

IRRIGATION CANAL FOR WHITE SALMON

White Salmon people are considering the construction of an irrigation system. At a meeting last Thursday committees were named to investigate the feasibility of the various routes through which a canal could be constructed, and J. C. MacInnes was named to look into the best places of the work. Reports of the several committees will be heard at a later meeting.

Mr. MacInnes, who was in Hood River Wednesday morning, on his return from Portland, where he went to close up a land deal, says two routes have been planned for bringing in water to the farming section of White Salmon. One route would bring the water from Big Back creek on the west side of the White Salmon river. By means of a flume over the White Salmon, sufficient water could be brought out to irrigate 3000 acres in the Cameron flat and White Salmon valley. The second plan would bring the water from a point a short distance above the falls, and by bringing the canal around the mountain by the old Groschong place 5000 acres could be brought under the ditch.

It is proposed to bond the district for $50,000 for the construction of the system. While water is not needed for crops maturing up to the first of July, it could be used to advantage for small fruits such as blackberries, raspberries and late vegetables, also for clover and hay fields.

The Mount Adams Canning Co. is well satisfied with the experiments made at White Salmon this summer, and is now making contracts with the farmers for small fruits and vegetables for next summer's delivery. The new ditch when brought out will give vegetable growing a considerable incentive, and the canner proposes to take advantage of the move. The manager of the cannery, T. J. Bryan, left this week for Westport, to put up a pack of clams.

The White Salmon Land Co., of which Mr. MacInnes is a member, is now located in its new building, corner Main street and Jewett avenue. The company has just closed the following sales: The G. S. Aldrich 8 acres, known as the Jensen place in Cook's addition, to Miss Mary W. Gaston of Portland, consideration, $2500. Miss Gaston also purchased an adjoining 10 acre tract from Leon LeFranc for $1800. She will improve the land and plant it to fruit.

Mr. MacInnes attended a meeting of the Klickitat county central committee in Goldendale last week, when the resignation of G. H. Baker as chairman of the committee was accepted, and Dr. Allen Bonelbrek elected to fill the vacancy. Charles Keyser was recommended to the state central committee as member from Klickitat county. Mr. Baker resigning from this position, also, Mr. MacInnes is secretary of the county central committee.

At the resignation of Chairman Baker, the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That this committee, in special session convened, do hereby appreciate the unselfish, vigorous and efficient service of the Hon. G. H. Baker, the retiring chairman of the republican county central committee, and hereby tender him a rising vote of thanks for the able manner he has conducted and directed the work of the committee, and hereby pledge ourselves to support the present chairman in the work that lies before him."

Grain Harvest Nearing a Close.
The Climate and Crop Bulletin for the week ending August 29, says:

The past week was cooler than the previous one in the eastern section, while in the eastern section the nights were cool, with moderately warm days. A few small showers occurred in the northwest Sunday and Monday, but they were insufficient to wet the ground to any great depth, and rain is still needed everywhere for late crops and for pastures.

The grain harvest is drawing to a close and thrashing is well along. Fall wheat and barley continue to yield well, but the berry of spring wheat and oats shriveled during the late hot weather and the yields are disappointing. Pasture is getting very short and stock is losing flesh. Corn and hops are making satisfactory advancement. Late potatoes are at a standstill and need rain badly. Apples are generally smaller in size than usual and the crop promises to be below the average in quantity. Prunes are beginning to ripen.

Death of Mrs. Goss.
Died, at her home near Belmont in Hood River valley, August 27, 1905, Phoebe, wife of Thomas Goss. Phoebe Gibson was born May 7, 1838, in North Royalton, Ohio. She was married to Thomas Goss July 5, 1865. She moved to Iowa in 1869, to California in 1874, to Washington in 1878, which was her home until three and one-half years ago, when she came to Hood River valley. She leaves a husband, one son and two daughters and many friends to mourn her death. She was buried in Idlewild cemetery August 28, being 67 years, 3 months and 20 days old when she passed away. She was a staunch member of the Advent Christian church. Elder L. G. Dix, pastor, officiated at the funeral services.

Shipping Grapes From The Dalles.
The Dalles Chronicle.

One of our fruits for export is grapes, and a large quantity of these are shipped every season from The Dalles. In talking with one of our grape growers yesterday he stated that he had been shipping his fruit daily for the past five weeks, and will continue for several weeks more before the crop is exhausted. So far he has realized over a dollar a crate, and this is a good remuneration. Our side hills should be well adapted to grape culture, and vineyards around The Dalles will yet be a source of wealth to many.

Prune Shipments at The Dalles.
Fifteen carloads of prunes left The Dalles during the week for the East. Good prices are expected for the fruit, as only the best was shipped, the poorer grades being sent to the dryers. A large number of Bartlett casks have also been shipped. They have realized the growers an average price of $1.25 a box, though the quality is scarcely up to the standard, the hot weather having somewhat damaged the pears.

Something and Coughing.
The salve that heals without a scar is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. No remedy effects such speedy relief. It draws out inflammation, soothes, cures and heals all cuts, burns and bruises. It cures eczema for piles and skin diseases. DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of counterfeits, they are dangerous. Sold by G. E. Williams.

FRUIT COMPANY IS IN NEW BUILDING

H. F. Davidson, president of the Davidson Fruit Co., extends an invitation to the friends and patrons of his company to call and see him in his new office quarters in the Davidson building, corner River and Third streets. The Fruit Co. is located in the corner room, with the Light Co. next door.

The Davidson block, constructed entirely of concrete, is one of the handsome structures of the city, and makes a substantial addition to the business section of the town. The building is devoted chiefly to offices, and is supplied with modern conveniences. Construction work on the interior was completed with the idea ever uppermost of making the structure as near fire proof as possible.

In the second story of the Davidson building is the office of P. M. Hall-Lewis & Co., the architects. Mr. Hall-Lewis furnished the plans for the building, and superintended in person the construction of the same, looking closely after every detail of the work.

CRAPPER.

Herman Prege and his sisters, Misses Freda, Emma and Anna, returned from Portland last Thursday. Nathan Hackett and Mrs. Dunn went to Portland last Saturday.

Professor and Mrs. Arneson started on a pilgrimage to the great American "Mecca" on Sunday. The professor will "take in" the educational convention while there.

Miss Mae King returned home on last Thursday after "hitting the Trail" for a few days in Portland.

Johannie Lindsey started to the fair on Monday of this week.

After taking a good rest those nippers and Isaac Waltons who returned from Hader lake last week have begun to relate their experiences. Duncan Martin confesses that he ate so many fish he began to sprout fins, and John Hicks began to feel kind of awley. At his they all became alarmed and immediately abandoned the fish diet and turned their attention to bear meat. That worked all right for a few days until they realized that hair was growing out on their faces. Upon making this discovery, in order to preserve their identity and that others might know what species of animals they belonged to, they hurried home to shave it off. When Jim Wickham saw what effect it had on the others, he wanted to eat bear meat all the way home.

Miss Vina Hackett went to Portland last Saturday. She expects to attend school at that place during the fall and winter.

Jasper Wickham and family attended the Iowa Picnic on Neil creek.

MOUNT HOOD.

The Mount Hood school will open September 4, with Miss Nan Cooper as teacher. A full attendance the first day is desired.

C. L. Gilbert and bride of Sioux City, Iowa, are guests at the home of R. J. McLean. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert are graduates of Morningside college, Sioux City, and have come to seek their fortune west of the Rockies. We welcome them to our community and hope they will see fit to stay here.

C. L. Gilbert will preach at the Mount Hood school house next Saturday at 11 a. m. Sunday school at 10.

The Mount Hood Development league met Saturday with a minority report on railroads, also on telephones. The creamery business was also discussed and received favorable mention by all, with but a few exceptions. The Mount Hood league meets on the 10th, to send a representative to the fair on Dairy day.

The Benton-Mays family broke camp at Mount Hood Monday and returned to their home in The Dalles.

G. C. Ruff of Portland is up looking after his ranch and putting the finishing touch on his fine fruit for fall market.

Mr. Puddy and family expect to move in their new house in the near future.

Nickelsen Case Goes Over.
The Methodist conference, in session last week at Moscow, passed over the case of C. D. Nickelsen until the next meeting at North Yakima.

Though no report has been made to the conference, it is known that the committee on conference relations threshed the matter out early in the session. Mr. Nickelsen's friends at first were disposed to fight the matter through conference if necessary, but after reconsideration have come to the conclusion that while they believe they could win out in conference, the church trials are of such recent date that it would only raise trouble which might do more harm than good to Mr. Nickelsen himself as well as to the entire conference. The committee accordingly determined to lay the matter over another year, the matter being in this condition, the committee will make no report, and as Mr. Nickelsen's friends have agreed to this procedure, no minority report will be made, so that unless the unforeseen should happen the Nickelsen case is ended for this conference, says the Spokesman-Review.

REVIVAL MEETINGS BEGIN SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Handsaker, whose portraits are shown above, will begin a series of meetings in a large tent near the old armory building on River street first Sunday in September. Mr. and Mrs. Handsaker have been very successful in their work and win the highest regard of the people of all denominations wherever they go, by their bright, generous, genial christian conduct. It will be remembered that they conducted a very successful series of meetings at the Valley Christian church last winter.

The Christian church is growing very rapidly and is becoming a strong organization in Hood River valley. In 1889, this denomination ranked eighth among the churches of the United States. It now ranks sixth. The net gain in membership last year was 26,485 and the members number 1,340,000 in the nation while in this state the membership in round numbers reaches 10,000, with a net gain of 1200, last year.

This body of christians hold and advocate the Divine inspiration of the Holy scriptures—the all sufficient revelation of God to man and the only rule of faith and practice; the incarnation of the logos—the eternal word.

Home From Outing at Lost Lake.

A. A. Jayne and family returned Monday night from a three-weeks outing on the west fork and at Lost Lake. The trip was thoroughly enjoyed by the entire family. Maurice returned with the pet of a bear, while all of the party landed a goodly number of mountain trout.

Mr. Jayne and the boys, in company with Ranger Steed, made the trip over the divide to Chitwood lake, thence on to the Sandy and the old Barlow road, where it swings around to the south of Mount Hood. Mr. Jayne considers this trip out by the rangers a very good piece of work. He thinks there is a great deal of travel along this route, and expects to see a road there in a very few years, as for scenic attractions there is no other spot in the Cascade mountains to equal it.

The party spent two weeks camped at the outlet of Lost Lake. Rain fell the first day there, when the air cleared and the weather was ideal, until last Sunday, when a rain and of God—in the person of the Lord Jesus Christ; that redemption from sin and the gift of everlasting life can be received only in His name, through faith, repentance and baptism; the necessity of a righteous, benevolent and holy life as an evidence, and the fruit of repentance; the desirability and necessity of christian union; of their mission to turn the world from the service of Satan to the service and worship of the Living God; the fullness and freeness of salvation offered in the gospel to all who will accept it on the terms given in the Word, and of the final everlasting separation of the ungodly from God and those who are saved in Christ, and their eternal punishment by banishment from His presence and glory. All these things and many others will be fully and clearly set before the people by Mr. Handsaker, who is a clear, logical and very pleasant and interesting public speaker.

Glacier readers will enjoy the meetings if they attend, no matter of what faith they may be; because there will not be heard a single word of abuse upon any denominational peculiarity or belief; it is not Mr. Handsaker's method of work. All are cordially invited and will be heartily welcomed.
