Sheriff Sexton was down from The Dalles Monday. John Castner and A. J. Derby spent Sunday in Portland. Joe Morton was a passenger on No. 1 for Portland Monday. F. C. Masseo, of Willow Flat, made a trip to The Dalles yesterday. Geo. Slocum patronized the local yesterday by a trip to The Dalles. Mrs. Sarah Treat, of Portland, was the guest of Mrs. Watt last week. E. M. Shutt, of Antelope, formerly of Hood River, passed through on No. 2 Friday. Mrs. Dorrance left Monday for New York, where she expects to make her future home. The W. C. T. U. ladies have started a project to procure a drinking fountain for the city. Mrs. W. N. Stewart, of Nebraska, is visiting Mrs. Henry McCoy and Mrs. Geo. Braithwaite. Ed M. Foy, manager of the We-machos Fruit Association, was in Hood River Monday. Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Watt, Mrs. Stewart and Roy Slocum took the local for Portland Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Geo. Stekoa, of Wyeth, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Noble at Frankton, this week. Levi Christian, of The Dalles, was down Sunday looking over the political situation as regards sheriff. Dr. H. S. Brownson, a dentist of Prairie City, was looking over the valley last week and visiting friends. Miss Kate Earl, a nurse in The Dalles hospital, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. S. E. Bartness, for a couple of weeks. Mrs. N. C. Chapman, of White Salmon, came over on the ferry and took Tuesday's afternoon train for Portland. J. T. Neff, county superintendent of schools, attended the school board school trial here last week, returning home Friday. The ladies' aid society of the Congregational church will meet on Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. H. S. Richmond. W. H. Absher, of Texas, has opened a new restaurant in the building across from Watt's feed store, which is called the Royal Cafe. It was reported yesterday that Robt. Hand had sold the corner opposite the Hoskins block to Dr. Elliot C. Musser, at Orangeville, Ill., who died May 17, 1906, aged 74 years. W. H. Perkins, of Portland, spent a few days in Hood River, looking over the valley, and left for the Rogue River country Monday. Mrs. E. F. Reed, of Cascade Locks, visited her sister, Mrs. Phil Strube, and friends in Hood River from Friday until Monday. Philip Spangler left for the Soldiers' Home in California Monday, where he will remain for a few months in the hopes of benefiting his health. Chas. N. Clarke brought back his wife and daughter Monday from Dufur, where they have been visiting Mrs. Clarke's parents for a couple of weeks. Rev. W. C. Evans, of Hood River, and Rev. B. F. Brown of Gilmer, took the noon train for Pendleton Tuesday, to attend the District conference held there this week. Mrs. W. H. Root and family, and her married daughter, Mrs. Johnson and husband, arrived Monday from Ella, Ore., where they have a ranch, to pick strawberries. There will be a game in Hood River next Sunday between the home team and the Wasco Warehouse team of The Dalles, who are considered the best team in East Oregon. W. D. Rogers, the photographer, has purchased an automobile, the first one to be owned in Hood River. There was one here for a short time last summer, but was shipped out again. The Baptist Ladies' Aid will have a window sale Saturday, May 26, at Boyd's Hall on the hill. There will be home-made bread, cakes and pies, and the remains of the opening speech, after which he introduced the governor. J. D. Matlock, candidate for state treasurer, came up on the evening train, but did not arrive in time to address the meeting. Three Have Died. Undertaker Nichols was summoned to Collins Friday to take charge of the remains of one of the laborers who were so badly burned by the powder explosion a couple of weeks ago, and Saturday another one died. With the foreman, who died the next day after the accident, this makes three deaths from the explosion. The fourth man is still in a precarious condition and his life is despaired of.

J. Otten and F. C. Stauffer were passengers for Portland on train 1 yesterday. S. W. Tomlinson, arrived from Ashwood, Ore., yesterday and will spend some time on his land at Mt. Hood. The boys began peddling strawberries at the trains yesterday. They have to take out a license of $3 a week or $5 a month, and three licenses were issued Monday. Dr. Gavry closed his office here and will go to Condon this week, where he will practice medicine. Dr. Gavry has made many friends during his short stay among us, and we regret to lose him. George Winchell, son of V. Winchell, of Pine Grove, was operated on Monday by Drs. Coffee and Shaw for appendicitis and a complication of septic peritonitis, is recovering. He also has an attack of the measles. L. E. Morse is attending the Grand Lodge at Portland this week as delegate from Hood River Encampment, I. O. O. F., and H. J. Hibbard, Ed Hayes and E. W. Udell are delegates from the subordinate lodge. F. C. Sherreth, Ralph Jarvis and Harry Hackett were called to The Dalles Tuesday as witnesses in a contest of the claim of the Culbros. The contestant withdrew the suit and paid the costs. S. E. Bartness filled an order for furniture for Portland parties this week, and has a couple of more orders in sight for the same city. This demonstrates pretty clearly that Hood River prices are lower than Portland. Mr. and Mrs. George Millard, of Portland, are visiting friends in Hood River. Mr. Millard is president of the Portland Cigar Co., and with his wife is spending his vacation viewing the beauties of the valley. Harry E. Phelps, state attorney at Britt, S. D., visited his friend, Dr. Jewett, of White Salmon, last week, and came over to Hood River Saturday. He will go as far as Los Angeles before his return. Mr. Phelps is looking for a location out in the western country. Miss Ida Evans, Miss Helen Deitz and Miss Zora Day were elected delegates to the Epworth League convention at Walla Walla this week. The two former left for Pendleton Monday where they will attend a conference in that city, and the latter went direct to Walla Walla Tuesday, where she will also visit friends before the convention meets. The delightful booklet, "Oregon, Washington and Idaho," issued by the passenger department of the O. & N., and the "Road of a Thousand Wonders," a description of the Southern Pacific lines from Portland to Los Angeles, are two excellent advertising publications issued by the Harriman system which have done an immense amount of good in making easterners acquainted with the true conditions in the west. Both are widely circulated and are excellent publications. The one great American play which will always linger in the memory and minds of the American people and is being witnessed by more people than any play ever written, is "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which was produced in all its entirety by a superior company numbering twenty-five artists, and assisted by the Alabama Jubilee Singers, a pack of Siberian bloodhounds and a band and orchestra tomorrow evening. A number of Madras people started Tuesday for the strawberry fields of Hood River on an outing tur and berry picking expedition. They expected to be away about six weeks. Included in the party were: J. T. Smith and family, W. J. Cowbird and family, Miss Maude Phillips and Mert on Mortmore, of Madras, I. V. Limbaugh and family, Mrs. F. E. Evans and children, H. L. Evans and Ray Stamp, of Opel prairie.—Pioneer. Gov. Chamberlain arrived on train 2 Tuesday and was met at the depot by the Democratic committee, and took a drive out through the valley in the afternoon. A fair crowd assembled at the opera house in the evening and listened to his campaign speech. S. F. Blythe was chairman of the meeting and made the opening speech, after which he introduced the governor. J. D. Matlock, candidate for state treasurer, came up on the evening train, but did not arrive in time to address the meeting.

KILLED ON TRESTLE BY LOCAL TRAIN

Monday afternoon the new local train struck Martin Knisch on the high trestle near the boat landing, knocking him off on to the ground thirty feet below, from the effect of which he died fifteen minutes later. The road makes a sharp curve just east of the trestle, where it rounds the high bluff, and the engineer saw a man on the trestle, as he rounded the curve. He was apparently sitting outside of the rail on the ties when seen, but the train could not be stopped, and he was struck with terrific force by the engine. The train was stopped and the injured man taken aboard. He was unconscious when picked up, and died shortly after reaching the station. He was carried into the baggage room and Dr. Watt summoned, who made a hasty examination, and concluded he was badly injured internally. No outside bruises were noticeable. A letter was found in his pocket addressed to "Mr. Martin Knisch, Vancouver, Wash.," from H. W. Harrison, at Montesano, Wash. A bill was also found for a small amount, addressed to the same name. No one around the station seemed to know him. He was apparently between fifty and sixty years old, and dressed as a laborer. Later it developed that he came up on the steamer Spencer with Jas. McKinney and family from Vancouver, Wash., to pick strawberries. The McKinney family were to wait on the bench while Mr. Knisch went up town to get something to eat. He started up the track and was caught on the trestle with the above result. Mr. Knisch sold a farm recently and had been making his home at the Sisters' Home at Vancouver, who were notified of his death and instructed Undertaker Nichols to forward the body to them for burial. He had $1,000 in the bank at Vancouver and no relatives in this part of the country that his friends were aware of. Mayor's Proclamation. In accordance with the provisions of a resolution unanimously adopted by Canby Post, G. A. R., authorizing the mayor of Hood River to request that all business houses be closed a day, May 31, 1906, I hereby respectfully request all the business men within the city limits to close their places of business from the hour of one o'clock p. m. to four o'clock p. m. on May 30, 1906, this being the fortieth anniversary of Memorial Day. Let us all unite in honoring the fallen heroes. A. S. BLOWERS, Mayor. Epworth League Anniversary. Sunday was the anniversary of the Epworth League, and anniversary services were held at the M. E. Church. There was also a public installation of officers, who are as follows: Miss Helen Deitz, pres.; Prof. Crouse, 1st vice-pres.; Ida Wright, 2d vice-pres.; Pearl Bradley, 3d vice-pres.; Ida Evans, 4th vice-pres.; Alva Day, sec.; Mrs. E. K. Bradley, treas. Scorpions at The Dalles. Scorpions are not a usual visitors to Hood River. In fact we do not remember of having heard of one honoring our residents with its presence until Jon Heroux showed us a bottled one this morning and said it had made its appearance in the bathroom of his sister's home on West Fourth street a few days ago. Across the street from Mrs. Gordon's is a rocky ledge and Mr. Scorpion probably ventured forth from his hiding place beneath these rocks only to get in a pickle, for he was swept into a dust pan and finally pickled in alcohol. He is about two and a half inches in length and is decidedly vicious looking.—Chronicle. If you need screen doors, window screens or meat safes, don't forget P. G. Coe., Carpentry. Phone 571.
