THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1905.

If the little Japs could get hold of Mr. Carnegie's hero fund, they'd soon exhaust it.

The West Side Enterprise of Independence issued Tuesday a handsome special edition, printed on high-grade book paper and well illustrated. Polk county's resources in hops, molasses, timber, schools and colleges are well set forth in concisely written articles. Editor Lyon and old Polk, the blue ribbon county, are not so slow.

The thirty-third annual re-union of the Oregon Pioneer Association will be held at Portland on Tuesday, June 15 and the day following is to be pioneer day at the Lewis and Clark exposition in that city when there will be a short programme of exercises and an opportunity for the aged travelers and pathfinders to the far Northwest to renew old acquaintances and view the many evidences of the great progress made since the days of 1792 when Oregon was discovered by Capt. Robert Gray followed by the exploration of the same country by Lewis and Clark in 1805, and its occupation from 1811 to 1859 by the pioneers.

Dallas, Tex., is a city which has initiated a vigorous campaign to advertise itself. It is a city of about 45,000 to 50,000 and has adopted a plan which will increase its population by many thousands the next few years. The sum of $2,000 was recently spent in advertising the town and surrounding country, and so gratifying were the results that the citizens have decided to retain the committee that had this in charge and provide it with $30,000 a year for the next five years, the entire amount to be spent in telling the world of the advantages in that part of Texas in general and the city of Dallas in particular.

Most people like to attend a fourth of July celebration, to have a good time, and spend a little money on that day. If they have a chance to do it at home they will do so; if they don't they will go elsewhere and spend their money. Hood River merchants have had a sample. Year before last the town was deserted, there wasn't $50 spent here. Last year the town was crowded and thousands of dollars were left in the city; every one had a good time and was satisfied. Now what are we going to do, sit still and let the opportunity go by, or get a hustle on ourselves and have a rousing celebration? Will someone please move.

Governor La Follette of Wisconsin has affixed his signature to one of the most interesting bills ever passed by a legislature. The measure is known as the "anti-graft bill" and it is now a law.

By its terms, employees are prohibited from requesting or accepting any gratuity and all persons are prohibited from giving or offering any gift or whatever to any agents, servants or employees. The Madison correspondent for the Chicago Record-Herald says: "While the bill was originally aimed at the practice of paying commissions to employees of large stores or corporations whose influence went a great way in the purchase of goods, it also is contended that it applies to the practice of 'tippling.' A violation of the law is made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50, or a fine and imprisonment for a year."

The opening of the portage road at Celilo last Saturday will mark another epoch in the history of the commercial advancement of the great Northwest. An open river from Lewiston to the sea will benefit others than those immediately concerned in the interior. Competition in transportation facilities must necessarily work for the benefit of both the producers and the consumers. The portage road and the government canal soon to follow will mean increased profit to the wheat growers; more business for the wholesale houses of Portland, and the employing of more men in the office and field, which will insure increased consumption for Hood River berries, apples, and butter when that creamery is started, to say nothing of the increased sales of lumber and flour. There's a good time coming for the states of the Pacific Northwest.

Louis Henderson is home from college at Eugene and has accepted a position with the engineering department of the Mount Hood Railway Co.

If you want a pretty face and delightful air, rosy cheeks and lovely hair, wedding trip across the sea, put your faith in Rocky Mountain Tea. C. N. Clark's.

Thomas Riggs, of Guthrie, Okla., is the guest of T. J. Cunningham. Mr. Riggs is a former friend of the Cunninghams, and is here looking for a location in the valley.

The Lewis and Clark Exposition is a dream of loveliness in its June-time dress of verdure and flowers. Roses run riot, performing the air; the grass is gloriously green; the big fir trees in Centennial Park, the western part of the grounds, add a touch of the real forest to the forestry building, and everywhere there are flowers and shrubs and in profusion.

For $5.00 you can see every show on the Trail at the Lewis and Clark Exposition; and they number thirty-three. As a rule the prices for admission to the Trail shows are considerably lower than the prices that were charged on the Pike at St. Louis. Some of the best attractions at St. Louis have been brought to Portland, but most of the shows are new and novel.

Notice.
To patrons of East Fork Irrigation company—1905 water is now due and payable to the secretary at Baker & Co's office. Please call and settle.
C. E. Bone, President.

HOOD RIVER IS DRY ONCE MORE

Hood River has gone for prohibition stronger than ever. Out of a total of 709 votes in Monday's election, prohibition secured a majority of 43. Last November the majority was 4 for prohibition.

The prohibitionists worked early and late and the victory is theirs. They are jubilant over the result.

The greatest surprise of the day was the result in East Hood River, where the wets were confident of a victory. Last November it went over 30 majority against prohibition. Had this precinct gone wet there would have been an effort to reopen saloons in Hood River.

The vote in the five Hood River precincts was as follows:

	For prohibition	Against prohibition	Def. Total
East Hood River	112	100	212
West Hood River	112	100	212
Baldwin	36	50	86
Viento	2	8	10
Total	376	353	729
Total ballots cast	374

While the vote was about 250 short of the total last November, a lively interest was manifested at the polls. Everything was orderly. The ballot boxes were closed at 7 o'clock, and before 8 o'clock the returns began coming in.

Wasco County Goes Wet.

Wasco county as a whole went Monday by an approximate majority of 600. At the Dalles the prohibitionists were defeated by a vote of 455 to 122, a majority of 333 in favor of a wet town. At Shaniko the vote stood 98 to 14, a defeat for the dry town advocates of 84 votes. The following towns were carried by the prohibitionists: Boyd, by a vote of 18 to 12; Eight mile, by a vote of 41 to 39. The wet town advocates won in the following precincts: Bake Oven by a vote of 23 to 22; Danfur, by a vote of 50 to 45; Tygh Valley by a vote of 41 to 31; Antelope 60 to 7; Mosier, 45 to 46; Baldwin, Mount Hood 50 to 36.

Lane Mayor of Portland.

Dr. Harry Lane was elected mayor of Portland, Monday, over George H. Williams, by a plurality of 1216. His total vote was 7,587, while that cast for Williams was 6,371. The prohibition and Socialist candidates for mayor received a total of 600 votes, so that the total number of votes cast for mayor was 14,548. The presidential vote in Portland last November was 16,114.

BIG GAME SUNDAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The Dalles will be here with a big excursion for the ball game at Columbia park, which shall decide the championship for the two cities, the winner to play for a silver cup and individual medals at the exposition grounds, August 7.

Great interest is being manifested in the coming contest by the baseball fans of the two cities. Turn out and assist the locals to win.

Locals Defeat Vancouver.

Up to the seventh, the locals had Vancouver shut out, when a wild pitch by Osburn let the visitors in for their first score. Taken as a whole, the game was well played by Hood River last Sunday. There was marked improvement in the playing of Dunn at first, and some pretty fielding by Sheets, who made a beautiful double play unassisted.

The wrangling of the visitors over decisions of the umpire were very distasteful to say the least.

The score by innings:
Hood River..... 1 0 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 5
Vancouver..... 0 0 0 0 0 1 3 0 0 0

The lineup:

Hood River—Haynes 2b; Bishop cf; Castner c; Dunn 1b; Osburn p; Sheets 3b; Phillips rf; DeWitt ss; Wheeler lf.

Vancouver—Bently 3b; Shaw lf; Spror as; Kirk 1b; Van Bibber cf; Fowel rf; Fields 2b; Dodge c; Scriber p.

Umpire—Dickey and Pickett. Attendance—250.

REALIZE $10 MONTH FROM SINGLE COW

The agitation for a creamery in Hood River is already bearing fruit, as the following communication received this week by President Early of the Commercial club, from C. D. Mickelson of Hendricks, Minn., will testify:

I noticed in the Glacier a short time ago that Hood River was directing a thought toward the creamery business. I would like to say that there is nothing you could do that would add more materially to the wealth of the valley than the institution of a good creamery. I am living here where the farming community supports a good creamery. The creamery is owned by the farmers and operated by a practical butter man as manager. Some now realize as high as $10 per month profit from one cow. This will give you some idea of the thousands of dollars brought into the country through this source and so nicely distributed to each of the farmers.

Now I have but one object in writing to you about this matter, namely, the good of Hood River and as I have property there, which I expect to keep, I am vitally interested. Now I have almost persuaded the manager of this creamery here to go to Hood River and institute a plant there, for as I see it there is a great opportunity there for a plant of this kind. It would mean infinitely more than your flouring mill, because it would get outside money, bring it into the valley and distribute it to the farmers for their produce. It would increase the acreage of hay and the demand for water.

I trust you may keep the interest in a creamery plant alive and I should be glad to furnish you the name of a first-class butter maker here who would be glad to furnish you with all necessary data and figures for building and operating a plant. I hope the farmers would take this up. There is no financial hazard to run in Hood River with the large number of cows in the valley and Hood River butter could be placed on a par with her apples and berries.

E. Gilmore of Granite Falls, Minn., accompanied by his family, is in Hood River visiting his brother, Rev. W. C. Gilmore.

FISCHER COMPANY WARMLY RECEIVED

Good and appreciative audiences have greeted the Margarita Fischer Co. at the opera house all week. Miss Fischer will close her engagement on Saturday evening. It has been a week of rare entertainment and it is needless to say that Miss Fischer and her superb company have won a warm spot in the hearts of the theater-goers of Hood River. Miss Fischer plainly shows the effects of her indisposition of the past week, and it has really been an effort for her to work. It can be said to her bravery and enthusiasm that she has not disappointed an audience. Her work is of that high standard that always pleases. On and off the stage she has made many friends here and Hood River will look for her return often, assuring her always a most hearty reception.

The bills during the week showed a strong repertoire, with splendid presentation. The company has been greatly strengthened by the addition of Robert McKenzie, since the last visit here. William Winterhoff, who plays the leads for Miss Fischer, is a favorite, and his brilliant solos each evening is one of the strong features of the entertainment. Fred Brown is as clever as ever and Edna Graham is the same good entertainer in old woman roles. Dottie Fischer, cute and bewitching, is amusing and entertaining. Many from down and up the valley and across the river have been in attendance, and the last two nights should be record breakers in attendance, for the work of the company meritorious and deserving of generous patronage.

We Must Wash.

We may live without poetry, music and art;
We may live without conscience, may love without heart;
We may live without mothers, live without hope, and without father;
But civilized women cannot live without soap.

We may live without book—what is knowledge but what is faded on the morrow.
We may live without lawsuit—indications are squashing;
But where is the one who can live without washing.

Patronize the Hood River Steam Laundry. Glen Fabrik, proprietor.

Quality vs. Quantity.

Hard muscles and strong body do not depend on the quantity of food you eat, but its perfect digestion and proper assimilation. When you take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure your system gets all the nourishment out of all the food you eat. It digests what you eat regardless of the condition of the stomach and conveys the nutrient properties to the blood and tissues. This builds up the system, cures indigestion, dyspepsia, Belching, Sour Stomach, Weak Heart, etc. Sold by G. E. Williams.

Will Serve Time For Gambling.

Peter McDuff, half breed negro and Indian, pleaded guilty Tuesday in Justice Mickelson's court to the charge of gambling, and was fined $25 and costs. In default of payment, McDuff now lingers in the Wasco county jail. Deputy Sheriff Olinger captured McDuff with his money and paraphernalia in a pine grove on the hill, where he had been accustomed to fleecing Red men of lesser ability in the game of chance.

Clarke's Cough Elixir will cure that cough. Price is only 25c

STATE SUPT. DECIDES AGAINST MRS. SANBORN

State Superintendent Ackerman has affirmed the decision of the local school board in dismissing Mrs. Sanborn for incompetency as a teacher, an appeal having been taken by the defendant to the County Superintendent. Neff and from there to the state superintendent. Superintendent Ackerman, in handing down his decision finds:

1. That the testimony before the board clearly indicates that the said Nora M. Sanborn had lost control of the eighth grade room in so far that her influence in that particular room was null and void.

2. That there is no testimony in rebuttal tending to show that the testimony against said Nora M. Sanborn was that of prejudice.

3. In view of one and two the board acted in the best interests of the district when it made the order for the dismissal of the said Nora M. Sanborn.

4. That the affidavits of the officers of said school district clearly show that the defendant was not at any time barred from examining the records.

5. That the evidence was taken in a proper and legal manner.

6. From the foregoing it is the opinion of the Superintendent of public instruction that the defendant has had a fair and impartial trial and that justice has been given to said defendant; therefore, the decision of the county school superintendent is hereby affirmed and the appeal is dismissed.

A Bad Break.

During the annual convention of a certain religious body, not so very long ago, an incident occurred which was not on the programme and which completely upset the gravity of the ministers and brethren assembled. It was at the closing session, and the chairman stated that they were about one hundred dollars short of an amount desired to be raised for a given purpose, and hoped that the sum could be made before final adjournment. One of the laymen jumped up with the remark—

"I'll start the good work with twenty-five dollars."

"I don't know your name, brother," said the chairman, "but may God bless you, and may your business be doubled during the year."

Much to your astonishment, a burst of laughter followed from many in the hall, which was explained when a brother in front stepped to the platform and whispered—

"Why, that's Mr. Blank, a prominent undertaker of the town."—Lippincott's.

WANT HOOD RIVER BERRIES IN NEW YORK

See A. H. H. Field, who introduced Oregon apples into the New York market, are anxious to give Hood River berries a trial there, and have written Manager Stuppert asking for a sample shipment. The berry market in that city is not the best just now, Atlantic coast berries being in poor condition. Over 100 cars arrive there daily and bring from 25c to 60c a pound.

Berries for the Senators.

Six crates of red berries were just aboard the special train bound for Celilo falls last Saturday, taking the party of United States senators and other dignitaries who attended the exercises at the formal opening of the portage road.

The berries were grown by G. D. Woodworth and George McIntosh. They were large and a half tier berries, running 30 to the pound box. That they tickled the taste of the Eastern visitors goes without saying.

Those attending the opening of the portage road from Hood River, were E. L. Smith, C. L. Gilbert, E. O. Hancher, A. D. Moe.

Many Hear Mrs. Graves.

Mrs. M. N. Graves, of Centralia, Wash., national organizer and lecturer of the W. C. T. U., addressed a large and appreciative audience in the Congregational church Sunday morning. Her subject, "The White Life for Two," one standard of purity for man and woman, was most ably presented. Sunday after-noon, she addressed the church. Mrs. Graves addressed a union meeting of all the churches, on the subject, "How Shall We Save Our Youth?" Her eloquence was most inspiring, her enthusiasm contagious, and her earnestness unfeigned in every heart an intense desire to use every means to save the boys and girls of the land.

Mrs. Graves is an earnest speaker, deeply interested in the cause she represents.
