

ODELL

GATHER LUSCIOUS BERRIES AT ODELL

By Roswell Shelley.
Odell, East Hood River Valley, June 6.—Strawberry pickers are in evidence here as never before. All day last Saturday there was a string of people passing Odell, many of them on their way to the Willow Flat strawberry fields. There are approximately 150 pickers on Willow Flat, more than 100 of whom are in the 40-acre tract of H. F. Davidson. And why this large pay roll there? Because for three years past money has been liberally spent in that section and it is just now beginning to tell. A good payroll is what makes a country and the employees are not the only ones that are making money.

The following parties about Odell are getting a fine quality of berries, V. V. Willis, R. E. Callison, M. D. Odell, G. W. Lafferty and Frank E. Runecorn.
These are busy, busy days with the spraying and cultivating of orchards, the thinning of apples, planting of potatoes and last but not least the picking of berries. There are no idlers here.

Mr. Dano, the real estate hustler, passed through Odell last Sunday, showing two Kansas parties the valley. Mr. Dano is a frequent visitor this way and he knows how to land them.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson from Portland were through this section last week, looking about with a view of investing. They were delighted with the valley. They are friends of the Townsies.

The ditch work on the Dead Point Irrigating works is about complete. Odell has furnished quite a lot of the labor upon the ditch.

Last Saturday, the writer, in search of a horse, climbed to the summit of the range between Mill creek and Rock creek, starting upward at Bob Robinson's place. He failed to find the horses, but at different points along the zig zag climb, as he paused to rest, looking westward, there was a spread out before the vision most enchanting picture. Almost beneath our feet and spreading westward was a bit of landscape so bewitching that it would be a travesty upon nature for an ordinary writer like the Odell correspondent to attempt a detailed description of it. The indescribably beautiful, peaceful and apparently sleeping valley, dotted here and there with green fields and gray orchards shaded with hundreds of green leafy apple trees, then stretches of evergreen, through which the silver threaded streams wound their way from the stately white robed sentinels Mount Hood, emptying their life-giving waters into the grand Columbia, then onward and westward toward the sea. The hundreds of modern, prosperous homes rounding up the picture caused a feeling of wonder and admiration through and through us, akin to reverence. Winding our way homeward without the horse, we felt amply paid for the trip. Moral: Let us get up on the hills occasionally, away from the fogs and mists of the valley to a point where we can see both sides of life.

The valley in the Pine Grove neighborhood is in prime condition, being cultivated almost to a state of perfection. The full leafed, vigorous young apple orchards, of which there are many, are refreshing pictures, and while the revenue feature is the prompting feature along this line, yet they are ornamental as well as possessing a promising revenue producing feature.

William Ebrek last week purchased a wagon and harness at a bargain. Mr. Ebrek's orchard work is now beyond the capacity of one team in the way of taking care of it.

N. A. Everett of Falls City, Polk county, spent last Friday at Odell.

Spokane, Baker City, Southern Oregon and many points in the valley are represented at the camp of berry pickers in this section. The annual coming of pickers is a good medium of advertisement for the valley.

The writer, who is executor of the estate of J. W. Black, deceased, received a letter from Virgil Bob Black, brother of the deceased, and who resides in Texas, relative to his kinship and making inquiries concerning the affairs of the said estate.

BARRETT.

E. M. Camp has made a purchase of a new fall-bearing McCormick mowing machine, one of the latest up-to-date patterns. E. M. says he can cut for any one and give satisfaction.

J. P. Barnett, the village blacksmith, has been doing considerable cleaning up on his land and built a new picket fence. J. P. says he wants some returns from his land, therefore he must move the rocks and stumps. Next year he expects to have a crop of clover.

Miss Stella Brown may be seen on our streets making good time on her bicycle. By the way, Miss Brown informs me that it was a birthday present and so say a very good one.

Something must be going to happen, for I notice George Camp painting up his wagon and fixing things up nicely. New harness and a fine span of sorrel horses, George says he is prepared to do every kind of team work. Of course George wants to make preparations for the near future.

Albert Nestrum is back to our neighborhood again. Albert says it is life coming home again when he gets to Hood River. Well, Albert, you are welcome to the freedom of the city.

J. Blount finished up his work on the Mrs. E. Ingalls house last week. Joel says the man that gets his last dollar must have something very pretty.

Joseph Marvin, Alaska commissioner for the United States government at the Lewis and Clark centennial, is in receipt of the telegram from Governor Brady of Alaska telling him that a large exhibit of gold nuggets has been collected for exhibition. Mr. Marvin secured a special safe for storing the nuggets.

SERIOUS ACCIDENTS NEAR GOLDENDALE

Special to the Glacier.
Goldendale, Wash., June 6.—Eugene Westcott of North Yakima, met with a painful and what may prove a serious accident, while on a visit to his father near Blackhouse last Sunday morning. While mounting a bicycle, the revolver which he was carrying in his pocket fell to the ground, discharging the weapon, the bullet striking him in the lower part of the right lung, and running upward, lodged in his right shoulder. Drs. Honebrake and Collins removed the bullet and he is now doing well. It seems very foolish for any one to carry firearms in a peaceful community as this, and while we regret to hear of anything of the kind, it may prove a good lesson to other young men who are in the habit of carrying revolvers.

The young son of John Niemela of Centerville suffered the loss of his foot, it being cut off at the ankle in a mowing machine, Monday.

Bert Fahrman met with a painful accident while hauling lumber to his place on the Burn, near Arlington. While going down the Rock Creek grade his wagon slipped off the grade and overturned, catching Mr. Fahrman's foot in the front wheel. The wagon rolled over several times and it is a wonder he got out alive. At last reports he was getting along very well.

The Superior court will be in session today on the 12th of June. There will be several cases up on motion, and the following will be disposed of: Gezell vs. Gessell, divorce; Exline vs. Exline, divorce; Larston vs. Burnette, mortgage foreclosure.

The Glacier is a welcome visitor in Goldendale, bringing with it so much of the news of the east end of the county, and in fact from all over. It is a good live paper, run by an enterprising editor and an able corps of assistants.

This valley has had some good showers the last few days, which were highly appreciated.

WHITE SALMON

The White Salmon Camp No. 6115, Modern Woodmen of America, gave a grand ball at Lauterbaugh's hall Saturday night. The affair was largely attended, many couples coming in from Trout Lake and Camas Prairie. It was one of the most pleasant dances given this season. The music was furnished by the Maine & Bowman orchestra. The refreshments were in charge of the Mesdames Everhart and Ziegler, Messrs. Rosegrant and Kast acted as floor managers.

A river driver commonly called Big Pete had his shoulder dislocated while working on the Claterbus jam. The dislocation was reduced by Dr. J. M. Gearheart.

C. M. Wolfard is remodeling his property on Jewett avenue. The addition has greatly improved the appearance.

The White Salmon Dramatic club has in preparation a comedy farce entitled "A Scheme that failed." This play will be given sometime in July.

John Pursler, now of Everett, Wash., who for 30 years was a resident of White Salmon valley is visiting friends and relatives in White Salmon.

Fred Groshong has sold his butcher shop to J. G. Wyers and B. F. Oneal. The new firm will add many improvements and will make an aim to carry a full and complete line of fresh and smoked meat and fish. Mr. Groshong will remain in the employ of the new firm.

Mrs. J. McLanahan left Saturday for Portland on a protracted visit to the fair. She will be the guest of her two sons and daughter while there.

Dr. E. E. Swartz of Chicago has purchased land of T. W. Coers, sr., at the top of the hill near the steps and will commence immediately to erect a sanitarium. This point is over 600 feet above the sea level, and it is understood that the Chicagoan will use it for his patients. He is a specialist in diseases of the lungs.

J. McLanahan, three miles northwest up on the mountain, is erecting a large new residence on his ranch. Mr. and Mrs. McLanahan in 1892 came out from Portland and homesteaded and now have one of the fine ranches on the mountain side. They intend to pass the remainder of their days in comfort and ease in one of the nice residences in that section.

The United Artisan, No. 77, held a meeting Saturday evening and elected the following officers: Master Artisan, S. C. Ziegler; Superintendent, Mrs. Lida Bissanz; Inspector, Mrs. May Adams; Clerk, M. J. Kast; Treasurer, G. J. Crowe; Senior Conductor, George Parsons; Master of Ceremony, J. J. Henderson; Junior Conductor, W. Rankin; Field Commanders, Fred Thomas and Mrs. V. McCoy.

The Artisan has a working membership of sixty-five members and the intention of the new quota of officers is to add new life and much work is expected even during the summer months. Arrangements are under way for many social sessions during the summer and all.

UNDERWOOD.

Your correspondent had such a good time at the Grange dance she forgot to write last week. The Grange dance gets better every time. If the next dance is as much better as the last was better, than the first, it will be grand. Everybody speaks so well of the last dance. It does not seem possible for a dance to be better.

Come out Saturday and see what the Grange can do for all of you. You certainly can dance all you wish and have all you can eat.

Mr. Smith, our merchant, went to the Locks Sunday to visit with his sister, Mrs. Adams and family.

Our store is improving. Mr. Smith has on hand a few dry goods now and will keep adding to stock till we will have a first-class merchant-like store.

John Running of Trout Lake and Mr. Mickelson of Husum are busy clearing ground and getting rock ready to commence work on Mr. H. Olsen's lodging house.

The new addition to the store is about completed. Mr. Smith's intention is to get his ceiling and flooring in and let it get well seasoned before finishing the inside. When it is all complete we will have a hall we can be proud of.

Mrs. Ed Underwood and daughters, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Dark, and her daughters, and Mrs. Ed's cousin, Mrs. Wynona, made Mrs. Ed's oldest daughter, Mrs. Tyrrell and family, a very pleasant visit Sunday, across the White Salmon.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Why is it that Ayer's Hair Vigor does so many remarkable things? Because it is a hair food. It feeds the hair, puts new life into it. The hair cannot keep from growing. And gradually all the dark, rich color of early life comes back to gray hair.

"When I first used Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was about all gray. But now it is a nice black, and a good deal thicker and softer than it used to be."

trips per week with lumber to Underwood.

TROUT LAKE.

A ball was given the 26th of May in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jones. Every one reported a good time.

Miss Hulda Foust and cousin spent a few days visiting relatives here last week.

Rush Sellinger made a business trip to The Dalles and Mosier last week.

Foot & Cameron of Meneminee, met the ditch company at Trout Lake Saturday and repairs were drawn up to be signed by the members of the company, which will settle the dispute.

Mr. Witt gave a big house raising Tuesday.

Mr. Stadlerman made a trip to Portland last week.

Henry Tiederman and Miss Bertha Williams of Husum spent Sunday visiting friends at Underwood.

Mr. W. B. Presley and family have moved over from Goldendale to their mountain home.

HUSUM

George Gilmer is building a new addition to his barn, 30x40, 16 feet high, which will make it 80x30. Mr. Gilmer intends to have barn room for his hay.

E. L. Hattman, went to Seattle on a business trip last week.

Mrs. Strait has been very sick for a few days but is some better. Mr. and Mrs. Whitcomb have also been sick for a few weeks but are better.

Quite a few went to the ball at White Salmon Saturday night, and report a fine time.

Gilmer & Manly are hauling lumber for the Olson hotel at Underwood, from Wickens & Tompkins mill. The Underwood people are going to put some men on the road to widen the grade in the narrowest places.

The farmers are doing their plowing for summer fallow and will sow grain this fall.

The strawberry pickers are returning and report having done well.

Miss Litman returned to Portland after a month's vacation to take her place in the Mendocino postoffice. Her father has a home there.

Miss Hark has built a house on her homestead, and moved in last week. She is from Clatsop, Washington.

MOUNT HOOD.

John Lash of Hesperia is visiting his cousin, Mac Rush, of this place.

R. T. Spuddling and Floyd Hess are grubbing for Chester Monroe. Walter Davidson is working on Willow Flat.

Louis Burkhardt left for Portland Tuesday to visit the Lewis and Clark fair, and spend a few days with friends.

Mrs. Warren Cooper is camping on the reserve with her husband while he attends to his duties as forest agent.

R. N. Gribble attended the fair opening.

The people of Mount Hood will celebrate at Winans this fourth. Come all; bring your baskets and have a good time.

Opening Week at the Country Club. The opening week at the Country Club Inn was very encouraging, considering the continued cool weather. Among those enjoying the many attractions and good table was Dr. David T. Day, chief geologist of the United States, on duty at the Lewis and Clark exposition. Dr. Day was so much pleased with the Hood River country that he has engaged accommodations at the Inn for his family, and for other officials from Washington who will, at different times during the summer be connected with the exposition.

Other registered guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lombardi, Miss Lombardi, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith, Miss Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. Hussey; all of Portland.

Celebrate Their Golden Wedding. Saturday, June 3, Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Dakin of this city had been married full 50 years. The following Sunday, June 4, the occasion was celebrated at their home on the heights. Relatives and a few friends were present, and the event was crowned by a dinner fit for such an occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Dakin were the recipients of some very useful presents. Congratulations upon the felicitous occasion were showered upon them. Fifty years they have weathered life's storm and sunshine together and it is a pleasing sight to see the contented pair so easily settled in their home in Hood River, still full of energy and enjoying comparative good health.

Mr. Dakin was born in the town of Dighton, Nova Scotia, May 5, 1832. His wife, Mrs. Dakin, was born February 28, 1838. They were married, June 3, 1855, at Carroll, Me. They emigrated to Minnesota in 1856, where they remained until 1889, when they moved to Oregon, permanently settling in Hood River in 1891.

Mr. and Mrs. Dakin are the parents of five children, three of whom are living—C. C. Dakin of Hood River; W. W. Dakin of Seattle, and Mrs. P. O. DeMoss of Demos Springs, Or. They have eight grandchildren, six of whom were present at the anniversary. Mr. Dakin was one of a family of 21 children.
