Fred Deitz, who is at Mayville, N. D., superintending the erection of a large normal school building, writes for Hood River literature. He says he is doing good work there among his friends, and finds there is much inquiry for Hood River. "He is confident he can induce many of his friends to locate in Hood River. He himself is anxious to return."

Mrs. Quin of Viento met with a peculiar accident Monday evening. She ran against a nail, tearing away almost the whole of the lower lid of her left eye, until the lid hung by only a thread. By taking a number of stitches the lid was replaced. While an ugly scar will remain, the woman will regain the use of the eyelid.

The Dalles Chronicle has been in rather good humor for some time, but broke loose the other day as follows: "We notice that papers in stating the population of Hood River include the valley, which extends a distance of from 20 to 25 miles. If the Dalles were to follow the same rule this city would include Dalur, Mosier and all the outlying districts, and would have a population of between 8,000 and 9,000."

De Caprio's Administration band, the official musical organization of the Lewis and Clark exposition, is receiving much praise. This band plays in connection with all official functions, such as receptions, dedications, conventions and the like. Mr. DeCaprio has surrounded himself with musicians of a high order of merit and as a bandmaster he is remarkably popular. The band plays music of the classical kind.

Captain H. C. Cox arrived Tuesday from Portland, and will spend several months on his home. The captain was doing duty on the steamer Spencer for three weeks this summer. The boat company was anxious for Mr. Cox to remain at the ship, but the captain says he has had enough of steamboating. He prefers life on the farm to the river.

The contract for the carpenter work on the residence for W. E. Sherman, Esq., was given to W. O. Sanders & Co. of this city. Work is to begin early in September and the building is to be completed within 60 days. Bids were very close, showing careful figuring by the several contractors. P. M. Hall-Lewis & Co. are the architects.

George T. Prather spent last week in Portland, the first time in 20 years he has been out of town over two days at one time. While in Portland, Mr. Prather visited with an old Kansas friend, P. W. Pittman, whom he had not seen for 42 years. Mr. Prather's family has been in Portland visiting the fair for three weeks. His daughters Grace and Georgia are at present visiting at Monmouth.

The office of the Davidson Fruit Co. was moved Tuesday into the concrete building at the corner of River and Third streets. "We didn't move as fast as we did one year ago yesterday," remarked the women, as he recalled the big fire when the cannery and warehouses of the Fruit Co. went up in a $17,000 blaze. The Davidson Fruit Co. has now one of the finest office buildings in the city of Hood River.

E. H. Sheppard was proudly displaying a box of transparent crab apple Tuesday afternoon. The apples were neatly packed in a 10-pound cherry box. They were bright red, and looked very much like little Spitzzenbergers. More beautiful crab apples have never been seen. They were forwarded to Mr. Castner at Portland, where it will be placed on exhibit in the Wasco country booth in the horticultural building of the Lewis and Clark exposition.

George T. Prather is again in business for himself. He will devote his time chiefly to fire insurance, and will maintain his office at his present location, where he has the use of a fireproof vault for the storing of valuable papers. A. A. Graham is again in the book store after an absence of two weeks, camping with H. D. Steele and visiting at the Martin home at Crapper. Mr. Graham spent part of his time hunting, and the rest of the time aboard the hurricane deck of a wood wagon. He returns to work much improved in health.

D. G. Satre of Underwood, who was in the city yesterday, advertises two milk cows for sale. Mr. Satre has 20 acres of 6 milk cows from which he made butter all summer, finding ready sale for the product in this city. He says he sold over 200 rolls of butter here this summer. He has a number of heifers, which will soon increase his herd of dairy cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Martin of South-bernd, Iowa, accompanied by Mrs. G. C. Martin of Peterson, Iowa, were in Hood River during the week, the guests of H. M. Huxley and family. The Mrs. Martins are sisters to Mr. Huxley. A. L. Martin has an extensive orchard on his farm in North-west Iowa. Last fall he had 700 or 800 boxes of good apples which sold for 60 and 80 cents a box. What he did not sell were made into cider. He says his country is growing more apples than formerly. Mr. Huxley took his relatives about the valley, and showed them the Beulah land orchard. They were charmed with the valley and its orchards.

BUY INTEREST IN DAVENPORT MILL

A deal is under consideration whereby R. Smith and F. S. Stanley of the First National bank of this city may purchase the interests in the Davenport Bros. Lumber Co., now held by A. A. Allen, A. M. Kelsey and B. P. Laughlin. Mr. Allen, when seen yesterday, said there was nothing definite to give out concerning the negotiations.

The deal has been on the tapis for some little time, and it is understood that the sale will be closed provided title to the holdings is satisfactory to the purchasers. If the deal goes through Frank Davenport will still remain a member of the company, which in all likelihood will be re-organized and work begun at once on replacing the burned mill at Green Point.

The holdings of the Davenport Bros. Lumber Co., sufficient standing timber to operate mills for 20 years, ten miles of fluming, planing mills at Belmont and Rothton, and the yards at the latter station.

Messrs. Smith and Stanley were formerly interested in the big milling plant of the Grande Ronde Lumber Co., and previous to this were lumber men in Wisconsin. If the deal is consummated, the mill at Green Point will operate next spring and a payroll of $125,000 a year placed in circulation.
