

NEWS FROM COUNTY SEAT

Hunting licenses expired with the going out of 1935. If you want to hunt during the new year you had better get a new license. The county clerk says that the law will be rigidly enforced and those found violating it will be prosecuted.

John Kelley, a box car robber who was recently arrested at Arlington, has been bound over in the sum of $1,000 to await the action of the grand jury.

B. H. Bronson has been appointed temporary supervisor of the Cascade forest reserve. Mr. Bronson is in charge of the Arizona forest reserve and will act in this capacity here until a successor to A. Aschoff, who recently resigned, has been appointed.

A series of revival meetings are being held at the Methodist Episcopal church at The Dalles this week. They commenced New Year's eve, and will be continued indefinitely.

An inquiry was made by Coroner Burget last week into the cause of death of Isaac Logan, who recently died at Mosier. Logan was found dead in his cabin on the F. W. Wilson place, about three miles from that place. It was developed that Logan had had one or more strokes of paralysis and it is thought that he suffered another and succumbed. No evidence was found to show that he met anything but a natural death.

Mrs. Mary Baldwin, who at one time resided at The Dalles, died at Seattle Thursday. The body was brought to The Dalles, where funeral services were held and the interment took place. Mrs. Baldwin was over 80 years old.

Much petty thieving has been going on at The Dalles lately. A cinch belonging to a saddle owned by James Sulpea was recently taken from his barn, and a watch owned by Mrs. Wickham has also mysteriously disappeared.

During the year 1935 Wasco county has granted 141 marriage licenses, and these are offset by 46 divorces, making one of the latter to almost every four of the former. Multnomah shows a better record, granting one divorce for every eight marriages. We, however, happen to know that a number of our divorces should be accredited to Multnomah.—Chronicle.

The would-be ruin of a Dalles young lady who would capture her for life expresses herself thusly: "Dear madam I thought I would right you a few lines to let you no that I am a single man and want to get married my age is 24 I will be your best friend if you right to me if you please I don't use hicker or tobacco or no had habits of any kind I have real dark brown hair and gray eyes rosy complexion and have Pearly teeth and a pretty mustach and is dark brown and Plump Form and My weight is 135 will you marry me right soon to Mr. — to Miss —"

The meeting held at The Dalles by the taxpayers for the purpose of providing funds for the school expenses for the coming year was well attended and a levy of 7 1/2 mills was voted. It was also voted to raise the salaries of the teachers $10 a month with the exception of the superintendent, whose salary will remain the same.

Eva J. Morgan was granted a divorce from Alphonse Morgan by the court at The Dalles last week.

The Wasco mills have just completed their December output of flour for shipment to Japan. It consisted of 10,000 sacks.

Mrs. Addu Kent, wife of J. W. Kent of Wasco, aged 31 years, died at the hospital at The Dalles, Friday, where she had undergone an operation. The body will be shipped to Michigan for burial.

Maimed in a horrible manner by being handless and almost sightless, yet Charles Swenson, the laborer who was injured in an explosion about two weeks ago, is recovering at the hospital.

Complaint was filed by F. H. Wakefield in Justice Donthit's court this afternoon charging L. L. McCartney and J. J. Woolery with obstructing the public highway, having fenced in the county road leading from The Dalles to High Valley, which road was laid out in the year 1886.—Chronicle.

Captain Edna B. Anderson and Lieut. Anderson, who have been in charge of the Salvation Army corps at The Dalles for the last five months and who have accomplished much good during their stay in that city, are forced to leave on account of the health of the captain. Ensign Hurst and Captain Williams of Portland will take charge of the post vacated by Captain Anderson and her aid.

W. E. Nixon, who has been the O. R. & N. station agent at The Dalles for some time, has resigned and has been succeeded by C. B. Young of Elgin. It is not yet known what Mr. Nixon's intentions are for the future.

Mrs. J. M. Gray of Lower Three Mile, threw what also supposed was an empty paper bag into the stove recently. There was an explosion which blew the stove to pieces, and Mrs. Gray was so badly burned that it was necessary for her to go to the Dalles hospital to have her injuries dressed. Investigation showed that the bag contained gunpowder.

Miss Blanche Emerson, a niece of Attorney Frank Menefee of The Dalles, died at her home in that place Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Miss Emerson was a stenographer in her uncle's office and had not been in good health for some time. The funeral was held Monday from the Christian church at 10 o'clock.

Destroyed 500 Fruit Trees. The fruit inspector in the Lyle district destroyed 500 fruit trees that were infested with San Jose scale last week.

From Professor Meyer's Book.
In his book on "Government Regulation of Railway Rates," which was recently issued, Professor Hugo R. Meyer of the University of Chicago has written concerning the demand of the Interstate Commerce Commissioners that their power to fix rates be increased.
"It is obvious that such power over railway rates would give the Commission precisely the same power to check or promote the trade and industry of the several sections of the United States that would be conferred on the Commission by a law empowering that body to establish at its pleasure any where within the United States protective tariff duties, such as the several Colonies habitually established before the formation of the United States. It is still more obvious that Congress never would enter directly upon the policy of regulating the commerce among the several states, by thus re-establishing customs barriers between the several states. The power that Congress, for reasons of public policy would not exercise in its own right, should not be bestowed upon an administrative bureau, the Interstate Commerce Commission.
"The trade rivalries and sectional jealousies precipitated by the increase of competition among rival producing regions, markets and distributing points, resulting from the ever increasing elimination of distance through improvements in the means of transportation, are so fierce that no public body which undertakes to intervene in those rivalries and jealousies—beyond the point of guaranteeing that they shall be settled with intelligence and in good faith—can hope to escape the fate of having to seek refuge behind the stone wall of some hard and fast system of regulation which admits of the exercise of little or no discretion."

May Cut Out Station.
An article written for the East Oregonian says that there is a movement now on foot to secure the removal of the O. R. & N. stations and sidetracks from Union to Hot Lake, three miles away, thus doing away with the Union station and making Hot Lake the principal stop for all trains.

Union is now connected with the O. R. & N. by a line of railroad two miles in length which would have to be extended three miles further west to Hot Lake in order to give that city rail accommodation should the proposed change be made.

The growing popularity of Hot Lake as a health resort and the heavy travel from and to that place makes it necessary for all O. R. & N. passenger trains to stop there as well as at Union station, which is three miles further eastward at the foot of the hills.

It is rumored in railroad circles that in order to cut out one of these stops which must be made so close together that Union station will be abandoned.

Is Success Worth While?
The eternal question of what success is, bobs up serenely again. While money is usually essential to success, it is not success itself. Too much money is as bad as not enough. Some people think they cannot get too much, but they easily could. Not, perhaps, more than they want, but more than would be good for them. How much can you use legitimately and ably? That should settle it. When a man gets so much money that he wastes any of it, he has too much. The rich man does not enjoy his expensive food as much as the poor man does his cheap and scanty fare. The only advantage he has is that he can brag over what he paid for it, and even at that, enjoyment pales after awhile. The Sharpshooter says a steer once ate a farmer's pocketbook containing $200 in bills. But did he enjoy it any more than a brother or sister bovine, content with hay?—Exchange.

An Apple Issue.
The current issue of the Gem State Rural is devoted to apple culture and the methods that should be employed in marketing the fruit to its best advantage. It prints a number of pictures of the various varieties of apples grown in the state of Idaho, and also prints up of the methods employed in packing Hood River apples. The issue is an interesting one and has a number of special articles written by authorities on apple culture.

A Liquid Cold Cure.
For coughs and colds no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar—the liquid Cold Cure. It is different from all the others—better, because it expels all the cold from the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels. Gives strength to weak lungs. Affords immediate relief in Croup, Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, etc. Children love it. Sold by G. E. Williams.

This is to notify all whom it may concern that I have disposed of my interest in the Chapman & Co. stock. All bills collected and paid by the remaining stockholder. N. T. Chapman.

A LETTER
I wish to say to all our old friends and customers who for so many years came to our shop for their meats, that it is useless for me to introduce Wood Bros., our successors, as their 18 years in the butcher business in Wasco county has made them so widely known that an introduction is unnecessary. Being honest, capable business men, they have the means and ability to run a business as it should be run, and in a way that will be a credit to our city.
I expect to stay with the new firm for awhile, and will be glad to see you all at the old stand. I will guarantee that you will get just as much meat for your money, just as courteous treatment and just as prompt service as can be had in the city.
We will have a full line of everything good to eat for the Christmas trade.
