

ODELL

WANT TO BUY AFTER SEEING THE VALLEY

By Roswell Shelley. Odell, East Hood River Valley, Aug. 8.—A. I. Mason called at the Little White store last Friday in company with Johnson Bros. of Portland. The Johnson Bros. are connected with Rasmussen & Co. of Portland. Their minds are made up, after looking the valley over, to purchase land here. We are always glad to record such items, and Mr. Mason is capable of showing the valley up in a proper manner. Mr. Mason is enthusiastic, and one thing should be remembered, that the fellow who doesn't enthuse cannot transmit enthusiasm.

Harry E. Buxton of Corvallis and Miss Lucile Jane Roberts of Hood River were married at the home of the bride's uncle, Howard Fairford of Portland, on August 2, 1905. Mrs. Buxton is a daughter of C. G. Roberts, and is a graduate of the agricultural college of Corvallis. Her friends extend congratulations.

Miss Mae Hull of Salem and Annie E. Thompson of The Dalles have been employed as teachers of the intermediate and primary grades at Odell. These young ladies come highly recommended, each of them having a first grade certificate, as well as a state life diploma. The new school building is rapidly approaching completion and will meet the demands of the growing district, and we feel safe in predicting good work from the Odell school this coming year. The principal has not yet been named.

G. J. Geseling of Hood River called at Odell last Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Cornell of Lock, Ohio, accompanied him. Mr. Cornell is a brother of Mrs. Geseling. They are looking Hood River valley over and while here expressed themselves as highly pleased with what they saw. They intend to locate somewhere in the West.

The Hood River spirit is akin to that of Seattle. Every resident of Seattle has a good word for their town. This is as it should be, and especially applies to Hood River, for there is no place in the Northwest where a safer investment can be found, and if each resident would devote a little time to his friends the population of the valley should double in the next year.

We notice that there is to be an election in the water district over in the Barrett and Crapper sections on Saturday, the 12th inst., to determine the question of bonding that section for irrigation purposes. This appeals to me as being a very important question, as touching the future of that section. There need be no question to establish the benefits derived from water, the only question is as to a practical solution as to the best method to adopt. It is my opinion that the bonding system is the correct one. Then, under proper economical management, the consumer (who is the owner) gets the water at cost.

Water is Salvation to Hood River valley. So let us draw from the opening waters of Hood River as it runs the gauntlet to the sea, and makes green our valleys by reclaiming its waste places that respond so quickly and profitably to the touch of water.

The revival services under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Jones, which covered a period of two weeks, closed last Monday night. The services were interesting and fully well attended, especially so considering the busy season.

E. C. Miller of Mount Hood passed through Odell after having spent the day with his family. Mr. Miller is inspecting and securing railroad ties for the Denver & Rio Grande railroad company. He has spent the last two weeks at Troutville. His work calls him part of the time at the Inman Paulsen mills there.

G. L. Robinson and family of Pine Grove were callers at Odell last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Robinson is a brother of Mrs. Geseling. They are looking Hood River valley over and while here expressed themselves as highly pleased with what they saw. They intend to locate somewhere in the West.

ratting good time is expected. We were born in Iowa a long time ago and will be on hand at the picnic, and it is safe to predict that the committee in charge of the affair will make it a great big success.

Preparations for the gathering of the Odell class on the shores of Lost Lake on their annual outing has already begun, and before this goes to your readers the party will be on their way. The chaperon and manager is the village blacksmith, Harry Kemp. Harry enjoys an enviable reputation as a mountain climber and guide, and somehow the ladies feel safe while under his guidance. Next week we may have something concerning the brave adventures and hair breadth escapes while on the trip, and it might happen that it fell to our lot to report some of the young ladies as saying, "Oh, it's all so sudden." Under the gentle wooing of nature in the depths of the forest there is rest and inspiration, and we almost envy them this blissful trip.

Last week Miss Nettie Kemp and Marguerite Shelley came up from Portland for a month's vacation. They will swell the lake party. Mrs. Guy Talmage, sister of Marguerite Shelley, returned from a few days in Portland with them.

MOUNT HOOD.

Miss Ruth and Wallace Bradford and Raymond Danziger of San Francisco are the guests of Miss Nau Cooper. They have fallen in love with our mountain air and beautiful surroundings, and we predict that California will lose some of its citizens.

Miss Ruth Wilson, who has been visiting on the Owen ranch, leaves this week for Davenport, Iowa.

D. L. Davidson has been painting Oscar Fredenberg's house during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Woodworth are again in our midst. This time they are in camp at the foot of the "lawn beds." Mr. Woodworth camps with

E. E. Lyons and daughter, Miss Emma, returned home on Sunday, after making the usual pilgrimage to the great American "Mecca."

Professor and Mrs. Arneson had the pleasure of entertaining the Professor's sister, Mrs. Neilson, of Seattle, Wash., from Saturday until Monday. It was the lady's first visit to this part of the country, and as a matter of course she regards Hood River valley, and especially Crapper street as a "thing of beauty."

Mrs. Abigail Miner left on Thursday for her home in Hillsborough, after spending a couple of months with her daughter Mrs. Wulhart.

Miss Grace Perry of the East Side is visiting with her cousin Miss Susan Kelly.

Miss Vina Carns went to Portland on last Friday.

Mrs. Lindsey, who was reported on the sick list last week, is still quite ill.

WHITE SALMON.

E. A. Warner of Prosser was here last week looking the country over with a view of purchasing land. Mr. Warner's parents are camped at Lyle, having come overland from their home on the Northern Pacific. Mr. Warner says Prosser is on the boom these days, and that there are some town sells for $200 an acre, while as high as $500 is asked for the improved farming lands. Mr. Warner likes the Yakima valley, but is tired of farming with irrigation.

Senator Baker of Goldendale, now deputy United States marshal, was here last week, the guest of J. C. MacLennan of the White Salmon Land Co.

Constable John Trann served papers of arrest last week on Carl Miller, who secured possession of a deed from the power of attorney without consent of all concerned. The deed was on before Justice H. E. Bowman, and the matter amicably settled, the defendant agreeing to pay the costs the officers had been put to.

Mr. Bowman it is understood has handed in his resignation as justice of the peace for the White Salmon bailiwick. The board of commissioners who meet this week at Goldendale are expected to appoint Frank Grosberg justice, when the resignation of the present incumbent is accepted.

Guy Crook, the deputy post master, is on duty during the vacation of Miss Anna Wolfard.

Dr. and Mrs. Swartz, who are here from Chicago for the benefit of Mrs. Swartz's health, find the climate here very beneficial. Their next little cottage is about completed.

Lumber is on the ground for the construction of the Fred Thomas cottage on Jewett avenue, which will be occupied when completed by W. A. Blesanz.

Little Maude Snyder was taken to St. Martin's hot springs last Tuesday to see if the water would not benefit her health. The last heard from her was that she seemed to be a little better.

W. A. Blesanz has installed a new billiard table in his pool room and now, with the old pool and billiard table fixed up as good as new, he is well able to accommodate his customers with any kind of a game they wish in this line.

Rev. H. H. Wyckoff, of San Francisco, delivered his illustrated lecture, "California, historical and picturesque," at the church here Monday evening to a fair audience. The lecture was illustrated with a number of stereoscopic views of the golden state. Mr. Wyckoff also preached Sunday morning and evening at the church, which services were quite well attended and fully appreciated.

The Fisherman's Regret. They had a fishing club in one of the middle states; the keeper and factotum of the club was "Old Sammy." Despite his healthful occupation, age grew on him, and unable longer to "watch" the river, there was only one place for the lone old man—the county house. Here, as the end was surely coming, the pastor of the church was asked to see him. To meet the Great Proprietor with a vast accumulation of debt is an ordeal that every wise man may well dread and seek to prepare for.

The man with the gospel, trying to induce him to see the prime necessity of climbing the cliff to touch the place of blood, was leading him to admit his bankrupt condition, that he might claim mercy of him whose "property is to have mercy and to forgive." "Sammy, I expect you've done many things you wish you hadn't done; haven't you, now?" But Sammy was noncommittal. "Well, now," pursued his visitor, "if you had your life to live over again, wouldn't you do differently in some respects?" "Maybe I would," was the cautious rejoinder. "Well, now, suppose you had the chance of living all these years over again, in what particular would you do differently?" After a minute's silence, the old man, true to the ruling spirit, strong even in death, replied: "Well, if I had my life to live over again, I'd fish more with bait than with fly."—Outlook.

"The Lamb Gourd." The Duke of Holstein, in his "Travels in Muscovy and Persia" (1836), gives a full account of a wonderful vegetable growing in the neighborhood of the city of Samara, Russia, and known as the "lamb or sheep gourd." The duke says: "It most resembles a lamb in all its members and on that account is called 'the lamb gourd.' It changes place in growing as far as the vine or stalk will reach, and wherever it turns the grass withers. When it ripens the stalk withers and the outward rind is covered with a kind of hair, which the Muscovites use instead of fur. They showed us some of these skins, which were covered with soft wool, not unlike that of a lamb newly wended."

Scalger also speaks of the "lamb gourd" in his works. In one chapter he says that the queer vegetable continues to grow as long as grass is plentiful, but that when the grass falls the "pore creature" dyes from a lack of nourishment." He also says that the wolf is the only animal that will feed upon it.

HOOD RIVER

Did you ever notice the balance wheel in your watch? The balance wheel of a watch gives five vibrations every second, three hundred every minute, 18,000 every hour, 432,000 every day, and 157,488,000 every year. At each vibration it rotates about one and a quarter times, making 196,850,000 revolutions every year.

In order that we may better understand the stupendous amount of labor performed by these tiny works, let us make a comparison with a locomotive having six-foot driving wheels. Let it be run until its wheels shall have given the same number of revolutions that a watch balance gives in one year, and it will have covered a distance equal to twenty-eight complete circuits of the earth. All this a watch does without other attention than winding once every twenty-four hours.

Now, suppose both machines started in good order. The locomotive is oiled every fifty minutes, is carefully wiped and cleaned before being oiled. So that while doing the work of a watch for one year, it has been cleaned 8,640 and oiled 23,910, (and is now in the shop for repairs.) While your watch—suppose it don't look very dirty and even if it still keeps pretty fair time—wouldn't it do better service and wear much longer if carefully cleaned and properly oiled ONCE to every 14,000 time a locomotive is?
