UNITED BRETHREN BUILD AT MOSIER

Special Correspondence.
Mosier, Or., April 11.—The trustees of the United Brethren church of this city purchased a lot in a desirable portion of the town on which they intend to erect a church building this summer.

Henry Bateham spent a few days in Mosier visiting his brother this week. After a two-weeks' sojourn in Portland, J. J. Lewis returned home Saturday evening.

Fishing seems to be the great sport among the male element in Mosier. It is fortunate that all cannot be as successful as Wallace Husbands who caught a trout last Sunday that measured 21¼ inches in length and weighed two pounds.

Will Rand spent Saturday in Mosier assisting Mr. Finney of Portland in running the line for his claim, which is situated eight miles from Mosier.

Mrs. Stewart and her sister Mrs. Kingsford, visited relatives in Hood River and White Salmon last week.

Miss Nettie Abbott of Hood River gave a millinery opening on Saturday at the residence of Miss Dollie Mosier.

Robert Husbands, Misses Alta and Esther Husbands and Master Estee Brosius visited friends and relatives in Mosier over Saturday and Sunday.

The Christian Endeavor held its monthly business meeting and social on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. C. D. Morgan. About 30 of the members were present, to make merry a few hours of the evening.

After the conclusion of the business part of the social, the remaining hours were spent in various sports into which all most heartily entered, and were quite ready at about 11, for the bonanza lunch which was served by the members of the social committee. On Saturday evening the young people of Mosier tendered Will Marsh a pleasant surprise in honor of his 21st birthday. The evening was delightfully spent in playing various games, after which all were invited to partake of a sumptuous repast consisting of several courses from chicken salad to cake and fruit. The young men no doubt are willing to express the following sentiment:

"We may live without poetry, music and art.
We may live without conscience, we may live without heart,
We may live without friends, we may live without books,
But civilized men can not live without cooks."

The following pupils of district 5 are on the roll of honor for the month ending April 8: Harold Cook, Willie Depee, Annie Haacke, Mary Morgan, Willie Stewart, Leodica Haacke, Irene Morgan, Alice Mosier, Aleora Haacke, George Sturgis, Ralph Smith, Willie Gilbert, Jimmie Green, Gertrude Davenport, Mattie Hudson, Aldine Hudson.

Dancing was the feature of the evening, the music being supplied by Mrs. Rivers with the base viol, Mr. Rivers with the violin, and George Barnard with the guitar.

Spring in all its beauty is here, school room and houses are filled with the pretty mountain flowers gathered by the children.

DUKES VALLEY.

We are having fine weather for growing crops for the past two weeks—nice warm sunshiny days with just enough rain to keep the ground moist.

A. T. Dodge sold his lease on the six-acre berry field to E. T. Folts, so that lets him out of the berry business for this year.

J. A. Knox has bought a new up-to-date spray pump and will spray more and take better care of his orchard than ever this year. Mr. Knox believes in the saying: "What is worth doing at all is worth doing well."

Quite a kick is being made amongst the farmers about the contract for securing water for this season from the East Fork Irrigating Co., many of the farmers declaring that they will do without water before they will sign the contracts. We hope to see the matter adjusted before the irrigating season.

C. R. Bone is having a neat little cottage built on his place at the top of the Straight hill for his foreman, Mr. Price.

E. T. Folts is setting out some apple trees on the land he purchased of T. L. Massey. The trees were purchased of the Stanton & Rawson nursery and no finer lot of trees can be found in the valley. It pays to patronize home industry.

Milton Bingham was taken to St. Vincent hospital at Portland last week to be operated on for appendicitis.

Mrs. Belle Camron is visiting friends at Cascade Locks this week.

Roy N. Woodworth and wife were visiting friends and relatives in the valley last Sunday.

There have been three new arrivals in town in the last two weeks, viz: March 20, to wife of Oscar Cameron, a boy, weight 9½ pounds. On April 3, to wife of A. T. Dodge, a girl; weight 8½ pounds, and on April 6, to wife of Chas. Stanton, a boy, weight 10 pounds.
