Jim Ewers, who is doing a bride work at LaFayette, is home for a few days.

Women's Alliance will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. Nelson. A full attendance is desired.

Mrs. M. A. Foley is seriously ill with an attack of typhoid fever. She is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sunderland and daughter moved last week to Portland, where they will reside during the winter months.

D. C. Garrahrant and family of Frankton are enjoying a visit from their friends, Charles Anderson, wife and children of Hallville, Ill.

Land R. Rotherford, who moved here a short time ago with his family from Spokane, is spending the week in Salem, Eugene and other Willamette valley towns.

The following party enjoyed an outing in the mountains last week: Oden Bros., Charles Wells and family, Will Smith's and family of Illinois, Dan Smith, Walter Sillman and family and J. H. Dunn.

Mrs. Milton Sunderland enjoyed a visit last week from her cousin, Mrs. Alice Hayes of Jefferson county, Iowa. The women were school mates 48 years ago. They left last week for Portland, where they will attend the exposition.

T. J. Kinnaird has resigned as agent for the O. R. & N. at this point, and leave railroading entirely. Last week he moved his family into the Barnes cottage next to the Unitarian church. Mr. Kinnaird may go into business in Hood River.

Mrs. C. D. Thompson and son Claude left Friday morning for Portland, where they took steamer for San Francisco, from where they will go on to Mexico City, N. M., where they will visit with Mrs. Thompson's sister, Miss Horning, who has charge of the household agricultural department in the New Mexico agricultural college. They expect to be absent all winter.

Hubert Morton, who spent a year in Hood River and made many friends while here, writes to Roswell Shelby from Fortshaire, N. B., that his brother died last month from an attack of appendicitis, after being married but seven weeks. Mr. Morton states that he has secured a responsible position with a Portland land company and will come West in a few weeks. He expects then to visit Hood River.

Roswell Shelby of the Little White store at Odell is in receipt of a letter from a business man in New York state who wants to purchase the York store at Mr. Shelby here. The East-erner evidently knows a good thing when he sees it, and probably got something of his information concerning Hood River through the columns of the Glacier, and no doubt read carefully the items from Odell, prepared by Mr. Shelby.

Governor Samuel H. Elrod of South Dakota has issued a proclamation calling upon the people of his state, so far as may be possible, to visit Portland on the 12th of September and take part in the South Dakota day exercises at the Lewis and Clark exposition. The governor calls attention to the fact that Captains Lewis and Clark, on their expedition a hundred years ago, passed through what is now the state of South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dunn left last week to visit friends and relatives at The Dalles and Dufur. They are planning to return this fall to Kansas City to visit their children. Mrs. Dunn was troubled with asthma when she lived in Kansas, but since coming to Hood River has found complete relief. While in Kansas City, Mr. Dunn will be employed during the winter in the grocery store of his son. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn are delighted with Hood River climate and the people and expect to return.

Henry Howe, for a number of years clerk of the United States land office at Roseburg, received word last Thursday to report for duty September 1, at the land office in Walla Walla. Mr. Howe has a few days left on his furlow, so will not take up his work there until the 9th inst. Last week Mr. Howe's family moved to Hood River from Roseburg, and will remain here while he is occupied with his duties at Walla Walla. He is pleased with his new location, preferring to remain east of the mountains to a position in the Willamette valley.

W. G. Elliot, Jr., was up from Portland last Saturday.

P. M. Hall Lewis, the architect, left Tuesday on a business trip to Wasco. The local lodge No. 105, A. F. and A. M., will hold a regular meeting Saturday evening.

J. E. Stranahan was in the city Wednesday from his ranch on the White Salmon hills.

Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Laraway spent last week in attendance at the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland.

E. J. Brown, representing the Pacific Paper Co. of Portland, was gathering orders in Hood River yesterday.

J. T. Fewel, accompanied by Clair Swain of Pearl, Idaho, is visiting his brother, Ed Fewel and family in this city.

Leslie Butler made purchase last week of the C. F. Waldo house and a lot and a half, corner of Oak and Fifth streets.

Earl Bartness is spending the summer on his homestead up on the side of Mount Defiance. He is putting in the time clearing land ready for fruit trees.

W. C. Tatlo of Boise, Idaho, visited his brother, H. C. Tatlo, of the West Side, this week. Mrs. Tatlo is the custodian of the state capitol building at Boise.

G. J. Gessling of the Hood River Milling Co. made a trip to Portland Tuesday. While there he bought the wheat and contracted for the sale of 4000 barrels of flour.

Mrs. A. D. Douglas of Chamberlain, S. D., Mrs. Mary Myers and Mrs. Elmore Smith of Marion, Ohio, are guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Dumble, on Park avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Austin of Rod Oak, Iowa, will arrive next week on a visit to their home in Hood River, where they will visit the exposition at Portland before returning.

Roy Deo, advance agent for the Josephine, Defry Dramatic Co., was in this city Tuesday, arranging for the presentation of this company at the local opera house next week.

Jesse D. Walling, son of one of the early proprietors of the Mount Hood hotel in this city, is here from Nampa, Idaho, where he is interested with his father in conducting another hotel.

M. E. McCarty is home from New York, where he went to superintend the purchasing of the fall and winter stock of goods for the Paris Fair. On his way home, Mr. McCarty stopped off in Chicago and Salt Lake.

J. E. Nichols of Milton has returned from a brief business trip to Hood River and will leave about the 25th of this month for that place, where he will engage in the undertaking business.—Pendleton East Oregonian.

Rev. Mr. Beeler is the new pastor for the United Brethren church in this city. Mr. Beeler comes to Hood River from Concord, Kan. He and his family are located in the United Brethren parsonage, just west of the church on Oak street.

David Eccles and family of Ogden, Utah, accompanied by his son, LeRoy Eccles, and wife, spent Saturday in Hood River, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Eccles. LeRoy Eccles is superintendent of the new sugar beet plant now being constructed at Lewiston, Utah.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Stranahan and Mayor A. S. Blowers left last week for Denver, where they are attending sessions of the national encampment of the Grand Army. A reunion of Captain Blowers' old company of Minnesota veterans is being held this year at Denver.

Among the Hood River people who attended the Woodmen day exercises at the exposition in Portland last week were noted: Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Dakin, Charles Jones and family, Mrs. M. Sanborn, Mr. and Mrs. John Zolls, Howard Bubb, Nelson Emry, Verne Gill, C. W. Gill, L. Davis.

Rev. J. W. Hayes and family left Tuesday morning for Bickleton, Wash., where he goes to accept the pastorage of the Methodist church in that place. He will begin his work there Sunday. The Hood River friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes wish them a pleasant year in their new home.

Fire last Friday afternoon swept up the hillsides and did $350 damages to the farm of George T. Prather just this side of the John Koberg place. Mr. Prather has 40 acres here, part of which is planted to grapes. Some of the vines and all the fruit was badly destroyed. It is thought the fire started by sparks from the railway engine igniting the dry grass.

Mrs. H. F. Davidson and daughter Helen visited the Portland exposition last Saturday.

Misses Marie and Anna Mohr, accompanied by their brother Paul, returned home Saturday after spending a week in Portland, visiting friends and taking in the fair.

Little Eva Anderson of Belmont was in Portland a few weeks ago to see the big fair. The little girl was delighted with the sights at the exposition, but she was glad to get home, and before she left the car platform, she called out to her father that Hood River was good enough for her.

Mr. and Mrs. George Graham of Chicago arrived in Hood River Monday and are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Graham on River street. The two Mrs. Gabriels are cousins. Mr. and Mrs. George Graham will visit the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland and then return home by way of Montana, where Mr. Graham is interested in some mining property.

J. W. Anderson at Belmont has a 40-acre farm from which he harvested 100 tons of hay this summer. He has sold the greater part of the crop at a good price, and is one of the contented Hood River farmers who has no desire to sell his pleasant home. Mr. Anderson secured some water melons from Yakima last fall, which has produced this summer some of the finest watermelons ever raised in the valley. The Glacier man can testify to this fact. Business took him to Belmont one evening during the week, and he stopped a few minutes at the Anderson home, when Mr. Anderson hospitably invited Billy Vogt and the newspaper man to partake of the luscious fruit. The way the melons disappeared was not slow.

Meigs Bartness left Tuesday morning for LaFayette, Ind., where he will enter Purdue university to take the course in electrical engineering. Meigs completed the work in this line at the Oregon Agricultural college a year ago in June. At Corvallis he easily stood at the head of his class and was a general favorite among the students. His Hood River friends have every confidence that Meigs will make a like record at Purdue. LaFayette is the former home of S. E. Bartness and family, which places Meigs among home folks and familiar haunts of his boyhood days. Meigs will spend two or three years at Purdue and does not expect to return until he completes his work there. After completing the course at Purdue, Meigs will enter the employ of the Westinghouse Electrical Co. of Pittsburg, where he will spend several years mastering the practical points of the electrical engineering.

Discussing the labor situation, Mr. Brandon, contractor on the Riparian branch said: "We have been compelled to turn 120 horses shipped to Riparia into the pasture for lack of men to handle them, and I have delayed the shipment of other horses for a period from California. We have now about 142 head at work, but when the work is under good headway we will use about 500 head. I have been shipping in men from Spokane, Pendleton and Portland, but many have preferred to go into the harvest field. We will continue to ship men for the work on the road, and when the harvest season closes there will probably be a flood of labor in this field."

W. H. Bishop, formerly Indian agent at the Warm Springs agency, has purchased the Seman Cox property, paying $4700 for 15 acres.

R. P. Orr, plasterer and stone mason, has secured the contract for two buildings at Oatdon. One is a structure 60x85, on which he will begin work at once.

Mrs. Ellen Rowlock and son Harry of Wyoming are in Hood River visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Heintz. Her husband, Dr. Rowlock, is expected later in the week.

There was a sharp frost at Mount Hood last Thursday morning. The same day at The Dalles, the mercury registered 41, the coldest for that date since 1880.

Charles Morse fished out an ancient looking pair of buck horns from the river at the steamboat dock Friday morning. The buck, it is supposed, met his death about the time Lewis and Clark blazed the trail through this country 100 years ago.

W. C. Michael, who is connected with the firm of Rea & Hatfield, fruit operators in New York city, was in Hood River last Saturday. Mr. Michael had just come from the Yakima country. He spoke very highly of Hood River apples and strawberries, saying he ate some of the berries in Duwaver last June. He considered them the finest berries produced in the United States. He was likewise of the same opinion of Hood River apples.

Virgil Winchell has now a herd of 9 Jersey cows, nearly all of which will be fresh this fall, when the price for butter fat averages the highest. He has a registered bull for his herd, and intends to give dairying a thorough test in Hood River valley. He is shipping some cream every week, and is well satisfied with the experiment. He thinks several cows would, being in ready money to the farmer who has set out an apple orchard and is now waiting for an income.

J. W. Abernathy, who is farming the place he sold this summer, to H. G. Colton of Portland, was delivering last week, receiving $15 a ton for the fruit. Mr. Abernathy says when he came to Hood River three years ago, there were 300 prune trees on his place on Phelps creek. He had a large crop, but could find no market for only 75 cents worth of prunes. He grubbed out all but 30 trees, and the next year prunes were bringing $5 a ton. He cut his number of trees in half and this year prunes are bringing the remarkably high price of $16 a ton. Mr. Abernathy has sold his place and the new owner is reaping the benefit of the high price in prunes.

Died.
In The Dalles Monday, September 4, Mrs. Cass Wiggand of Mount Hood. Mrs. Wiggand had just undergone an operation at the hospital for a serious complaint. She leaves a husband and a large family of small children.
