

CORRESPONDENCE.

WHITE SALMON.

The new church organ has arrived and is installed in the church. Let every body turn out to church Sunday and here the new organ.

Word has been received that Royal Lafere, who has been hauling boxes to town for the Kedenberg & Sellinger mill company, of Trout Lake, was thrown from his wagon and run over yesterday. The report states that he was severely, perhaps fatally injured.

The new concrete building of the White Salmon Bank is about completed and will be occupied by the bank this week if the furniture arrives in time. It is a very neat and substantial building and adds much to the looks of our town.

Mr. Colburn's new hotel is nearing completion and its proprietor hopes to occupy it by the 15th of July. It is a fine building and very pretty and conveniently located, and we feel that Mr. Colburn will do a good business there.

The wedding of Mr. Randolph Frank and Miss Erva Gunning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Gunning, of White Salmon, was solemnized yesterday at 1 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jones on Fulton street, Rev. D. V. Poling of the Congregational church, officiating, with Mr. Charles Frank, a brother of the groom, and Miss Betty Keller as best man and bridesmaid.

Mrs. H. C. Grosser is quite ill with something very similar to poison oak. Chris. Dethman had the misfortune to lose two milk cows last week from poisoning. About this time last year he lost two from the same cause.

Ben H. Lage is building on his five acres just across from the school house. The dwelling when complete will be 34x31 with a basement, four rooms down stairs, closets, pantry and bath room, and three rooms up stairs, with ample closet room. It will be one of the neatest little houses in the neighborhood. A barn and other improvements will be added in the spring.

At the last annual school meeting the voters of the district elected the following board: Ben Lage, clerk; J. O. Mark, for one year; Mr. Hill, for two years; Ed Hawkes, for three years. The new board have received a number of applications but have accepted no teachers as yet, although they expect to shortly.

In Wilsonville, Ore., Wednesday, June 27, the wedding bells were ringing merrily, so merrily in fact that we in Pine Grove caught a faint echo of them and were therefore not surprised when Mrs. Drageeth came home bringing with her a fair bride, formerly Miss Anna Wagner. They were married at her home in the presence of the family and came directly to Pine Grove where the groom has a home. About fifteen of their friends gathered there Wednesday evening to surprise them. The house was darkened and when Mrs. Drageeth opened the door, a shower of rice, a flash of light and a chorus of merry voices bid her welcome to her new home. Ice cream and cake were served and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The community unite in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Drageeth as happily a life as ever falls to the lot of mortals.

John Jackson lost a yearling calf last week from spray poison.

No. 1 reporter so the writer will not infringe further for a full account will be found elsewhere in these pages.

Among the other arrivals Sunday a tiny girl strayed into the neighborhood and finding the house of John Jackson childless, wisely decided to remain there. That is the reason that J. B. is wearing a smile that will not rub off. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Sunday as J. E. Clarke was sitting in church listening to the soothing words of the gospel, his horse broke loose and started for home at a fairly good gait for a farm horse. James Davis stopped him in front of his house and delivered him and the damaged rig to the owner.

There has been no call yet for the circular shawl which was left at the Pine Grove store two weeks ago.

Sunday was the hottest day of the summer so far. It registered 102 in the shade at the Pine Grove store.

Week before last in company with Miss Naomi Hoyed of Odell, the writer took a drive into the Klickitat country. Driving to The Dalles and crossing the mighty Columbia that place, we journeyed northward to that section of the country known as "High Prairie." Just where the prairie was located, we could not determine until one of the inhabitants kindly volunteered the information that they called anything in that country a prairie. "Life in the story we said "Oh!" and went on our way wiser people. We were compelled to stop over one day on account of the wind. When it isn't blowing a gale up there a tornado is on hand so between the two, "prairie" life is a strenuous life. Leaving the prairie the drive down an easy, shady grade into the Klickitat valley is a pleasant one. The valley presents a pretty sight now with its waving fields of wheat which, in spite of the freeze in the spring, are making a fine appearance. Altogether the trip was an enjoyable one, although the horses were so unconsiderate as to lay down and die while we were fourteen miles from any where. But "where there's a will, there's a way" and after an absence of eight days we heard the "welcome home" sounded. During the trip we acquired a good coat of tan, several layers of dirt and a tremendous appetite. The first two articles named we are willing to dispose of at a reasonable price but the latter, we will try to keep.

Carl Mohr had the misfortune to sprain his arm Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Eccles and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Emmett spent several days in Portland last week.

E. H. Shepard Re-elected Manager. At a meeting of the directors of the Hood River Apple Growers Union Saturday, E. H. Shepard was re-elected manager for the coming season. The appointment is made this year a couple of months in advance of last year, so as to be ready for business. There is considerable preliminary work to be done early, such as ordering paper, boxes, etc., and also to get ready for handling the summer apples.

By request of Pres. Smith, of the Fruit Fair Association, the board selected October 11, 12 and 13 as the date of holding the biennial fruit fair in Hood River. While a date in the full moon would be preferable to the farmers, yet the first of October, when the moon is in full, was thought to be too early to get the best display of fruit and the last of the month, the date of the next full moon, was getting too close to the rainy season to be a safe date.

Oregon Cherries Valuable in Virginia. J. T. Allen, a young Oregonian who was connected with the Lewis and Clark exposition last year, is now employed by the publicity department of the Jamestown exposition. In a recent letter to Jefferson Myers of Portland he told of the progress of the eastern fair and what Oregon will do if this state enters with an exhibit.

He also told of the prices of Oregon fruit in Virginia. He recently saw some Oregon cherries in Norfolk which were selling at 40 cents a pound. They are much better and finer than eastern cherries, he said. "You may tell any and all Oregonians," he said, "that an exhibit from Oregon will surely climb into first place among the exhibits at this exposition."

The ball game, Mt. Hood vs. Odell, was a strong game and resulted in a score of 4 to 3 in favor of Odell. It is said our boys did exceedingly well.

We would be pleased to give each deserving one special mention, but owing from reports, each one would be mentioned, so we speak in a general way.
