

WAKE UP AND WATCH WHITE SALMON GROW

By a Staff Correspondent.

White Salmon, Wash., July 12.—The past week has been a remarkable one for visitors. Weyers & Kropp report that it has been one of the best weeks in the history of their stage line. The great crowds to Trout Lake have stopped and looked the town over and many are taken up with the beautiful surroundings and are investing, and more than that, they are telling others about it. The berry returns have been large and as remarked one merchant, "there is plenty of money in sight." There is a great deal of building going on and a great deal more is contemplated. The merchants are in good cheer, for it has been a fine year, and collections are splendid. The railroad talk has not died out, but on the other hand, has increased, and all now waited for, is the active flying of dirt.

There is a difference of opinion among the merchants and the citizens in general as just where the best place would be to locate the depot. C. M. Wofford, the merchant, said: "I am in favor of locating the depot at Bingen. I think it would be better for us on the hill. I am not in the least bit fearful of the loss of trade if the depot would be placed there. It is true that the merchants of that city, their prices being about 75c per ton cheaper, owing to the long haul we are required to make."

"But if the depot was placed at Bingen it would be cheaper for me. The dock where it is now means an extremely heavy haul and the same would apply to the farmers if the depot was to go to Bingen. I do not believe the farmers would pass me or the other merchants to trade, necessitating an extra two miles haul. At any rate, I will be here to meet the trade when it goes by, and will take my chances on selling as cheap as the other fellows. I am positive of the fact now, that White Salmon is selling at a lower margin than any of the other towns in direct competition with us."

"Watch Tacoma Grow" has been heralded all over the country, and there is no one who has been to Portland but what has witnessed it flashed on the hill. Well, one of the members of the Tacoma Booster club has been the guest of Frank Egan for some time past, and he has done a little boasting by distributing hundreds of cards bearing the inscription, "Watch Tacoma Grow." Every place Mr. Egan would take his friend he would pass out the cards. Not to be outdone, Mr. Egan slipped into the Enterprise office and soon had the presses grinding out thousands of slips bearing this: "While Tacoma is Growing, Keep Your Eye on White Salmon." When the booster attempted to pass the cards again he was met with a bunch of Mr. Egan's cards. It was a good hit and the scheme will be kept up. It will do well, too, to keep your eye on White Salmon, for she is growing rapidly. E. L. C.

They Get Big Cherry Prices.

Snake River cherries sold for the record price in New York this season, when $3.50 per box of ten pounds was paid for Big cherries shipped from the orchard of W. L. La Follette, at Wauwahi, in Whitman county, says a writer from Colfax. Mr. La Follette shipped a carload of cherries to New York and received net returns of $1100 for the carload. They were mostly Royal Anne and kindred varieties, but a few boxes of Bing were placed in the car as an experiment. These took the New York market by storm and sold for $3.50 per box wholesale, at auction. It is said the fruit retailed at 50 cents per pound.

Mr. La Follette had about 10,000 boxes of cherries in his orchard this year and shipped to St. Paul, New York and other Eastern markets. He has not had returns from all of his shipments yet, but the returns so far received show that the fruit sold for unusually good prices and that Washington fruit is becoming known and is in big demand in the Eastern markets. Mr. La Follette expects net returns of from 75 cents to $1 per box for his cherries this season. At these prices this is proving one of the most profitable kinds of fruit that can be grown on Snake River.

J. W. Offield, who owns an orchard on the opposite side of the river from Mr. La Follette's orchard of 250 acres, is engaging extensively in grape growing and has a young vineyard of 15 acres, which is bearing its first crop this year. Mr. Offield said: "Grapes promise to be one of the best fruit crops we can grow on the river, and our location is one of the best grape districts in the West. California cannot beat us for quality nor yield of grapes. I have planted 15 acres of the best varieties obtainable and believe that grape growing will soon be recognized as one of the best industries in which we can engage. Mr. La Follette had four acres of grapes, which yielded 2000 boxes last year, and he sold them for an average price of $1.25 per box. This is 500 boxes, worth $625 per acre. The expense of raising grapes is less than that of peaches, or several other varieties of fruit, and you can readily see that there is a big profit in the business."

The Good Old Way.

A severe cold or attack of a gripe is like a fire, the sooner you combat it the better your chances are to overpower it. But few mothers in this age are willing to do the necessary work required to give a good old-fashioned reliable treatment such as would be ministered by their grandmothers, backed by Boschee's German Syrup, which was always liberally used in connection with the home treatment of colds and is still in greater household favor than any known remedy. But even without the application of the old-fashioned aids German Syrup will cure a severe cold in quick time. It will cure colds in children or grown people. It relieves the congested organs, stops the irritation, and effectively stops the cough. Any child will take it, it is invaluable in a household of children. Trial size bottle, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by C. N. Clarke.

Spokane is the latest to abolish the vertical system of writing, the reason being given that it is too slow. The system adopted is what is known as the normal or intermediate slant. It is a compromise between the old slant style and the vertical. The angle of the letters is about 15 degrees. In appearance the new system resembles the vertical. It combines the legibility of the vertical with the speed of the slant, and should give satisfaction. The vertical system was good for legibility, but it is lost in speed. The old slant system was speedy but it lacked legibility. The new system is expected to combine the good points of both.

Two-quart combination hot water bottle and fountain syringe—guaranteed for one year. Only $1.50 at Clarke's.

FIND OUT BINGEN IS ON THE MAP

By a Staff Correspondent.

Bingen, Wash., July 12.—The railroad talk has not died out by any means here. The delay now in any activity on the part of the promoters has not done in the least to detract from the coming of the road. During the past week many have dropped off the boats to see the town, and as one of the captains of the boats remarked the other day: "People are commencing to learn that Bingen is on the map."

Mrs. G. Peterson of The Dalles, for many years head cook in many of the best eating houses of that city, is now in charge of the Maple hotel. Ed Schneider, the proprietor, is making splendid preparations for the great crowds he expects to come this fall. A large number of summer boarders are taking advantage of the cool quiet spot to spend the hot days.

Judge Brykett says that the right of way men can't talk to him unless there is $15,000 damage in sight. He is opposed to the road and will fight it good and hard. "I don't want any road; I have all the facilities I want for marketing my stuff, and a road would bring in a lot of tramp and objectionable, and in many ways injure me." E. L. C.

Praises the Kennedy Sprayer.

Seattle Ranch. While this matter of fighting insects is before us I wish to mention the fact that I have seen spraying done right here on the fair grounds with a pump—and I don't mean the dust spray, either. William Kennedy, of Hood River, Oregon, is showing a spraying outfit here that he claims will do all kinds of liquid spraying without a pump. I saw it work and am favorably impressed with the outfit. So far as I can see now, it appears to be a complete success with but one drawback, and that is the matter of cost in some localities. No pump is used and consequently no engine is needed and there is no pumping done by hand. The one who has run pumps and engines knows that often valuable time is lost fixing the pump or the gasoline engine. The use of the sprocket geared wheel is at times quite unsatisfactory for the pressure gives out and you must drive about the field to get up the required pressure. All these difficulties are obviated in this spraying outfit. By getting the required pressure from a tube charged with liquid carbonic gas. A fifty pound tube will spray out 500 gallons of mixture. An even pressure is kept up, ranging from 10 to 15 pounds, and the pressure is the same whether you use one nozzle or a dozen. It is claimed that it does better work than can be done by the hand pump, gives a more even pressure and as a result 500 pounds of spraying material will go as far as 1200 pounds when applied with hand pump. As to the correctness of this claim I am unable to pronounce judgment at present. The nozzle and hose used with this spraying outfit are the same as used with the pump.

To Dufur on August 15.

At the invitation of Attorney Joseph, of the Great Southern, Judge Sako and Commissioners Stoughton and Hubbard took a trip over the new miles of road now completed as far as the Wickman place, says The Dalles Chronicle. Their special car was a little flat, but they tell us it was as good an observation car as they ever traveled in and that they got a fine view of the road. Ninety men were busily engaged in laying track and building bridges beyond. This short ride gave them a longing to go on, and when they inquired as to when that pleasure could be realized, were told that on August 15 they could ride from The Dalles to Dufur.

The main object of their trip was to ascertain the purpose of the Great Southern concerning the county road and their requests as to a right of way over a small piece of the road leading into the city. A plan which the company is now figuring on is to branch off from the O. R. & N. track at a point where the road now intersects and to run their track over the present wagon road into the city, building their depot east of the brewer, or directly opposite the O. R. & N. stock yard.

To do this they would build about a half mile of county road from the powder house to a point about a third of the distance down the brewery grade, the road following along the hillside. The court committee is this a feasible plan, which will no doubt meet the approval of all as the present road has never been satisfactory. The depot idea should also be seconded by Dalles people.

Bound for the Summit of Hood.

A large party of Eastern tourists and members of the Mazama club arrived here from Portland on the noon train Monday, and that afternoon left for Mount Hood. Many of them were supplied with camping outfits, and evidently intend to thoroughly enjoy the outing. Tuesday they were to ascend the mountain and meet a large party on the summit, who went out from Portland, to make the climb from Government camp.

The members of the party are: J. S. Hutchinson, E. H. Averell, L. Myself, San Francisco; W. R. Davis, Mrs. W. R. Davis, E. U. Farr, Stella A. Crane, Clarence Crane, Solon F. Whitney, Mrs. L. B. Tarlton, Boston; Russ Avery, Kasson Avery, E. D. Rand, George H. Redd, Los Angeles; W. E. Corder, Miss Amy B. Corder, Oakland, Cal.; Robert P. Blake, Berkeley; Henry A. Boise, San Francisco; James A. Morgan, Berkeley; John R. Glascock, Berkeley; Henry A. White, Wilmington, Del.; J. A. Elston, Sacramento; Frank E. Morse, Boston; William Ecology, San Francisco; R. A. Bullock, Miss A. E. Humphreys, Boston; Ella McBride, Elsie Hamilton, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sherwood, Misses Alice and Mary Sherwood, Master Warner Sherwood, San Francisco.

The Only Way to Cure.

To cure a cold when you have no cough—to cure a cough when you have no cold—to cure yourself when you have both—take Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. Acts on the bowels. Best for coughs, colds, croup, whooping-cough, etc. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar is the original Laxative Cough Syrup. It contains no opiates and cures by strengthening the lungs, throat and chest, expelling colds from system by gently moving the bowels, and an ideal remedy for young or old. Once used will be remembered as sure as a cure. Sold by G. E. Williams.

Do you want that prescription filled accurately and with just what the doctor ordered? Then take it to Clarke's.

Toot Your Little Tooter.

By Ed. C. Barroll.

If you toot your little tooter and then lay aside your horn, in ten short days there's not a soul will know that you were born: The man who gathers pumpkins is the man who plows all day, and the man who keeps a humping is the man who makes it pay.

The man who advertises with a short and sudden jerk is the man who blames the editor because it didn't work: The man who gets the business has a long and steady pull, and keeps his local paper from day to day quite full.

He plans his advertising in a thoughtful sort of way, and keeps forever at it until he makes it pay: He has faith in all the future, can withstand a sudden shock, and, like the man of scripture, plants his business on a rock.

If he can't write good copy, he employs a man who can, and the other fellow in his line is classed an "also ran." You can't fool people always—they've been a long time born, and most folks know the man is slow who tooteth not his horn. —Advertising World.

But One Week Longer to Live.

Little is said these days about the Williams case at the court house or about the city, says The Dalles Chronicle. It is an unpleasant subject and the fact that two weeks from this morning will be the last time Williams will see the light of day causes a shudder to all who contemplate it. In his statement made in the Chronicle some weeks ago Williams declared that would be the last he would make and the reporter has sought no further interview though he may be seen daily in the corridor of the jail. Word comes from Trout Lake that the report is current there that John Hitecock, whom many Dallesites remember as having driven the stage between White Salmon and Trout Lake last summer, will be his heir, being a cousin of Williams. What property he owns, if any, other than the farm at Mount Hood, is not known.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Child Not Expected to Live From One Hour to Another, But Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey of Agassville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by Williams' Pharmacy.
