JONATHAN BOURNE, Jr.

Republican Candidate for United States Senator.

CHAMPION OF STATEMENT ONE.

Jonathan Bourne, Jr., candidate before the Republican primaries for the nomination of United States Senator in Congress, for the long term commencing March 4th, 1907, was born in New Bedford, Mass., February 23d, 1855; was a member of the class of 1877 at Harvard University; came to Portland May 16th 1878; was a Republican member of the Oregon Legislature in the session of 188; and the extra session of 1886; was one of Oregon's delegates to the Republicat National Convention of 1888 and Oregon's member of the Republican National Committee from 1888 to 1892, and a delegate to the Republican National Convention of 1892; and was elected as a Mitchell Republican to the Oregon Legisla-

Mr. Bourne has been more prominently idnetified with the developement of the mineral resources of Oregon than any other man in the state, having expended in the last twenty years over $1,000,000 of his own money in the acquisition and development of Oregon mines. While Mr. Bourne has had his residence and main office at Portland since 1878, he has had another office at New Bedford, Mass., and has carried on the business of his father's estate since 1889, which makes him familiar with man of the large interests and leading men of the East. These qual-fications, in con-

of the large interests and leading men of the East. These qualifications, in conjunction with his tremendous energy, originality, executive ability and expersence in business and political affairs pre-eminently qualify him for making an able and influential Senator for the State of Oregon.

Mr. Bourne has always favored extending the direct power of the people over their government as far as possible. He was one of the leading spirits in the Initiative and Referendum movement from 1896 until it was approved by the voters at the June election in 1902. In 1904 he was a member of the executive committee of the Direct Primary Nominations League, and holds the same possible. Is shown in the last of fine Hood River homes.

Mr. Hall-Lewis is also making plans for a cottage for E. L. Smith. The small barn on the Cak street side of his residence block will be moved across the street to the corner lot next to the U. B. parsonage and remodeled into a nice little cottage. This is the property Mr. Smith purchased from Geo. I. Slocom. committee of the Direct Primary Nominations League, and holds the same position with the People's Power League at this time. In all these movements he has been one of the few to guarantee the necessary expenses of preparing and proposing their measures to the people.

de says that the choice of United States Senator should be by direct vote of the people, and that the Legislature should be compelled to elect the man the people, and that the Legislature should be compelled to elect the man the people select. To accomplish this result, he is championing Statement No. 1 of Williams' Pharmacy. the primary elections law as the only method by which, public opinion may be crystallized and made effective upon the Legislature.

In his petition for nomination be says:

"If I am nominated and elected I will, during my term overdrawn The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at of office, favor:

Fruit Notes.

A cri is is hanging over the fruit districts of southern Michigan. For districts of southern Michigan. For the last three seasons disastrous rains have come just at the wrong time to spoil the peach crop and now many of the growers are grubbing out their trees to engage in less hazardous farming along more common lines. To us here in the dry and salubrious climate of Colorado the news of these disasters come as an inspiration to be up and doing more valiantly than ever, for what is one man's meat is another man's poison and we have the whip what is one man's meat is another man's poison and we have the whip hand over our fellow growers in the east when it comes to producing peaches that will ship and sell. We never heard of a case of rot from rain in Colorad , and this seems to be the greatest affliction with which the Michiganders are stricken.

The Lane county fruit i spector has just finished his rounds for the win-ter and reports San Jose scale in nearly all of the orehards. He finds it particularly bad on the fruit trees and shrubbery of Eugene. A few of the orchards were so badly affected that they have been destroyed. In most cases he found the owners ready and anxious to spray for the eradication of the pest.

Hood River Strawberries Attract an Easterner.

Peter Peterson, of Elk Point, S. D., was in Hood River last week looking over the valley. Mr. Peterson says that last summer he saw some very Dr. Blalock, the well known fruit fine strawberries in his town and they man of Eastern Washington, has made looked so good he bought some of the organization of the Blalock Island Fruit Company, which will develop 6,000 acres of fruit land on and in the vicinity of Blalock Island. The entire tract of 6,000 acres will be set to fruit.

State Quarantine Officer E. M. Ehrhorn, at the state Fruit Growers' contact that California Pacific Coast where the winters were sure and made up his mind to seek a new home on the pacific coast where the winters were vention, estimate: that California produces annually between $50,000,000 not so severe as in South Dakota, and and $60,000,000 worth of fruit. According to W. K. Newell, the try first where such fine strawberries Baldwin is the best variety of apple were taised. kill, to kill! That is all. it is the things that make alive, that help right living, that ought to be supported, rather than the things that kill. We are semi barbarinngs that kill. We are semi barbar-ians, though, and so are the rest of the peoples, living in fear and hatred of on another; and so perhaps we need a great navy and nany admirals! But we workers have to pay the price, let us not forget that!—Portland Journal.

Fruit Pests in Eastern Oregon. The problem of keeping pests out of Grant county has passed and in its place has come the problem of fighting them. Codlin moth has come in considerable numbers, but prompt measures may save much time and money.

Not so with the aphis, as it has evidently come to stay.

In speaking of the presence of this pest in the North Fork country, a farmer from that section reported that the willows along the river are covered with them. Orchards in the vicinity of willow groves are badly infested, with a promise of much worse to come. Spraying is perhaps the only relief, and that will have to be done as a remedy, not as it once might have been, as a preventive.

V. C. Brock's residence is also on Oak street, and in a very sightly locaion. It will cost about $1800 for the contractor's work, which does not include several items.
These new residences will be a valuable addition to the list of fine Hood diver homes.

Climatic Cures.

The influence of climatic conditions nome by proper attention to food digesson, and a regular use of German Syrup good night's rest and the absence of that wearening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaus ion due to coughing, the greatest dan ger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking Ger-man Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer clime, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefitted and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale iv C. N. Clarke, druggist.
