearing, but inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for trials, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 5 cents. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

N. Clarke's drug store, guaranteed.
