

ODELL

ACKERMAN WILL DELIVER ADDRESS

By Roswell Shelley.
Odell, East Hood River Valley, Sept. 5.—Director Carnes is in receipt of a letter from State Superintendent Ackerman, stating that he will be present at Odell on Saturday evening, the 10th of September, at a public gathering and will deliver an address on the occasion of the dedication of the school house.

County Superintendent Neff will also be present, and a musical program will be furnished. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Frank Runcorn and Roswell Shelley went to The Dalles last Sunday and returned on Monday.

The annual display of fruit at the Little White store is now on in a small way. L. D. Boyd has this week a very choice assortment of peaches, apples and grapes.

W. L. Carnes, representing the Wat orchard, has the largest apple seen this season, while N. W. Bone has a sample of the Wolf River apple and Bartlett pear.

We hereby extend an invitation to the growers about Odell to place on exhibition samples of grains or fruit and we promise to advertise them to the best of our ability.

G. W. Lafferty has a splendid sample of corn in the ear, which was grown without irrigation.

J. L. Herick, Miss Josephine West and Miss Minnie Clark were callers at the Little White store last Saturday. Mr. Herick is a son-in-law of Engle West, and is spending a short vacation with the Wests in their lovely summer camp near the falls. Miss Clark's home is in Ogden, Utah, as is also Mr. Herick's. They are delighted with the far west and these days of camp life are passing too quickly by.

Our dear friend, Hubert Morton, who lived a neighbor to us for two years, and who is now visiting at his old Scotland home, writes us that his home coming after several years' absence, was clouded by the sudden death of his brother. Mr. Morton made the long journey to visit his mother and attend the wedding of his brother, who died in seven weeks after the marriage. Mr. Morton conveyed the sad intelligence in touching, tender language, yet through the lines there runs a spirit of resignation that is truly worthy of admiration. His simple trust and implicit faith manifested in his letter bespeak the character of the good fellow that Hubert Morton has proven himself to be. We herewith express to him our unbounded sympathy. Mr. Morton has accepted a position with the Oregon Mortgage Co., a foreign loan company, with headquarters in Portland, where he will take up his residence. He will arrive in Portland about the 18th inst. to take up this work, and we wish him abundant success.

The creamery industry is rapidly developing, especially in the Mount Hood section. The people there are alive in the matter and are scouring this section and picking up all the cows that are offered for sale. The creamery business is destined to become one of the leading industries of Hood River valley. The Hazelwood people are doing everything possible to develop this business, and it only requires co-operation with them on the part of the ranchers here to very soon place the business on a paying basis.

Hood River day at the fair is the one question that should engage the attention of our people in order that it prove the very best day in the way of advertising our valley that we have ever experienced. Our people know how to advertise, yet on this particular day we should remember that numbers count and every person who can possibly get away for the day should surely go. Let's all go and make it what it should be—a red letter day for Hood River.

Mr. Wilson and family of Seattle were visiting L. M. Wilson and family of Odell for a few days last week, returning last Tuesday. Mr. Wilson is employed by the Northern Pacific railroad Co., with headquarters in Seattle.

attle. He likes Hood River valley and they enjoyed their visit here.

The Little White Store people are busy burning stumps and clearing land with a view of planting more trees and a few acres of clover in the spring. Land is too valuable here to allow it to remain uncleared and uncultivated.

While in the court house Monday we saw Frank Ries. He seems in good health and patient under confinement. He says he is always glad to meet his friends and especially Hood River people.

Harry Kemp and J. M. Taylor are off on a fishing trip above the falls. On their return we expect either a string of fish or a bunch of fish stories.

Mr. and Mrs. Talmage, Miss Margaret Shelley and a gentleman from Portland are now in camp at Sandy Bottom on Hood River, while Mrs. Sandman with one little grand child are again in camp at the bridge on the Mount Hood road. Camp life for the season will soon be over, but then something else will take its place as the days go by. This summer we were compelled to resist all the temptations and pleadings of nature to pitch our tent amid the depths of the forest, where nature's book is open before us. Perhaps another year may have better things in store for us. The stern decree of duty deprives us often of what we imagine would be pleasure, and yet who nows but that the path of duty is the path of pleasure in disguise?

J. M. Levins and wife of Portland called last Tuesday at the Little White store on their semi-monthly trip through the valley. Mr. Levins represents Mason, Ehrman & Co. of Portland, and who always finds an order for goods awaiting him. The writer is a friend of the drummer, having once been initiated into the mysteries of the profession. The life of the festive drummer is a two-sided one. His outward appearance does not always reflect the true inner life. He has his temptations, his defeats along with his successes. He is a good fellow and proves quite a factor along business lines, for he parts with his money willingly. Mrs. Levi's is a child of nature and thoroughly enjoys the Hood River valley trips. They are all ways welcome guests at the Little White store.

I suffered terribly from indigestion and thin blood. I found no relief until I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Four bottles permanently cured me.

BARRETT.

Henry Urganhart and wife of Chehalis have been visiting at the W. Nichols home. Mr. Urganhart is the sheriff of Lewis county, Wash.

John Gibbons with some of the family have been visiting at the Lewis and Clark fair in Portland during the past week.

E. Watts has been very busy the past week building a new flue and cleaning out the Barrett school house, getting things ready for school, which began on Monday, September 4. Watts says he burned about two pounds of sulphur in the rooms so as to sweeten up the atmosphere.

F. C. Sherrie, with his two sons and two daughters, were visiting at the fair in Portland last week. F. C. says the invention of man is wonderfully displayed. It is like the queen of Sheba, who on going to visit King Solomon, exclaimed: "The half has never been told." So it is with the Lewis and Clark exposition; you must see it for yourself and as Philip explained the Scriptures to the Eunuch, so will the clerks explain all things to you when at the fair.

We failed to see our Barrett items in the last week's Glacier. We are led to believe that the printers' ink just gave out when they got to Barrett items, for it was so light in our paper that we could not read them. But we will let Mr. Editor down easy this time by giving him a few more items.

Mrs. E. C. Brayford has been visiting for two weeks at the Rockford, while Ma Brayford has been on the sick list. Mrs. E. C. Brayford lives on a large ranch at Connell, Wash.

D. Labbey, with his sons, has gone to the hop fields in the Willamette valley, where Mr. Labbey has an uncle who is in the hop business.

Charley and Jim Camp with Levi Tyler struck the road for the North Yakima hop fields last week, expecting to have a good time.

Mrs. C. M. Camp, while out driving with the horse and buggy, came pretty near having a serious runaway, but fortunately only a few scratches and bruises are the traces of the accident.

Things will soon be on the boom at Parkertown or Green Point again, as new arrangements have been made so that the mill will be rebuilt as soon as possible. So ere long we shall hear the sound of the steam whistle calling the men and boys to the work again. Then the Ellis boys will be busy fishing lumber out of the flume and the dust and shavings will be seen flying in the air again at the planer. Good for Davenport Lumber Co. It seems that we cannot get along without old Frank.

CRAPPER.

Mrs. P. H. Martin and her two daughters and her nephew, Warren Lister, returned from Portland on Thursday of last week.

Fred Taylor moved with his family to Hood River a few days ago.

Nathan Hackett and Mrs. Dunn and Professor and Mrs. Arneson returned from Portland on last Saturday.

P. H. Martin is building a 12x34 foot addition to his barn.

Warren Lister left for his home in Crook county on Monday of this week.

The school board has erected a very nice wood house at the Crapper. The door is hung on rollers. The building is well painted and presents a very neat appearance.

John Hicks and Duncan Martin are out with the surveyors who are locating the new irrigating ditch.

Henry Hackett visited his parents on last Sunday.

Johnnie Lindsey returned from Portland on last Wednesday. He reports that his brother Voyle, who is in the hospital at that place, is getting along quite satisfactorily.

J. J. Jordan and family visited in Portland last week.

PINE GROVE

Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson left Tuesday for Sherman county, where they will spend a few weeks visiting friends and relatives.

Messrs. Edward and Charles Lage are in Portland visiting the exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Vannier left for Portland last Friday, where they will attend the exposition for a few days.

Misses Mary and Annie Mohr and brother Paul were visitors at the Portland exposition last week.

Carl Kutz and Earl Newman have been in Portland during the past week visiting the fair.

R. E. Harbison, wife and daughters, Hester, Ruth and Mary and son Robert have been visiting in Port and at the exposition.

Joseph Vannier returned home last Friday from a visit to the Portland exposition.

Mr. Gunn and wife and Mr. Clippsey, wife and son of Iowa, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Fike during the past two weeks.

Mrs. F. Eggert, who has been spending a few weeks at her home at Eggermont, returns to Portland this week.
