THURSDAY, AUGUST 24, 1905.

Sloan P. Shutt, who one time conducted a newspaper in Hood River, recently purchased the Drain Nonpariel.

Rains last week cleared the atmosphere, making sightseeing from the mountain peaks better than ever. The air this summer has been remarkably clear from the smoke of forest fires, thanks to an efficient forestry patrol.

Governor Cummings of Iowa gave the "stand pat" some hard jabs in his speech at the reciprocity conference in Chicago last week, when he remarked that people were tired of paying more at home for American goods which sold abroad at greatly reduced prices. Reciprocity is merely a phase of tariff reform, which the republican party must wrestle with sooner or later. If the democrats ever do get back into power, it will be on this one subject of tariff reform. The old saying that all the people can't be fooled all the time still holds good.

And now comes the report that the crafty hand of E. H. Harriman can be seen behind the railroad movement on the north bank of the Columbia. It seems plausible enough that this should be so. It will be remembered that when Mr. Harriman came to Portland last month, he got off the train at The Dalles, and made the river trip aboard the Halley Gatzert. It is not very likely that he did this to secure some idea of the character of the country down the north bank of the Columbia? The steamer on which he rode belongs to the new but unknown purchasers of the Columbia River Northern line. If Harriman is securing this right of way, he means to keep competitors out of the field, for he doesn't need the road himself.

Progress on the Hood River railway has been seriously blocked by three or four parties with whom the railroad builders have been unable to make satisfactory settlement for right of way privileges. While the Glacier must admit it is not conversant with the claims of the various parties with whom the railroad company has been unable to make a settlement, we believe this is a question of sufficient public importance to warrant immediate and definite action by both sides. If the matter cannot be settled by a board of arbitration, let it go to court. Completion of the road will afford transit for passengers and freight to a section of the valley sufficiently populated to demand a railroad, and at the same time give the lumber company an opportunity to bring put sawlogs and start the mill going. With the big mill, logging camps and a railroad in operation, a payroll of not less than $1000 a day would be opened, and business throughout the valley and town would at once feel the benefits. The Glacier hopes the parties can come together and effect a settlement, for it wants to see the railroad completed.

A correspondent takes exception to the cider and vinegar factory proposition offered by Jones Bros. of Louisville, Ky. There are differences of opinion concerning the same, and there are those who believe Jones is asking too much for a name. This Louisville company comes highly recommended to the Hood River Commercial club by the wholesale houses of Portland, and the same Portland people wish to see this firm locate in Hood River. Many people may not believe it, but there is much in a trade name. The Davidson Fruit Co. of this city spent several thousand dollars experimenting in the cider and vinegar proposition, but Mr. Davidson says there are trade secrets in the manufacture and sale of these commodities which he never did learn. It is not so easy as some people think to make commercial vinegar, and it is a still harder proposition to market the goods after they are made. If Jones Bros. can bring money into Hood River valley from the manufacture and sale of cider and vinegar, let them do it. In a few years there will be thousands of bushels of apples in Hood River for making the finest of cider and vinegar. Hood River champagne cider should command the highest market price.

Shoes at manufacturer's cost. Knapp, Mr. Hartness is on a cash basis. Men's hats and shirts at wholesale price at Knapp's.

The Secret of Success.
Forty million bottles of August Flower sold in the United States alone since its introduction! And the demand for it is still growing! Isn't that a fine showing of success? Don't it prove that August Flower has had unflinching success in the cure of indigestion and dyspepsia—the two greatest enemies of health and happiness? Does it not afford the best evidence that August Flower is a sure specific for all stomach and intestinal disorders—that it has proved itself the best of all liver regulars? August Flower has a matchless record of over thirty-five years in curing the ailing millions of these distressing complaints—a success that is beyond all praise. It is sold every day, at home and abroad, as the fame of August Flower spreads. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by C. N. Clarke.

THREE CARS OF PEARS GO EAST

Three cars of Bartlett pears were sent East this week by the Davidson Fruit Co., the third car going out last night. This will complete the carload shipments, the balance of the crop going to Portland and other local markets.

The California pear crop being light this year, prices on the Oregon goods were never so high, $35 a ton, and the carload shipments, the balance of the crop going to Portland and other local markets. Gravenstein and King apples are being packed and several cars are expected to leave this week. Gravenstein apples are bringing from $10 to $12 delivered at the warehouse of the Davidson Fruit Co. The price keeps up well in Portland, Gravenstein wholesaling there at $1.50.

Fruit Scarce in Spokane.
Special to the Glacier.
Spokane, Wash., Aug. 23.—The Spokesman Review market report this morning says:

All of the commission houses were practically empty last night. An unusually large demand for fruit cleaned them out. Wholesale commission merchants say that the sales of fruit yesterday were unusually large. One firm alone disposed of a whole carload of Wenatchee watermelons before 2 o'clock in the afternoon. There will probably be a shortage in the fruit market today, for no very large shipments are expected. Small shipments of blackberries and tomatoes arrived yesterday, but they were sold before they were taken from the cars. Prices remain stationary.

SETTLERS FIGHT FIRE ALL NIGHT

Special to the Glacier.
Chenoweth, Wash., Aug. 23.—The Oregon Lumber Co.'s saw mill was forced to shut down this week and all hands turned out to fight a fire which raged dangerously close to the mill. By hard work of the mill and logging crew the flames were kept within an old burnt district, and no great amount of damage was done. For a time it looked as if the mill and a large portion of the flume would be destroyed.

Several of the settler's homes were in danger. William Orser came near losing his house and barn. With the aid of Tom Newton and H. F. Fuller he fought the fire until 2 o'clock at night, and his property was saved. Considerable timber was destroyed. The fire likely originated from sparks from the logging engine.

While fighting the fire at Mr. Orser's, B. P. Beale was struck by a lightning blow on the back by a lightning bolt.

The Chenoweth people have enjoyed the cool weather the last few days.

Miss Lizzie Oshe is visiting Miss Maude Fuller.

Mrs. Blanche Kantz is visiting her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fuller.

Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Kantz, Maude Fuller and Lizzie Oshe took dinner at Mrs. Tubbs Sunday.

Miss Sadie Orser made a very pleasant call on Mrs. Fuller Saturday.

Chenoweth seems to be a great place for pleasure-seeking people. The creek is lined with campers.

Chenoweth was visited with a nice little shower of rain Monday evening.

C. H. Cromwell is at Mr. Orser's, helping to protect his property from fire.

Mrs. Noteman's Residence Burned.
Mrs. Noteman's residence at Belmont was burned to the ground Monday evening, entailing a loss of about $500, with $300 insurance. Mrs. Noteman had been ironing late in the evening. As she was preparing to retire, she heard the roar of flames, and stepping outdoors, beheld the roof all ablaze.

The flames soon gained headway, and it was with difficulty that a few personal effects were saved. Neighbors did all possible to save the household goods.

MOSIER.
George Haacke is attending the fair. He has added six onions, weighing seven pounds to the Wasco county exhibit.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Stark of Wasco are guests at the home of their parents, W. M. Stark.

Mr. and Mrs. William N. Akers and two sons of South Bend, Wash., are at the home of Mrs. Akers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stark. Mr. Akers is assessor of Pacific county and left yesterday to meet with the board of equalization. Mrs. Akers and sons will remain for a visit of several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Willis, and daughter, Maude of Butte, Mont., are at the home of E. J. Middlewast. They have concluded a visit at the fair and Seattle. Mr. Willis is office foreman in the large smelter of W. A. Clark and his duties compelled him to return earlier than his family.

George Chamberlain, George Huskey, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rowland and son, the Misses Elsie and Mary Middlewast and Miss Maude Willis are camping at Long Prairie.

Died.
In Hood River valley, Monday, August 21, nine-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. William Edick. Burial, Wednesday in Idlewild cemetery.

She lived 12 years in Tennessee, and came to Hood River in 1871, making her home since then with Captain Jackson and wife. She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mary Jones, Miss Lucy Thurman, and Anna Josephine; and one brother, Preston C., all of Bonham, Texas. Funeral services with burial in the family plot on the Jackson farm, six miles south of this city, were conducted Wednesday afternoon.

In Hood River, Sunday, August 20, Walter, brother of Frank and A. C. Pierce, aged 20. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Ekins, Tuesday morning at the United Brethren church.
