

CORRESPONDENCE.

UNDERWOOD.

What's the matter with our Underwood correspondent? We have not seen a word from Underwood for ever so long.

Strawberries is the most interesting topic of the day. In spite of the long cloudy spell there are considerable berries coming in as the day permits.

Mrs. John White, of Cascade, was visiting at the home of Isabel Underwood, and returned to Cascade on Monday's boat.

Mrs. Sarah Foster and her family of children arrived on Sunday from Tappan, Wash. They will camp on the farm of Kelley Dubois and pick berries, just for an outing.

Henry Weaver and wife went to Little White Salmon on Saturday to spend a week camping. Henry believes that he will haul a wagon load of game and fish home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cromwell were over from Chenoweth Saturday. We are proud to note that the Oregon State Grange is decided to meet in Hood River in 1907.

Mr. Fred Luthy expects his wife to come home by The Dallas City on Thursday. We will all be glad to greet Mrs. Luthy whose life has been pared for awhile longer.

Mr. Lother, the inspector for the Northern Pacific, was in Underwood on Tuesday. White Salmon river seems to be the most attractive for good fishing and erman as well as fishermen appear daily with their rods and baskets.

There will be a social dance at Smith's Hall on June 2, or Saturday night. The first of the season. Every effort will be made by the managers to make the affair a success.

Alfred Fuller is the new bartender for the St. Rest.

We are informed by good authority that soon there will be another telephone line built into Underwood.

We perhaps will all be glad to see a good telephone system, and the Skamania Operative Co. have distinguished themselves. We will be glad to have them come.

Mr. Willard, of Chenoweth, is in Underwood on Wednesday.

WHITE SALMON.

From the Enterprise. Charles L. Gregory departed for Seattle today, to attend the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, as a delegate from Good Will lodge of White Salmon.

R. A. Byrkkett, also left at the same time as a representative of Trout Lake lodge No. 219. Mr. Byrkkett is accompanied by Mrs. Byrkkett.

The concrete blocks are now being laid out in building of the White Salmon Valley Bank. The work is now going ahead rapidly and the building will soon be enclosed.

The concrete foundation for the Odd Fellows building is now being constructed and the framing of the timbers will begin next week. Nearly all the material is now on the ground for the construction of the building and no serious delays on that account are contemplated and it is expected that the building will be pushed forward rapidly to completion.

The addition to Welford & Co's store has been completed and now this enterprising firm occupy the upper floor as well as the lower part of it. Lauterbach's large building. This gives them plenty of room for the present, but the energy of this firm will not doubt cause them to expand until even this space will eventually be too small to hold their immense stock of goods.

The strawberry season is nearly over and it will go down in history as the poorest season we have ever had. The berries did not turn out so well as was anticipated at first though a small crop was anticipated all along.

The dance given by Otto Ebrak and Ed Jochimsen will be on Friday night, June 8, not May 8, as recorded in last week's Glacier. Remember June is in the I. O. O. F. Hall at Odell. Proceeds to go to help defray expenses of the base ball boys.

Pine Grove and Odell have organized a base ball club with Thomas Lacey, manager, James Wilson, captain. Arrangements are not completed, but plans are being made to make the organization a strong one and good games may be expected.

The ice cream social, given by the C. E. of Odell last Friday night, was well attended and a pleasant evening was had. We have not learned the amount in dollars, but the C. E. is better by reason of this social.

Strawberries and apple thinning make Odell a busy place. M. D. Odell had 29 crates of berries Saturday. Wm. Ebrak and Will Kemp had crews thinning last week.

We are sorry to hear that Lee Odell is in very poor health. Last week papers were drawn by which Frank Runocora and wife sold to Mrs. Crockett 29 acres, less the Mt. Hood R. R. right of way, together with some personal property. Consideration $6500.

Odell people are glad that Mrs. Crockett will remain here and all hope for her and hers, health and prosperity. We have not learned what are the plans of Mr. and Mrs. Runocora.

Andy Bentley has moved with his family to the east side of the river, where they are working on the Farmers' Irrigation ditch.

Rockford has just received a carload of fine hay, so now you can get all the hay you want.

W. Nichols is busy hauling wood to town, going twice every day. Willis a hustler.

George Camp has gone to work with his team in the logging camp at Green Point.

Ed Walls has been a busy man during the past week building fences and laying plaster on the walls at a house in town, which has been altered and fixed by J. B. Count, our Rockford district noted carpenter. Well, yes, J. B. is a pretty good sort of a fellow.

Rock has been split and hauled for the new Sherrieb house, which will make a very good cellar and walls for the foundation. Will have more to say later on.

Ralph and Lesley Sherrieb have been picking and hauling to town their berries, as I am informed, the boys have a patch of their own. Pretty good boys are Ralph and Lesley.

E. A. Watta has been handling the delivery team at the Rockford during the last week. Enoch is quite a crack man with a team, knows how to swing the whip and handle the lines. Say, is he English? Why, yes, and glad of it, and most Englishmen like good horses and surely Rockford has a good team.

Your correspondent was under the wrong impression as he published in last week's issue that Bishop Bell would preach in the U. B. church, when it should have been Bishop Castle.

D. Labby presented your correspondent with a very nice basket of strawberries, so that we enjoyed berries and cream for supper on Friday evening last.

The last few days have been good for the berries, so now they are rolling them in from the upper district.

Well, I am only a little dog and they call me Frisky. Now I must tell you of my trip to Portland last week. We started very early to meet the train and on its arrival they just gave me over to the baggage man and he just pulled me along and fastened me up in one corner of the baggage car. No Pullman for me, because I am only a dog. We passed along the old Columbia with its seething, foaming waters. After two hours ride we arrived at the city, where we met so many people such as I never saw before. The people looked at me as I passed along and said, "what a pretty dog." In due time we arrived at a large building they call the Exposition building, where a great many dogs came together, some from Spokane, some from British Columbia and some even from California, which seemed so tired and weary with their long journey, and the men pulled them along, but my master was more compassionate with me. They placed us in long rows of benches in separate cages. Some needed a drink of cold water, but they did not get it, as they were only dogs, and the new men did not understand dog language. Oh, my, there were lots of doggies of all sizes and descriptions. The large St. Bernard, the Great Dane and Russian wolf hounds looked down upon me with indignance. The bird and hunting dogs were there in plenty. There were lots of men and even ladies, who were versed in doggdom. The ladies came in with their little pet dogs and even had little blankets on them and sat by their little canine pets to solace and comfort them. My master was good to me, for he came to visit me, patted me, gave me a drink and a little dog biscuit, but oh, the noise! It was quite a strain upon my nerves. The howling and barking of so many dogs was something heard never to be forgotten. At two o'clock they had what they call judges to examine and judge upon our qualities, according to our class and breed, so they lead us out into a ring, and I being a Pointer and a good one, the judges soon passed upon me and handed out for me the blue ribbon, which was an indication that I was a first-class prize-winner. When the people said, "Oh, my, is not that a beauty," and my master was quite proud of me, was lead back to my stall and a blue card with the blue ribbon was tacked over me, which said, "first-class". Then the ladies and men came and patted me and said, "You are a beauty, and so admired me and even wished to buy me, but no, my master would not part with me. I must say that I did not wish to change hands. In the evening vast crowds of people came in to look at the dog world. Then they admitted me and patted me and said, "You are a very pretty dog; I wish you were mine," but my neighbor, who was not so fortunate as I, did not meet with the comments, and myself felt a little dignified at my exalted position. But I must close the letter, as it is now getting late and rest is needed. In a little while all is quiet and I lay down and slept and had pleasant dreams of my future dog life.

The sheep are coming from eastern Oregon over the hills and have already been caught on the reserve by the rangers. We think this would give warning to the many other bands, as they all know very well that sheep are not allowed on the reserve at all. Experience will teach and a dear lesson sometimes, too.

The reserve inspector came up Saturday by stage from Hood River to transact some business with the rangers.

Jesse Davidson went to town Saturday and returned home Sunday accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. Whitehead and little daughter. They returned home Monday morning in or

MOUNT HOOD.

Louis Burkhard went to Portland last Wednesday on business.

W. R. Davidson has been on the sick list since Thursday, but is able to be out and around a little once more.

George Cooper, who has been laid up with the measles for sometime, is in a bad condition, as he can only speak in a whisper. His many friends hope he will be all right in the near future.

The people of this section have started picking strawberries.

The people of this section are witnessing rains quite frequently these days.

Ayer's

Why is it that Ayer's Hair Vigor does so many remarkable things? Because it is a hair food. It feeds the hair, puts new life into it. The hair cannot keep from growing. And gradually all the dark, rich color of early life comes back to gray hair.

Hair Vigor

When I first used Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was about as gray as that of an old man, and as thick as I could wish. - Mrs. B. S. FLORENCE, Tappan, Ala.

Gray Hair

For to give Mrs. Whitehead, who is president of the Woman's Suffrage Club of Hood River, a chance to elect a man for the rights which we think the women should have. We hope before this goes to print that we will know our mothers, sisters and wives (those who have wives) will have the right we think they justly deserve.

Miss Lizzie Cooper was home over Sunday from Viento, where she is teaching school. She was accompanied by a lady friend from the same place.

GILMER. G. R. Tompkins, of the firm of Wickens & Tompkins, had his little finger cut off, while fixing the guides on the saw. The doctor thinks he can save the finger.

Ernest Busenshutt had to quit work on account of an attack of lagrippe. He was working in the mill.

Mr. Manley is down with the lagrippe. He is staying at Mr. Tilton's. Mrs. A. Armstrong has gone to Vancouver to visit her daughter, who is sick.

Fruit Growers Organize. An association of fruitgrowers will be formed in the vicinity of Granger, Washington, in the near future. It is the purpose to enlist many of the orchardists in that part of the Yakima valley and thereby formulate a system of packing and selling of their crops. This is the only successful way to realize a legitimate profit for such products of the farm no matter what they are and the sooner the farmers learn this and co-operate in such movements the better it will be for them.

Fine Awards on Cherries. The business men of Salem have arranged for a fine array of cups to be awarded for the best exhibits of cherries at the coming meeting of the State Horticultural Society at that city. The Oregon Nursery Co. has given $25 towards the fund for cups and J. R. Shephard $10. H. S. Gile & Co. offer a $10 cup for best display of Lambert cherries; the Capital Commission Co., a $10 cup for best display of Bing cherries; and the Pacific Limeseeds Co., a $10 cup for best display of Royal Ann cherries. There will also be second prizes on each of the above and cups for the best and second best displays of named varieties and for the best display of seedlings. As arrangements are not fully completed there may be prizes in addition to those. The fruit growers should respond by making such a display of cherries as has never before been seen in Oregon.

How to Break up a Cold. It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days' time. The first symptoms of a cold are a dry, loud cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose, a thin, white coating on the tongue. When Chamberlain's cough remedy is taken every hour on the first appearance of these symptoms, it counteracts the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. For sale by Kier and Cass.

Advertising Hood River. The present strawberry season has proven to be a bad one for the pickers for the reason that the cool and weather has retarded the ripening of the berries. To young men from Grass Valley were met near Nansene one day last week, when the following conversation was had: "Hello, where are you bound?" "For Grass Valley." "Been to Hood River?" "Yes." "How did you make it?" "Made four bits a day; one day made 30 cents. A man had better get a tin bill and pick with the chicken than to go berry picking with the hope of making anything."
