Troy Laundry

The undersigned, who has taken this agency in Hood River for the Troy Laundry of Portland, wishes to state that the reports that his agency cannot do business in this city, because of an agreement made by the laundry association, is of no avail. This agency is here to stay. The Troy Laundry people knew what they were doing when they placed their agency in Hood River. Give me your business and I shall see that you get good work. We are here to stay. R. E. WITHEROW.

Plan to attend the entertainment at the Congregational church, Tuesday evening, September 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Post and daughter Nellie are guests of their son-in-law, J. R. Crosby and family. They will visit at the exposition at Portland before returning to Crook county.

Tom Shear lost his barn, hay, woodshed, incubators and brooders in a fire last week which had it not been for the assistance of neighbors would have taken his dwelling also. His loss will amount to fully $100. Mr. Shear expects to continue in the chicken business.

J. N. Bridge gathered two boxes of luscious Clark seedling strawberries, one of which found its way to the Glacier office. The berries were gathered from vines set out this spring.

Rev. J. B. Spight of the Baptist church has sold his place where he formerly resided east of the drug store building on the heights to Marshall Hill, his father-in-law, and has moved with his family to the W. H. Perry cottage, opposite the residence of E. R. Bradley.

Rev. J. B. Spight states that the plans for the basement of the Baptist church building to be erected on the lot west of the home of H. H. Bailey, have been forwarded to the architect, E. A. Jerome of Forest Grove, and it is expected that the contract for the stonework will be let in a few days.

Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Hershner left this morning to attend the meeting of the American Board of Foreign Missions at the Congregational church in San Francisco, took a side trip from Portland on their return and visited Hood River. They are warm friends of Evangelist Handaker and wife and the latter escorted them during their stay here last week, Wednesday, and showed them the beauties of our hills and mountains, orchards and farms. To say the ladies were delighted would not hardly express it. They were charmed; and could not find language sufficiently strong to express their appreciation of our climate, country and

A. E. Sheets, wife and daughter of Lakota, N. D., visited their cousin, Will Sheets, last week. They were accompanied also by F. A. Kelly, of the same place.

F. A. Bishop and mother of Great Falls, Mont., are the guests of Fred Howe, a brother-in-law of Mr. Bishop. Mrs. Bishop will make her home in Hood River, coming from Princeton, Wis.

Seneca Fouts registered at the Waucoma last week. She cannot keep away from Hood River and we predict that he will eventually nail up his shingle and become permanently identified with our list of the disciples of Blackstone.

M. F. A. Cram and children and Miss Lena R. Jones started Thursday last week for an extended visit at Berkeley and other points in California. They were accompanied by Mr. Cram as far as Portland. And now, the "Up-to-Date" man is disconsolate.

John Wallin has secured the contract for the erection of a modern 5-room cottage for W. G. Snow west of the Episcopal church. The cottage will be 26x10 and will be fitted up in the best style of architectural art and modern appliances and is in a very desirable location. The village blacksmith will hereafter rest under his own vine and fig tree, or words to that effect.

O. B. Hartley and Ed Mayes have rented 15 acres for five years from Dr. Adams and will at once erect a new slaughter house with steam heat and bath room on all floors. There is nothing that conduces so much to the attractive appearance of the meats on the shambles as a well conducted and neatly operated slaughtering establishment. These gentlemen will now provide Hood River with everything to be desired in this line.

Joseph Batson, sr., and son Eddie who were in attendance at the National encampment of the G. A. R. at Denver arrived in Hood River Thursday morning of last week and will visit Judge Prather and Joseph Batson jr. Mr. Prather worked for the senior Batson a year 20 years ago and came direct from there to Hood River and has not seen Mr. Batson since but knew him instantly when he stated that he had seen Mr. Prather's office Thursday morning.

There is nothing like persistency in business. This was demonstrated by one of our live real estate men last week in closing the sale of a desirable tract of land on the East Side, the incidental letter in the correspondence regarding which was written about the first of July last year. A bunch of correspondence has accumulated during the interval of a little over a year that would make the tracing clerk of the O. R. & N. turn green with envy. But the l. r. c. m. won out as he deserved to do and it is an illustration of the great secret of success in Hood River business circles—well directed persistent effort.

Miss Annette Newcomer and Miss Elizabeth Wilson of Iowa Falls, Iowa, who have been in attendance at the International missionary conference of the Christian church in San Francisco, took a side trip from Portland on their return and visited Hood River. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bryce were in Portland last week where they attended the Baird-Cleland wedding.

Harold Hershner returned from Portland on Tuesday evening, where he spent a week visiting friends and attending the fair.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the U. B. church next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. It being the time for the election of the new officers, a full attendance of members is urged.

Frank Mersch of Harper, Iowa, is looking the valley over. He was registered Monday as a member of the Hood River Iowa society, at the store of Dr. Laraway.

George S. Conklin of Red Oak, Iowa, Peter L. Greiner and John Hauer of Harper, Iowa, are in Hood River, the guests of Peter Mohr of the East Side.

Mr. Frank Chandler and Mrs. E. N. Bly will entertain the members of the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church, Friday afternoon in the William O. Elliot, jr. hall. The hostesses extend a cordial invitation to all to be present.

Dr. Mary Johnson returned Monday from her homestead in the wheat belt north of Pasco. Dr. Johnson reports a crop good in the Palouse country, especially wheat, which on new land has averaged 25 to 30 bushels to the acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Runcorn, Mrs. Matilda Wood, Clinton Wood and Roswell Shelley, all of Odell, left on yesterday's noon train for The Dalles, as witnesses in the will contest of the late J. W. Black. A. A. Jayne, one of their attorneys, accompanied them.

A watch was lost in The Dalles last week. Laraway, the jeweler, of this city had repaired the watch but a short time ago, so the owner telephoned here for the number, and within six hours, the lost article had been found and returned.

An entertainment will be given at the Congregational church by the Woman's Relief corps and the ladies of the congregation Tuesday evening, September 26. Miss Trivette will assist with some very choice recitals. Full program will appear in next issue of the paper.

W. F. Laraway receives pleasing reports from his Glenwood orchard in Iowa, that his introduction of Hood River methods in apple culture is bringing wonderful results in the Hawkeye state. Horticulturists there willingly admit that Dr. Laraway's apples are the finest in Southwest Iowa. His crop is bringing the top prices in the state.

At the sale last Tuesday of V. V. Willis of Mount Hood there was something doing. The crowd was small, but the heavy downpour of rain failed to dampen the ardor of the crowd. Things brought a good price, showing that it is little trouble to sell goods in Hood River valley. This is another evidence of prosperity here. Roswell Shelley cried the sale. The Little White store man says he can sell any old thing in Hood River valley. The only thing that hung fire was hay, but the creamery route will soon open a market for that.
