

NEWS FROM COUNTY SEAT

Box car robberies have been very frequent at The Dalles recently. Last Thursday night Detective Fitzgerald of the O. R. & N. and Marshal Wood laid in wait for the robbers. After they had been in hiding for some time six men appeared on the scene and commenced to open the doors of the cars and the detectives sallied forth and called on the men to surrender. Four of them ran away, but two stayed to argue the matter and one of them was shot by Marshal Wood through the back. The wounded man is a Mexican and gave the name of Anastasia Ortiz. The ball was extracted and the prisoner taken to the city jail.

Henry Massman of Portland and Miss Anna Welch of The Dalles were married at the latter place last Wednesday evening. Rev. W. N. Hodgetz of the United Brethren church performed the ceremony.

For three nights The Dalles was without the use of its electric light service. The machinery which had been supplying it gave out and the city was for three nights in darkness. "Never," says the Chronicle, "were lights illuminating the darkness more welcome than when they dispersed the gloom last evening about 6:25."

John Kellar of Portland and Miss Adelia Mitchell of Portland were married in the latter city last Wednesday. The groom conducts a meat market at The Dalles.

The Chinamen at The Dalles celebrated the Chinese New Year last week, and among the ceremonies attending the same was the eating of "New Year" pastries. These consisted of large crackers, drinking hiki, smoking opium and other innocent amusements of the gentlemen of the "ways that are dark and the tricks that are vain."

A deal is now on for the purchase of the Mountain Gem, which has been running on the upper river between Arlington and the portage road, by the Hood River association, the association to assume a $10,000 mortgage on the boat.

Mrs. Levi Clarke arrived in the city yesterday from Hood River and will visit for a time with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Fred Clarke,—Chronicle.

Antone Thornton, aged 21 years, was arrested in The Dalles Friday for begging in a saloon. When searched $23.40 was found sewed in the lining of his clothing. At an examination before Recorder Pillion he was asked why he begged when he had so much money in his possession and replied: "Well, they'll spend it for booze, and I might as well have some of it."

Thornton was fined $20 by the recorder, and the Chronicle says that the fellow who is apparently a miser, said:

"There goes another twenty. They robbed me of $20 when my mother died; now here goes another."

When he was about to leave the court room Thornton turned to Marshal Wood, who had arrested him, and threatened to get even with the marshal. Whereupon he was again arrested until time for the train to depart, when he was forced to leave town.

At Washougl Landing Wednesday evening five passengers who were landing there fell off the gang plank. The current carried the steamer away from the landing and the falling plank precipitated the passengers into the river. Fortunately assistance was at hand and they were rescued before they were carried into deep water.

Guy A. Pound and Hattie Louise Marsh were married at the home of the bride's mother in Wasco last Wednesday. Mr. Pound is a well known business man of Wasco.

Watt Russell, who came up from Hood River two weeks ago to be operated on at the hospital, was able to return home today,—Chronicle.

It would certainly seem that there is necessity of the election of a new director in the school at Locust Grove, a few miles south of Arlington. Because his wife became converted at a meeting which, for lack of other places to hold service, took place in the school house Monday night, one of the directors locked the door and when the crowd, composed of about 30 people, gathered on Tuesday night he refused to let them in. The meetings were being conducted by Reva Baldwin of Arlington and Mayes, late of the Hood River Methodist church, who are highly respected and not considered in the least radical.—Chronicle.

In an article headed, "Wanted, A Congressman," the Bend, Ore., Bulletin says in part:

The most effective representation this district ever had in congress was given by M. A. Moody, but he is not now a candidate, and the Oregonian says he will not be. There goes the best chance of getting what Oregon badly needs at Washington—clean, effective, dignified public service. Then there is Judge Lowell, of Peñdleton, who is a man of character and ability, who is not continually stirring public affairs so as to bring private gain to himself. He would make an excellent congressman. How are we to get such timber into the field? Will the people at large take the necessary action? Or will they passively choose from the comparatively cheap fellows who brush in and say they will do the job because they can use it in their business?

The most sanguine expectations of those interested in the High School movement were exceeded by the readiness with which the taxpayers of the valley embraced the opportunity to make a start toward its establishment. Education is a subject upon which the great majority of thinking men are a unit. It can't be too complete or diffuse. The history of education is also one of a struggle and self sacrifice on the part of parents, which in many instances is unappreciated by their children. The boy or girl who goes away to school to be "finished" not infrequently breaks away from the home influence and is truly "finished." The home education at the age of indiscretion is most ideal and efficient.

Violated State Law.
A. N. C. Billings and his apprentice, A. B. Clement, were taken before Recorder Nickelson last week and fined $100 each for violating the state law relating to the barber business. Mr. Clement had failed to get a permit from the state board of examiners allowing him to work at the business, and Mr. Billings was fined because he allowed the former to work for him without fulfilling this requirement of the law. Mr. Billings claims it was not through a desire to evade the law that he violated it but that it was through misinterpretation on this point on his part, and understood that longer time was given before it became necessary to secure a license. When shown his error he promptly paid his fine, as did also his apprentice.

"BAD MAN" ARRESTED AT THE DALLES

Sunday night Marshal Wood and Railroad Detective Fitzgerald arrested a man at The Dalles station whose name is supposed to be Anderson and who is apparently a "bad man." When taken into custody he had in his possession a kit of shoe cracker's tools, including nitro glycerine, powder, fuse, high pressure caps, drills, wedges and other implements of the gentleman of the road. He also sported a large caliber Colt revolver and had a certificate of deposit on the Traders' National Bank of Spokane for $75 granted to Carl Anderson.

He was charged with being a suspicious character as charged in a report Monday night and was taken to the cell adjoining which is a hallway leading to the office. In the hall was hanging a lariot rope. Anderson wrenched one of the studs of the rope about the studs secured a leverage which sprung the door of the cell and Wood finally gave broken it open.

While he was at work Marshal Wood stroked into the corridor and caught him in the act and he was placed in a cell where thieves cannot break through and steal.

THE WEAK SPOT.

When a boiler explodes, carried away by the force of steam, it destroys every body who is near it. Why we are weak, it is a strong enough. It must have some weak spot somewhere. When a man has the outward appearance of being sound and strong suddenly falls a prey to disease, his friends exclaim, "why we thought he was all right—he must have had a weak spot somewhere."

The fact is, almost everybody has a weak spot somewhere. Death and disease are always looking for weak spots. If your stomach or your liver won't do its proper work, if your body fails to get its full nourishment from the food you eat, and your brain loses part of the sleep it ought to have, no matter how well you are, you will give out; disease will find the weak spot, and nature will give way.

Several years ago this spring I was attacked with severe dyspepsia," writes Mr. W. A. Cain, of 41 West Madison St., Hastings, Mich. "I was treated by five different doctors, but kept getting worse until I was afraid to go to the table and eat. At last I hardly stood it. After suffering for nearly four weeks I bought a bottle of Golden Medical Discovery. Before I had taken all of one bottle I began to feel better, but kept on until I had taken eight bottles, and now I am as well as ever; can eat anything I want, and I feel good. Am weighing 130 pounds and feel fine all the time. Several of my friends have tried it, and I have never seen them get any better, so I can't say I was cured by Golden Medical Discovery."

This glorious "Discovery" gives the stomach and liver power to do their natural work regularly and completely. It makes healthy blood and steady nerves. It helps the weak spots, making them sound and strong.

Where so much Eastern and Local Capital is being Invested to Develop its Vast Natural Resources. See or write, W. ROSS, Winans, Or.

ANSWERS HIS CRITICS.

W. Ross Winans Tells Where Winans City Is.

Our Dear Mr. Mount Hood: It is with pleasure we take our pen in hand to let you know that our heart is in the right place, and here's hoping that you are enjoying the same great blessing. Mount Hood is in the right. We've had our eyes on it a long time, but it hasn't got a move on it yet—just doing business at the same old stand. We believe in honest hot air—enthusiasm for the development of natural resources—and plenty of it. It develops and ripens all things that are green. Try a course of it in your business. Cold air, cold feet and knackers are all in line. If the crowd gets mixed and goes to see the 'yil no' change, it will be up to the Mount Hood correspondent for butting in.

Mount Hood special correspondence in last week's Glacier: "We cannot agree with neighbor Winans" (or any other neighbor, for that matter—Winans) in his contention that the name of the city should be Winans. He considers a child in attending school." (When it is attending, of course—Winans). Now let us put you in the straight and narrow way again. Mr. Thomas' children are not attending school, neither did the petition include Mr. Thomas in the new district. I posted a map with the notice plainly showing the boundaries of the new district, so that no one could be mistaken. Two of Mr. Thomas' children have graduated in your school and naturally will have no further use for it, while all three are being sent to another school outside your district. The new district has many more scholars than the law requires for the formation of a new district. You request a description of Winans City. Winans City is in the center of Hood River valley at the forks and falls of Hood river, where so much Eastern and local capital is being invested to develop the vast natural resources that surround the city. It has immense water power to be developed into electrical power to operate all kinds of factories in need of cheap power, and will naturally be a big city. It is in the middle of the apple belt and has 150 square miles of the best milling timber tributary to it. It is a famous mountain pleasure resort located on the happy hunting ground of the vanishing deer, whose spectral woeop or wrons endured, and though departed, their faithful nighty vigils keep o'er wanderers of the ir race quiet broken hearts. Surrounded as it is by dashed streams and water falls, dense forests and beautiful lakes and most gorgeous mountain scenery with a delightful climate summer and winter, the city is supplied with pure ice cold soft mountain water under high pressure. Now you can't afford to knock Winans City—it's too near your own door—and if you do you can't jar it. Nothing you can do will retard its growth. We are on our way. Your part of the valley will keep pace with it, too, and will help to boost it. We do not care to stay in any country that is not generally prosperous.

Now, in conclusion, we do not wish to thresh the old straw over again, nor to chew the rag further in the matter of the defeated school district. We failed to get a fair deal, owing to misrepresentation, from start to finish, but let it go, a mere vagance on the sands of time. We have bigger battles to fight, not with our neighbors, but for them. Let's cut it out.

The Hon. Martin Dodge, who was with us last June as director of good roads, writes from Cleveland, Ohio: "On New Year's day I was at Judge Babcock's house for dinner and they had Hood River apples which cost 15 cents apiece."

Moody Gets Water Right.

Ex-governor Z. F. Moody recently filed with the state engineer notice of the appropriation of a water power reservoir site at the mouth of the Deschutes river. It takes 3500 cubic feet a second.

A man who once had rough hony-hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. Hewitt & Co. Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, bruises, etc., it has no equal, affords almost immediate relief from blind bleeding, itching and protruding files. Sold by Williams Pharmacy.

Chas. W. Moore, a machinist, of 28th City, Pa., had his hand frightfully burned in an electric furnace. He applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve with the usual result—a quick and perfect cure. Greatest healer on earth for Burns, Wounds, Sores, Eczema and Piles. 25c at Chas. N. Clarke, Druggist.
