ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the voters of Wasco county: I hereby announce my candidacy at state on April 20th, 1906, for the Democratict nomination of County Commissioner of Wasco county, subject to the voters of Wasco county. CHARLES L. COPPLE.

Statement No. 1.

The declaration of Hou, A. A. Jayne that he is in accord with the provis ions of statement No. 1 and, if elected, will vote for the candidate for United States Senator securing the most votes, can not fail to appear to every consistent voter. The primary law was framed for the purpose of eliminating one-man politics. It has taken away the power of any one man or set of men to say who shall and who shall not be candidates for public office. For the first time in the history of the body politic of the United States the citizens of a great common wealth are to be allowed the privilege of nominating candidates for office by popular vote. The burden of responsibility is placed on the voter and it is for him to carry out the provisions of the law. One of the fundamental principles of the primary law is to give the voter an expression as near as possible of his choice for United States senstor. The candidate who pledges himself to vote for the choice of the people for this important office is fulfilling the intention of the law and lays an obligation on every voter of honest convictions to support him. It is not only an obligation, but a duty. One not to be shirked or evaded but to be NEW BANK OPENED lived up to by every principal of honest American citizenship.

In the coming election the eyes of every state in the union will be turned toward Oregon in its effort to decide whether it will shake off one man rule or have a government by the people, for the people, and of the people. The man pledged to support the candidate getting the greatest number of votes for United States Senator representthe government by the people. The candidate who refuses to abide by the will of the people represents the oneman kind.

The candidate who is willing to stand or fall on the principles of which this government is based typides a patriotism which every right thinking man should possess, and is not to be regarded lightly. It is for you to decide. You can not disregard it. J. you do you repudiate the law you
