September, 1906. Hood River will entertain the Ore- SHOULD GIVE gon Irrigation association next September, when the organization will hold its annual meeting here. The invitation to come to Hood River was extended to the association by E. L. Smith, who is third vice president of the National Irrigation cougress, Gov-ernor Pardee of California being president of the organization. The members of the Oregon association readily accepted Mr. Smith's invitation, extended to them last week, at the close of the samual meeting held of the famous upple region.

The sessions of both the national irrigation congress and the state irriga-tion association were largely attended, says Mr. Smith. Judga S. A. program at the Iowa pienic was the F. Laraway The subject assigned me is broad and inviting. It is a very pleasant one, yet how difficult to accomplish by one living in Hood River valley. Iowa, the home of our childhood the home of our parents, ever dear to our memories; may we look back and never regret that we once lived in the Hawkeye state.

An artist once made a picture of Columous viewing the continent of North America, his eyes resting upon the brightest spot central in that re-gion, Iowa. The artist would not at tempt to give the grandeur and hue of the bow of promise, the broad prairies lying between the two great rivers. Then how can I hope to successfully present the rich rescurces and great development of the state of A name with only four letters, sig nifying "beautiful land." Notice should be given at the office of the Light and Water Co. when water is used for sprinkling. We say sprinkly because it is the only method by which we agree to furnish water for irrigation. Beware of the man with the wise the proper time to sprinkle as no further notice will be given.

Consumers whose residences front the south sides of the streets named below will sprinkle between hours of 5 and 1 a. m.; those on the north side between 3 and 9 p. m.; Columbia, River, Oak and State spreaks, and Sherman and Hazel avenues.

In case of alarm of fire all sprinkling should be stopped promptly.
