

PINNED IN BED BY FALLING TREE

M. Vanderpool, living two miles north of White Salmon had an experience last Saturday night that he will not soon forget and which came near causing him to lose his life. Vanderpool is a bachelor and lives in a lonely log hut in the woods far from any other habitation. During the night while he was in bed the high winds blew down a big tree, which fell on him to break the through roof and pin him in bed. The walls of the hut were strong enough to hold up the tree trunk but the heavy branches smashed through the roof and held him immovable. The night was exceedingly cold and the wind swept through his cabin in great gusts while he struggled and called for help until he was almost exhausted. Finally discovering that his efforts were useless he waited for daylight to perhaps release him from his agonizing position. With the coming of dawn he again made an effort to release himself but without avail and at intervals shouted until he was hoarse and weak from his efforts and lack of food. The day went on and no help had come. The afternoon passed and the shadows of evening were almost beginning to fall. Vanderpool with despair at his heart was afraid that he would have to pass another night in his lonely and deserted cabin. Mastering all his strength and courage he gave one more shout long and loud. Away in a field a long distance from the cabin was a daughter of Edward Groshong of White Salmon who had stayed late in the afternoon picking wild flowers. She heard the despairing cries of Vanderpool and going in the direction of his cries finally arrived at the cabin and went in. The eyes of Vanderpool were turned toward the door as she entered and although he saw that she was too small to be of any assistance he soon communicated to her his predicament. So she hurried home and told her father who summoned several neighbors and the party went back. After vainly trying to extricate the imprisoned man it was finally found necessary to saw off the branches of the tree and the bedposts of the bed in order to release him. Upon examination it was found that Vanderpool had not sustained any serious injuries, but was somewhat bruised and in a weakened condition from cold and hunger and was taken to the home of his neighbors where he was cared for and in a few hours was no worse for his singular adventure.

WHITE SALMON.

The location of the railroad station at Bingen has not seemed to have any effect on the growing prosperity of White Salmon. Rather it seems to be booming it. Last week five families moved in and there is not a house in town to rent. Many people are living in tents. The Smith brothers have started a flour and feed store and two parties who want to start banks have been looking the situation over and one of them has a rented a building for that purpose. The Odd Fellows are going to build a hall which will cost $3,000. It will be 10x22 feet, with two stores on the ground floor and lodge rooms on the second floor. The Trout Lake Electric railroad Company commenced the work this week of surveying for the new line. It was announced Monday that one of the projects connected with the new line is to ferry cars across the river from the terminus of the road on the White Salmon side to the other side of the river and have them run on a switch to the O. R. & N. It is expected to load the cars with fruit and lumber. R. Field recently sold for R. D. Cameron 6 small tracts of land in the trout colony to Mr. Lapelle, of Spokane. Mr. Field also reports the sale of 100 acres for John Nelson to Mr. Fields of Hood River and Mr. Clark of Portland. The property is three miles north of White Salmon. Consideration $3,500. Last Tuesday the Odd Fellows of White Salmon held a meeting to celebrate the 15th anniversary of the organization of the Grand Lodge in the state of Washington. After the meeting was over and the lodge was about to adjourn the Rebekahs surprised their fellow members with the announcement that a lunch was ready for them and the rest of the evening was spent in a very enjoyable supper. Several Portland people have bought tracts in the White Salmon district recently, varying in size from 40 to 80 acres, which they will improve by clearing and setting out to trees of standard varieties. J. C. McInnes was in Hood River Tuesday closing up some business in connection with the A. E. Smith place.

MOSIER.

Allen Wright and Dr. Macraun came up from Portland on the Saturday and returned on the afternoon train of the same day. The gentlemen spent the time intervening trains on their farms. J. K. McGregor made a business trip to The Dalles last week. Miss Edna Root and Miss Elsie Middlebart were passengers on Thursday's boat for Hood River to which place they went to attend the ribbon social given by the Frankton school. Mrs. Troup and daughter Burnie of Ashland, Ore., who have been visiting Mrs. Troup's parents at Pine Flat the past winter, spent a few hours in Mosier on Wednesday of last week. Mrs. Troup had not visited Mosier for 13 years, and she expressed much pleasure in noting the many improvements that have been made during these years of her absence. J. W. Weidrick, recently of Buffalo, N. Y., who purchased the Captain McNulty estate, moved with his family into our neighborhood last week. The residents of Mosier extend a hearty welcome to Mr. Weidrick and family, as we believe them to be people worthy of esteem and appreciation and just such people as we are pleased to have come here to make their home with us. Mrs. E. J. Middlebart and daughter Mrs. Wm. Rowland came up from Hood River on Friday. Mr. George Chamberlain spent Thursday of last week in Portland acquainting himself with the different kinds of drills. Mr. Chamberlain speaks with much favor of the Burley drill, and expresses his intention of purchasing one in the near future for operation on a mining claim. For the purpose of operation a company has been formed to develop a claim which gives encouraging evidence of being rich in mineral production. Mrs. Wm. Stevenson took Saturday's train for Pennsylvania, she expects to be gone throughout the summer months. Mr. Dickenson came up from Portland on Saturday's boat, having shipped his household goods at the same time, he intends to move to his home on Mosier Creek.

Mr. Goracke and family, who have spent the winter in Mosier, are moving to Grass Valley.

School opened in district 12, Monday, March 12, with a good attendance.

MOUNT HOOD.

Mae Cooper spent last week with her sister Mrs. J. A. Cook of Odell. R. J. McInnes has returned from Iowa here he has been spending the winter. Mrs. McInnes stopped at Spokane to visit relatives, but will be at home in a few days.

Clinton Gregory, a brother of Mrs. McInnes, came west to look over the country. We hope he will like our charming valley and make up his mind to stay with us, we extend the glad hand to him. Last Thursday night some of the members of "Progressive Thought" gathered at their place of business and proceeded with their meeting till it came time for the "Professor" to do his instructing and then they knew not what to do as the "Professor" was not there so they turned it into a play party or a dance, which it was we are unable to say, but they all say it was the best meeting yet.

We cannot agree with Mr. Shelby about being spring yet even if the robins are here and the sun hot enough to make him sweat.

E. C. Miller is home for a few days and has been improving his ranch.

We understand they want more men at the Moody camp, so no one need lay idle.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helmer, March 5, a girl.

A couple of Hood River gentlemen came up last Friday to look over a route for an electric road and see in what way the settlers would be willing to help the move along. We want the electric road and they all seem willing to help all they possibly can.

The ground hog did not fool us this year and we are now having the hard winter for this year. Wonder how Mr. Shelley likes this for spring?

Jesse Davidson reports young chickens and says it is not the best of weather for the chicks.

L. W. Baldwin of Hood River came up Sunday with the expectation of starting E. W. Gribble's new house, but was delayed by the snow.

Mrs. Frank Peeler returned Monday night by stage from a visit with her husband, who is in the hospital.

The entertainment Monday night was a great success in spite of the cold weather. After a conversation they all departed for their many homes.

Telephone is all the go here now. Shares are going like hot cakes. Come early or you are liable to be left, they are only $50 a share and only a few left.

As the old correspondent has returned I herewith resign in favor of him from now on. We would like to have him write up his trip next week if he has not already done so. W. O. B.

GLACIER.

C. A. Weygandt is working for George Groff and they are tearing the great trees right and left. That looks like improving.

The Mount Hood school started the first Monday in March.

L. G. Groff has sold 80 acres and is now going to build a new house and barn.

Cass Weygandt returned home from Portland, Sunday. Mount Hood is in action again.

Al Hackelbary is going into the dairy business according to all reports. Al has a cow that gives 25 quarts of milk a day and 2 quarts of cream. Isn't that a big boost for Mount Hood.

PINE GROVE.

About thirty-five young people gathered at the Malloy home on Thursday evening and made the night merry with their music. The occasion was a farewell party in honor of Miss Zora Miller, who left the latter part of the week for Entersday, where she will take charge of a school. While her departure is regretted by the young people, they rejoice with her in her good fortune.

On Friday evening ten Pine Groves will meet an equal number of Odellites at O-Hell in an old-fashioned spelling match.

The snow had begun in the gloaming, and busily all the night, had been heaping field and highway with a silence deep and white. So ran our thoughts when we awakened Saturday morning and looked out upon a transformed world.

Fires, furs and fannels have taken the place of the shirt waist and straw hat.

Thomas Walker and family arrived some ten days ago from Pueblo. Mr. Walker is Mrs. Lobb's father. They will remain during the summer and then will settle here if suited. We venture to predict that the summer of 1907 will find them here singing the praises of Hood River Valley.

M. A. Shough and family from Oakville are living in the Plough house until the weather moderates when they will camp. They came here for the benefit of Mrs. Shough's health. If you care to stop you will find fresh flaked hominy at the Pine Grove store.

J. W. Albin and one of the Shough boys are clearing land for Mrs. Zabel. We take the liberty of correcting a item in last week's notes to the effect that James Davis who recently purchased the Gilmore place has sold. This is not the case.

The infant child of Chester Sears, now of Eugene, was burned so badly that it died from the effect. The interment took place at Hood River.

Miss Ruby Davis is out of school on account of a heavy cold. B. R. W.

We are having quite a change in weather, the thermometer here averages 20 above.

The Grange delegation from Pine Grove to The Dalles, returned home Saturday afternoon. They were, Ed Lage, Mrs. Joe Jarvis and Miss Arline Winchell.

Mr. F. M. Jackson also returned Saturday from The Dalles, where he had been on a business trip. While there he met on the street our old friend the notary, Walter Thompson, who will be remembered by old residents of the East Side. It was believed for a long time that he was dead. He was on his way to Nevada, where he said he had a mine.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Will Kolas of Pine Grove, Saturday, March 10, 1906, a son.

J. Oliver, former owner of the little store on the corner, is in our community again.

The owners of the new store are building an addition on their store building and expect soon to move here from Odell to live.
