

PHONE LINE TO MT. HOOD

Special Correspondence. Mount Hood, Or., July 25.—Things are on the boom here, and that is no mistake. The second meeting of the Mount Hood Development League will be held Saturday afternoon in the rooms of the Mount Hood hotel, when numerous projects for the advancement of the interests of settlers here will be brought to a culmination.

Thirty contracts have been signed for a telephone service. A company has been formed to construct a three-circuit line to Odell, where connection will be made with the Pacific States Telephone Co., for the Hood River and long-distance circuit. Mr. McInnes and W. S. (Riddle) were in Hood River, Tuesday, conferring with Manager Wood of the valley system, and received his assurance that the Bell Co. will do their part of the agreement.

Engineer West and some of the other members of the construction party of the Mount Hood Railway are expected to be present at this meeting, when they will investigate for themselves the feasibility of immediate construction of their road to Mount Hood.

Twelve milk cans arrived from Portland Monday, and as soon as the separators are received the cream route will be established. This looks like Mount Hood farmers meat business.

Dependent, He Takes His Own Life. Walter, the 23-year-old son of B. F. Gerking, residing on the Dishroa place near the valley Christian church, was found dead Monday morning in his tent near Camp Overall, on the west fork of Hood River.

The young man suffered a partial sunstroke when at work two years ago in the harvest fields of Eastern Oregon, and since then had never been the strong man he formerly was. Within the last few months, his mind became weak and he would brood over an unknown trouble. His friends believe the young man broke down from overwork.

Besides his parents, the young man leaves two sisters, Mrs. E. H. Dreake of White Salmon, and Miss Mary; two brothers, Benjamin and Joseph. His mother is a sister to M. Willis of Frankton.

Coroner Burget being unable to be present, Justice Nickelsen empaneled the following jury Monday evening and went to the scene of the young man's death: Frank Chandler, Leon M. Bentley, S. E. Bartmess, M. E. McCarty, E. S. Olinger and Lou Morse. The body of the young man had been undisturbed. He lay there with a revolver in his hand pressed close to the side of his head. That he came to his death by a gunshot wound inflicted by his own hand, was the verdict of the jury.

People about Camp Overall state that the poor fellow showed evidence of an unbalanced mind during his stay there. Early in the week he purchased a handsome buggy from Nickelsen the implement dealer and Thursday morning went alone to the mountains. Saturday he went to Lost Lake on a fishing trip.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the United Brethren church, Rev. W. A. Atkins of the Valley Christian church, having charge of the services.

Tell of their Trip in Verse. A bunch of Mountain climbers returned the other day from a trip to the top of Mount Hood. They styled themselves the "Happy-Go-Lucky" climbers, and have told their story as follows:

We left Pine Grove to seek Mt. Hood, And found it in the air; Over nook and labbling brook, And up the winding stair. On July seveneenth, We started neat and clean; We little thought that very soon We'd care not to be seen. With waders loaded high with grub, And a smile on each dear face, We clambered up on top the lead, And found each one a place. In consultation on the way, To find if all were brought, We discovered in dismay That frying pans were forgot. But thanks be to good luck, Of which we had our share, We soon came to Mount Hood store And got a supply there.

We spent the noon hour at Hood river, To feed both man and beast; The lunch box being then unpacked, On its contents we did feast. We reached the Elk beds early, Camping there for the night; Very soon our second meal Went quickly out of sight. After supper was over, We dined upon the green, But such clouds of dust arose The blither could not be seen. So the time was spent in singing, And making the solking ring With merry peals of laughter, As on us the noon did beam. Next morning on again we went Up the mountain with steady pace; At noon we reached Cloud Cap Inn And found our camping place. Tuesday, after dinner, We went to Hood river's source; Wednesday to Elliot's glacier, Where we had much fun, of course. Thursday, at 7 to 10 a. m., Up Mount Hood eleven did start, Each as black as any ebon Looking very smart. Alice and Mildred Mark, Cripple, Dragseth, and Magill, Also Lucilla Hunt, Climbed the Mount Hood hill, Then Grace Cronkhitte, Peter Mohr, Joe, Clara and Ralph Jarvis, Going up with such speed. It made the watchers nervous, Those who did the watching. Their names I'll try to tell: Mrs. Jarvis and grandson Gerald, Nettie Gleason and Mabel Riddell. The scene from the top was grand, Of this I am sure, so If you do not believe me, To that place you'd better go. We climbed the mountain in 5 hours, With one and one-sixth hours on top. Viewing the scene sublime, We reached the camp at 4 p. m., Happy and hungry, too. Next forenoon soon of us went The Hard Scramble Falls to view. Our next move was to Hood river, Hoping there to persuade Some of the funny tribe, To visit our sylvan glade. This they did in a hurry. When Peter held the line, The verdict of the fittest is: Mountain trout are fine. From the camp we started At 7:30 Saturday night, Thus succeeding in getting home And keeping out of sight. "We feel glad that we're alive— The Mount Hood climbers of 1905."

RAILWAY OFFICIALS VISIT GOLDENDALE

Special to the Glacier. Goldendale, Wash., July 26.—J. Couch Flanders and Marcus Talbot, president and manager of the C. R. & N., are in town for the first time looking over the valley and the road. They are well pleased with the city and the prospects of the country in general. Both these gentlemen have made a good impression with the citizens here, and all unite in wishing them success in their new enterprise. They will be taken for a drive through the surrounding country today by some of the leading men, to see the resources of the valley.

Harvesting is in full blast; headers are running all over the valley, and all unite in saying that they will have a bumper crop of many years. The weather has been very warm here for the past week, the thermometer ranging as high as 104 in the shade. It is the longest hot spell experienced here for many years.

Guests Enjoy a Potato Bake. The Country Club Inn has been taxed to its fullest capacity during the greater part of July, and in spite of the unusual, hot spell the guests have found in the woods and river both pleasure and comfort.

Saturday evening a picnic and "potato roast" was enjoyed on the sand bar in front of the inn. Dr. Day, as usual, leading in the fun. All enjoyed a plunge in the Columbia and two more during than the others. Mr. Horton of Boston and Mr. Calkins of Berkeley, Cal., attempted to swim across the Columbia, but when near the Washington side, they met the cold water of the White Salmon river and like most people, decided they liked Oregon best and returned.

Those registering at the inn this week: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Burns, Denver, Colo.; F. Teichmann, wife and child, San Francisco; W. H. Park, wife and child, El Paso, Texas; Mrs. C. Wilson, Oakland, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. Calkins, Berkeley, Cal.; Fred W. Horton, Boston, Mass.; Harman V. Morse, Baltimore, Md.; A. W. Love-laud, Eureka, Kans.; G. H. Shading-er, Snohomish, Wash.; Mr. Davidson, Washington, D. C.; Dr. M. Hayes, Portland, Or.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hatcher, San Francisco; Mr. O. T. Paxton, of Portland; Mr. Hart of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Beall, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Banks, Portland.

A Noteworthy Event All Next Week.

On next Monday evening, July 31st, the popular and noteworthy Madison Square Theater company opens their week's engagement at the opera house, presenting one of the strongest repertoires of plays ever offered to Hood River theatre-goers at popular prices. The company is composed of fourteen acting people of high standing, merit, and the press and public of the east, south and west all unite in a unit of the highest praise, naming this company as one of the best ever brought to the coast.

The repertoire of plays speak for themselves, and is composed of such renowned successes as "A Woman's Bitter Attonement," "The Rogues' Gallery," "A Kentucky Girl," "The Struggle of Life," "Our Summer Boarder," "A Private Secretary," "The Octoroon," "Down on the Farm," and others, all of which are royally manuscript plays.

Special scenery and wardrobe will be used for each play presented. New and refined specialties between acts, making two shows in one at people's popular prices—25, 35 and 50 cents; seats are now on sale for this noteworthy event, at the Glacier Pharmacy.

W. C. T. U. Women Entertain.

Tuesday evening the ladies of the W. C. T. U. gave a reception at the home of R. B. Bragg, presided over by Mrs. Smith, for the 15 new members who gave their names to the union while the gifted Mrs. Graves was here in the interests of temperance and woman suffrage. The ladies also had as their guests their husbands, and a very pleasant evening was spent by those present. Many encouraging words were spoken by the gentlemen for the good cheer of the workers. An old time "evening" meeting was participated in, in which a number of the members stated facts and reminiscences.

Ice cream and cake were served on the lawn and Mrs. Smith proved herself an entertaining hostess indeed. The W. C. T. U. are proud of their new members and expect them soon to be in readiness with harness on for the long but sure pull for purer and better homes and lands. E. C. B.

Married.

In Hood River, Wednesday night, July 19, Alice M. Rhoads and Raymond Hill, both of this city. The bride is the daughter of Elder J. S. Rhoads of the United Brethren church. Rev. E. Brayford performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will reside in The Dalles.

A Mid-Summer Wedding Occurred at the Poking hole Saturday morning, when Rev. D. V. Poling united in marriage Abraham Evans and Miss Bertha Legrande, H. D. Parkins and Irene Poling being witnesses. The groom has been in business in Hood River, but they expect to make their home in Portland, after a wedding trip to Long Beach.—Chronicle.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Child Not Expected to Live From One Hour to Another, But Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I had no time to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by Williams' Pharmacy.
