Dressed chickens every Saturday at McGuire Bros. We had the only big supply of chickens in town last Saturday. It's a cold day when we get left.

Spoiled Her Beauty.

Harriet Howard, of 209 W. 34th St., New York, at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble. She writes: "I had Salt Rheum or Eczema for years, but nothing would cure it, until I used Backlen's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. 25c at G. N. Clark's drug store.

Dancing school at the opera house Monday and Friday evenings each week. We are organizing our second class now. Come all who wish to join. Terms, adults, nine lessons for five dollars; children under 12 years, nine for three dollars. Prof. Holst.

Dr. Kent, of Barstow, California, is visiting his sons at Hood River.

C. H. Shaw of Mount Hood arrived in town from Wawaka, Ind., Saturday after spending a month at his former home there.

The ladies aid society of the Congregational church will meet on Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Kinnaird. Come early and bring thimbles.

C. A. Dano and R. D. Gould have purchased the LaFrance building and Prather's meat market near the Oregon Lumber Co. stores. Mr. Gould takes the east half and Mr. Dano the west half. Consideration, $3,000.

W. Shipman of The Dalles made a visit to our city Monday and incidentally dropped into the Glacier office and advanced his subscription. He reported things quite lively at The Dalles at present.

W. F. Byars publisher of the Goldendale Sentinel, this week bought the subscription list and good will of the Centerville Journal. He will consolidate the two papers, which will be published under the name of the Sentinel.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a Franchise meeting Friday afternoon January 23. The exercises will be held in the Congregational church at the usual hour. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

A dance will be held at Odell hall Friday evening 28, given by Mark Cameron and William Wheeler. Everybody cordially invited. Tickets 75 cents. Supper will be given by R. G. Boardman at 50 cents per couple.

Last week the Dalles Chronicle installed a Mergenthaler Linotype machine. This new feature will enable the Chronicle to get up its news with greater facility, and the management promises with its aid to still further improve its publications.

The Glacier is in receipt of a letter from O. D. Res, who is well known in Hood River, and who is situated in Kansas, taking a course of treatment. He says that while he is not altogether well he is improving rapidly. Mr. Res says they have fine winter weather there but he still likes Hood River best. We hope to soon see him once more in our midst.

We are in receipt of an anonymous communication regarding forming of a new school district out of parts of Mount Hood and the district of the writer neglected to insert his name the Glacier must refuse to publish same. It is a rule of all newspaper offices not to publish anonymous communications. Names should accompany same, not for publication but as an evidence of good faith.

G. R. Castner had a fine box of Newtowns at the state horticultural society's meeting at Portland last week, which ran 54 to the box. A Miss Saigeert purchased these beauties and had them shipped to Naples, Italy; where they will be eaten on board a steamer operating on the river Rhine. Mr. Castner also furnished a permanent exhibit of a box of mixed Spitzenburg and Newtown apples, for the Chamber of Commerce in Portland.

After a long spell of open weather the snow came on the night of January 10. Up till yesterday snow fell every day since that date and piled up to a depth of two feet. Tuesday afternoon a Chinook commenced blowing overhead and the mercury at once commenced to soar upward. For 24 hours we have had rain, and now the snow in the roads and streets makes not the most agreeable going. For a day or two the sleighing was good, and the roads of the valleys were filled with turnouts of every description on runners. The Chinook has not as yet struck low enough to affect the snow in the valleys, and the same may be expected to stay with us for some time. The snow is welcomed by the strawberry growers.

Elders Johnson and Garner of Portland held services in the Odd Fellows' hall Sunday.

A. D. Moe left Saturday evening on a business trip to Minnesota, where he will remain for a couple of weeks.

The Unitarian congregation held a church meeting and dinner Sunday and elected officers for the ensuing year.

The dance given by the Tilmany Orchestra last Thursday evening was a decided success. The dancing floor was nicely filled and the music was excellent. It is said to be the intention of the Orchestra to hold these dances as often as they can be made profitable.

W. R. Winans is starting a movement for the purpose of improving the road on Tucker hill. This place is badly in need of filling, and we trust Mr. Winans will be successful in getting the ball rolling in good shape.

The nude body of a babe 4 or 5 months old was found Saturday night at 9 o'clock in the center of the walk leading up Brewery hill at The Dalles by a boy who was delivering milk. The body was frozen stiff when found and was a small specimen of its kind where the body lay. The boy notified his father, who went to the place and hid the body securely under the walk and telephoned the sheriff. The next morning when the sheriff came the body had been removed. There is no clue to the person who placed the naked babe on the walk.

A terrible fight took place near Grandview last week in which two lumbermen, Brad Walshaw and Lank Franigan were the participants. Walshaw bit off one of Franigan's ears. The latter retaliated by beating Walshaw almost insensible, and forcing him to eat the severed ear. Walshaw sailed and peppered the moral and gulped it down before the assembled crowd in the saloon where the fight occurred.

Good news is heralded through the stock sections of the Northwest by the announcement that a large quantity of lumber is to be installed at Sellwood at once. This should have a tendency to stimulate the western markets, as it will do away with the necessity of shipping wood to the east coast for the occasion and caused shipped back again before it is ready for the manufacturer. There is no reason why all of the wooden goods of Mount Hood should not be the product of our own securing plants and mills. The wood that is exported to other states could also be secured here, which would result in a saving of freight and net the growers more for their work.

NEWS FROM COUNTY SEAT

James Edward McNamara, foreman of the Chronicle, and Miss Grace Ann Lauer, a composer of the same, were married at The Dalles recently in St. Peter's church by Rev. A. Bronsgeest. Miss Josie Keating was bridesmaid and William Ulrich an employe of the Chronicle was best man.

A residence which is being built for Mrs. S. S. Harkness took fire Sunday and burned to the ground. The firemen managed to keep the fire from spreading, however, and the damage was confined to the unfinished structure. The loss is said to be about $750. The origin of the conflagration is not known.

It is said that The Dalles may have a gas plant in the near future as Portland capitalists are considering such a project. Citizens of The Dalles are said to be favoring the scheme by subscribing liberally toward it.

A good joke is being told by Wheelodon, who says he can determine whether the joke is on the Great Southern or the "Alabama Company." Coming into his office one day last week a man chanced to gaze upon the bills for the excursion to Duror given by the "Great Southern and the Alabama Company," the latter being our amateur actors. Reading it out loud to said "Excursion by the Great Southern and Alabama Company, eh? Well, I'll be gosh darned, I ain't said that the Great Southern was backed by some other company."

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Allen were at The Dalles recently visiting their daughter, Mrs. T. E. Hughes.

"Talk about your severe wind storms, the gale which raged over this section of the country on last Saturday 'takes the cake.' After the storm had ceased up to some extent, it was discovered that considerable damage had been done, among which we will mention the blowing out of the skylights of the Edward C. Pease Co.'s big store and blowing over The Dalles stage near Thorn Hollow, causing the driver to lose three bottles of Hamington's Kye."—Shaniko Republican.

Advocate Putting on Local Train.

An effort is being made to have a train put on the O. R. & N. between Portland and Arlington to give patrons along this section of the road better local service. There is doubt about the inauguration of such a train would meet with a good deal of enthusiasm by residents of the towns affected and that it would be well patronized. The Oregon Journal is speaking of the matter says: "It would seem the time has arrived when some special attention should be given to purely local business. Suppose the train started at Heppner at 5:30 in the morning. It would make decent daylight connections clear through to Portland, reaching here, say at 12:30 p. m. If the return train left at 3:30 the same afternoon this would allow time to transact ordinary business, reach Hood River, say at 6:40, The Dalles at 7:30, Biggs at 8:20, Arlington at 9:30, Heppner Junction at 9:50 and Heppner at 11:20 p. m. There is no doubt a growing demand for just such a train. Now that the tendency is in the direction of better service everywhere and the railroads are looking for new avenues to accommodate the public and at the same time increase their revenues we desire to submit this suggestion to the general manager of the O. R. & N. and ask him to give it the prayerful consideration it deserves."

Sherman Observer Man on the Hog.

You will never know the pleasure and trouble of life until you raise hogs. They are a bother and a reaction to the spirit of man while they live, but bring joy and contentment to the soul of man when they die at hog-killing time. The American hog, however, is the dabbled, spotted, long-eared, long-bodied animal we ever saw. He can make a fellow madder than other animals that infest the premises. He will always squeal and mudy your pants when he knows you are trying to feed him. He will get in your garden through a knothole and destroy enough produce in three minutes to feed your wife and children for three months. He will pay no attention to a wide open gate when you want him to go through, but will shove out several cubic yards of dirt to make a hole into a place you don't want him to go. He is the biggest nuisance and the most profitable on the farm.

Government Wants Better Service.

The postoffice department has served notice on the railroads that in future all mail trains on the branch roads which are late will cause a fine to be imposed by the government. This order has been made necessary on account of the inferior service rendered by the railroads on their branch lines. We hope this will cause the trains on the Heppner branch to pull into town with the mail sacks, instead of stopping a quarter of a mile below the depot, which now seems to be the rule.—Lose Proclaimer.

Oregon Good Enough.

California, from Red Bluff to San Diego, is said to be suffering for lack of rain. For hundreds of miles, through a country devoted to agriculture there is nothing but dusty fields and stunted crops. In the great valleys of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, the farmers are watching for clouds that never come, and the unvaried sunshine and blue skies are positively distressing, when the seed grain is rotting in the fields for lack of moisture to sprout it. There is "climate" in abundance, but nothing else to recommend the state. Oregon, with its bounteous rains and never failing crops, is good enough for the average mortal.

New Method for Rat Killing.

A Wisconsin man has been arrested by the game warden of Le Sueur for killing thousands of ducks by scattering pellets of corn meal mixed with dynamite in the waters of favorite feeding grounds of the wild ducks. The same man has invented a rat killer or made of 76 per cent corn meal, 19 percent dynamite and 5 percent of glue. The mixture is rolled into balls and a little cayenne pepper placed in the center of it; when the rat sneezes he is blown to pieces. This mixture is not effective on mice because they do not sneeze hard enough.

Easy When You Know How.

A farmer left to his eldest son one-half of his seventeen horses, to his second son one-third and to his third son one-ninth. The executor did not know what to do as seventeen will not divide evenly by neither two, three or nine. In the afternoon a neighbor drove over and learning of the difficulty said, "take my horse and you will then have eighteen." The executor then gave one-half, or nine, to the eldest son; one-third or six, to the second son; and one-ninth, or two, to the youngest, and the neighbor took his horse home and ever after called him "Problem" in the morning and "Solution" in the afternoon.

Four Thousand Inhabitants in a Week.

Goldfield, Nev., Jan. 17.—One day a mountain valley, with 30 inhabitants, in a week a pulsating mining camp of 4000 people—that is the history of Manhattan, 80 miles northeast of Goldfield. A low estimate places the exodus to the new fields from Goldfield alone at 2000 persons. Two hundred dollars a day has been bid for automobiles by those anxious to reach the camp in a hurry. Hundreds of teams line the two roads to the latest camp.

Yesterday the crowded stage tipped over and killed the driver and slightly injured other passengers.

Life at the new camp is strenuous. There is no law or order. Lots have jumped in price from $25 to $3500. Meats are very high. A bath in a room that had the other day for $3 saloons are making hundreds of dollars a day, and at night space is sold on the floors for sleeping room.

"So Tired."

A woman 51 years old took her own life in Chicago recently, leaving to her sorrowing family this only explanation: "I am so tired, so tired—there is so much to do." She had finished her task before she had sought death. Her home had been made clean and neat. A heavy washing had been dried, ironed and laid out in neat orderly rows. Then she had gone to the attic of the little home and with her own thred hands had welcomed death. There is a sad lesson to the living who may still have a tired mother in the household, bearing the heavy burdens uncomplainingly, and should be dear to whom she cares for so faithfully. She should be given every help possible from the stranger sons and daughters who are neglecting the home duties that they might perform, leaving them for the tired mother to do. "I am so tired, so tired—there is so much to do." Too many a good mother feels it as she goes on and on bearing the burdens. Too many well grown children forget it as they seek pleasure and pastime and constantly add to the burdens of the mother which should be lightened as the years go by.—Exchange.

The "Teller" Tells.

Ned Flythe drops into poetry about the advertising columns of his newspaper, the "Teller," and the following lines tell all about it:

The lonely batch has now a wife,
He was a bashful fellow;
But he was spared the agony,
He let the Teller tell her,
My lady's house is spick and span
From attic unto cellar,
And if you want a maid like her's,
You let the Teller tell her.
