

HOOD RIVER GLACIER

Plan to celebrate the Fourth with the Grangers at Winans.

Nearly all the cities and towns in Oregon will celebrate the Glorious Fourth this year.

Hood River can make a wonderful showing this year at the biennial fruit fair, if indications at the present time count for anything, and arrangements should be made to have a fair that will surpass all previous efforts.

Hood River will entertain the Oregon Irrigation Association at its annual meeting this fall, and if possible the time of their meeting will be during the fruit fair. To arrange dates and make arrangements for both events, President Smith has called a meeting for Saturday afternoon in the Commercial rooms. There should be a good attendance of the business men and farmers.

Hood River is a mighty good town, the Hood River people are really the people, and we are sorry that they wish to set up in the county business on their own hook. Why, we can't simply afford to lose them. We love them too much to see them set up an expensive county organization of their own, while we of the Dalles are ready to govern them—and willing, too—"free gratis for nothing"—or almost. And "Hood River, Wasco county" stands for something—the best—while "Hood River, Sonoma county" would not mean anything.

And, further, there is E. L. Smith; can we afford to lose him from Wasco county? Not on your life—Optimist.

For the information of the Optimist, whose editor is not so well posted in Wasco county politics as he will be, we will say that there are good and sufficient reasons why Hood River wants to run her own affairs.

We admit that The Dalles cannot afford to lose us because they need the money. They cannot afford to allow Hood River proper representation in the government of county affairs, because it would not be so easy to control things. At the present rate of development in Hood River valley, it will not be long before Hood River will be paying the bulk of the county taxes. The Dalles needs the bulk of this money spent at home. Hood River would like to have the use, occasionally, of that rock crusher which they helped to pay for, but The Dalles needs it to fix up her own streets, and besides it cannot be taken over the roads to Hood River anyway. They are willing to "govern us free gratis for nothing" so long as there is an ever increasing amount of the money coming from Hood River which can be controlled by The Dalles. The Dalles even want Hon. E. L. Smith, widely known all over the state as "Hood River Smith"—is there any end to their want?

Special School Election.
A special school election of District No. 4 will be held at the Barrett school house, in Hood River Valley, July 2, 1906, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., to vote on the question of authorizing the board of directors of said district to borrow $1,800 on or before five years' time, for the purpose of buying ground and building a school house in the eastern part of said district.

C. L. COPPLE, Chmn. Board of Directors.

Looking For Election Frauds.
The Dalles Tuesday and Wednesday with District Attorney Menefee, on a hunt for evidence of election frauds. Mr. Menefee was non-committal on the subject of his visit, but said that there were, in his opinion, several irregularities in the voting in the east precinct, in the sworn-in voters. He also said that he thought the election board should have been more particular in allowing many of the sworn-in voters to be cast, as the result of the voter in many cases was very indefinite.

Killed by a Falling Tree.
Little Joe Lytle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lytle, was killed in the woods near Mill A, on the Washington side, Tuesday morning at about 10 o'clock. He was 10 years old.

During the heavy wind that prevailed Tuesday, Joe Lytle, Lester Sayer and Irvin Miller were playing in the timber, when a tree blow down, killing young Lytle instantly and severely injuring Irvin Miller. Lester Sayer escaped injury. A teamster that was passing narrowly escaped being hurt and witnessed the accident. The lads were quickly brought to the house and medical aid summoned for the injured ones, but the little boy was past help. S. E. Bartness sent a coffin over to the place Tuesday evening.

The Paris Fair

The installation of an electrical sign at the Paris Fair corner is a fine improvement to their new quarters.

It reaches from the corner of the building to the electric light pole on the corner, coming diagonally across the street, so that it can be seen from four different directions. It is lighted by incandescent globes, and while making a fine display, lights the corner quite brilliantly.

The completion of the cement walk partly on Fourth street, makes a fine sidewalk for the corner, and a substantial. The balance of the distance up Fourth street is being filled in, and when the dirt settles so that it is permanent, the cement walk will be continued the full length of the building.

A new freight elevator has also been installed in the Paris Fair store, running from the basement to the second floor.

A roomy basement, access to which is had from the sidewalk on the outside, to take in boxes, fuel, etc., will allow the unpacking of goods and the storing away of boxes out of sight and out of the way of the sales-rooms, and it will be an easy way of transporting goods to the various departments.

Each floor is 50x100 feet, besides a balcony on the first floor 10x50 feet. All of the floor space is filled with goods, neatly arranged. They are well lighted and present.

On the main floor is the general dry goods department, shoe department, clothing and notions. On the upper floor is the ladies' ready-made garments, fitting rooms, and a waiting room, provided with tables, chairs and recliners, where shoppers may rest. This room can also be reached from the rear entrance on Fourth street.

The balcony at the rear end of the first floor is used for the general office in one end and tinware at the other end. A system of cash carriers centers at the desk in the office, and from this point nearly every part of the main floor can be seen.

Death of Walter H. Wood.
Walter H. Wood, brother of J. M. and L. W. Wood, died in this city Monday morning at 5:15, of stomach trouble, aged 35 years.

The deceased had been a sufferer for two or three years and spent last winter in California, but gradually grew worse. About a month ago he came to Hood River, and lived in a tent near the residence of his brother, hoping that the open-air treatment would benefit him. For a short time he felt better, but the benefit was only temporary, and he gradually failed until death ended his sufferings Monday morning.

He leaves a wife and one child, besides a mother, five brothers and one sister, to mourn his loss. The three brothers from Vancouver came up last week to see him, but left Saturday, and were not present when he died. The remains were shipped to Vancouver Monday afternoon on the Spencer by J. E. Nichols, and the funeral held at Vancouver Tuesday.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Lapman, of the Second Baptist church, Portland, of which the deceased was a member. The floral offerings were very beautiful and entirely covered the casket. The burial was held at Vancouver cemetery.

The deceased was a contractor and builder and had lived in Vancouver since 1882.

Anders-Lafferty.
Another June wedding was solemnized on the 24th when Edwin Anders and Edythe Lafferty were united in marriage at the home of the bride's father at Odell, Rev. W. C. Gilmore performing the service.

Miss Edythe is the daughter of Geo. W. Lafferty and recently graduated from the Idaho Industrial Institute at Weiser.

Mr. Anders is from the University of Illinois and has been an instructor at the state institute of Idaho. After a few weeks spent in the valley, Prof. and Mrs. Anders will return to their work.

First Child Born at the Mill City.
On Tuesday occurred an important event in the history of the new town that is making such strides in the upper country. When Dee has become a great city twenty-five or fifty years hence, the young lady that arrived at the home of Dudley Beamer on June 25, will be pointed out as the first child born in the city limits, when the place was but a tented village. May she live long and prosper.
