

HOOD RIVER GLACIER

THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1906.

Lawyers are already whetting up their appetites in anticipation of a contest of the heirs of Russell Sage for a division of his millions. A contest was in prospect before the dead millionaire was buried.

In Gervais crude oil is put on the pump by use of a hand force pump and a hose, and at a cost of a dollar per hundred feet of superficial area. Crude petroleum with an asphalt base is used, and it gives excellent results, and the people of that town recognize its value.

While the government reports that it has evidence enough against the Standard Oil to put its officers behind the bars, John D. Rockefeller is abroad, trying to spend an income of four million a month. The main question that interests the common people, however, is the price of oil. Did anybody hear it drop?

The czar precipitated a revolution when he dissolved parliament, but there is little chance of the starved, illiterate, cowed peasantry holding out for any length of time against the army. There will be a brief period of butchery by the soldiers, and the common Russian people will again bow their heads to the yoke of oppression.

A decision of the supreme court rendered Tuesday declares that the tax exemption law is unconstitutional, whereby $300 is exempt on household goods from taxes. This will affect $6,000,000 worth of property in the state. The law has been on the statute books since 1854 and the people have generally recognized the exemption as valid.

We have been informed by a committee of the Pine Grove and Princeton Granges that both have declared by vote that no war was intended or taken as such by the grangers at the reading of the parody on the Declaration of Independence at Winona on the fourth of July. Our version of the affair was obtained from several who made vigorous objections and not from personal knowledge. We are glad to know that no offense was meant or taken by the large majority present, and stand corrected.

Clean up your yards, both front and back. Cut down the weeds and thistles in the street, as required to do by law. It will take but an hour or two for each one to clean up his own premises, and the result will be appreciated by yourself and your neighbors, and give a better impression of the town to the stranger within our gates. During this hot weather any kind of garbage is a very hotbed of disease germs, and it should be raked up and burned. Your nose will notify you if your eyes won't. Typhoid is ever present in garbage piles. To be sure, the hot weather is enervating and the average citizen wants to go fishing while it lasts, but just think of the doctor's bill you are warding off by a little exertion.

Better Fruit.
The first number of "Better Fruit" has reached our table, published by the Better Fruit Publishing Co., under the direct management of E. H. Shepard and E. A. Franz. It is all that was promised in the way of a meritorious publication. It is typographically perfect, as well printed as any of the eastern fine art magazines, and contains matter of value to the fruit grower, and interesting as well to those not actively engaged in fruit culture. The first page contains a fine picture of a strawberry field, printed in black and green, the foliage of the plants and the background of pine and fir trees looking very realistic. New cuts are scattered throughout the pages, while the various articles in the number are worth a year's subscription. The first issue is 7,000 copies, which will be mailed to all parts of the country, and will result in bringing in many new subscribers to add to the already large list that was secured before the first issue was printed.

Stockholders Meeting.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hood River Milling Co., for the election of three directors and the transaction of any other business that may come before the meeting, will be held at their office in Hood River, Saturday, July 28, 1906, at 2 p. m.

"Indeed, yes. I have a life-insurance policy."—August Lippincott's.

Will Load Ships Near Deep Water.

The Oregonian says that the activity of the Northern Pacific surveyors and the right-of-way agents from Kelso to the mouth of the Columbia gives rise to the belief that Hill intends to carry wheat from the Palouse fields to a point opposite Astoria and there load the grain on ships, using the empty cars to carry shingles from southwestern Washington points to the coast. By loading the ships nearer to the sea, Hill expects to cut out towage pilots, and economize in other directions. Such a move on the part of Hill may involve a contest between Harriman and Hill for control of the Astoria & Columbia River railroad.

If Hill's scheme turns out as predicted, it may be necessary for the Harriman interests to follow the same policy on the Oregon shore that Hill will pursue on the Washington side of the river. It is believed that Hill has an option on the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad and there are indications that Harriman is attempting a secure control of the road.

The fact that A. E. Hammond of the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad will arrive in Portland next week is believed to have some bearing on these rumors.

Revolution in Russia.
St. Petersburg, July 25.—The revolution is under way—wholesale arrests, butchery of peasants and masses of Jews are ushering in a period of bloodshed and riot in Russia in which the torch of incendiarism and the hurrying of bombs will be the reply of the people to the tyranny and oppression of military rule.

The czar is to resign his powers to a dictator, Trepoff. Stolypin and others were in conference with the emperor in regard to the dictatorship this morning. The plan is to remove the czar from control because he shows weakness and vacillation when strength, initiative and nerve are necessary.

Insurance Company Fails.
San Francisco, July 25.—The Fireman's Insurance company, the oldest and strongest insurance concern on the Pacific coast, finds itself unable to meet its obligations on account of the earthquake and fire losses and will go into liquidation. The directors have requested the appointment of an advisory committee, to which the policy-holders' league consented.

Railroad Fight in Seattle.
Seattle, Wash., July 25.—Harriman has taken his fight to secure depot grounds in this city into court. Contention proceedings were begun today by the Oregon & Washington, the subsidiary corporation that will build the Portland-Seattle extension of the Union Pacific system, against the Northern Pacific ground, and to do away with the stub end of the shore line of the Hill road. President Hill, of the Great Northern, made a speech before the corporations committee of the city council last night, in which he called attention to this stub track, and declared that his road would resist any grade crossing.

Great Northern Will Build South.
Tacoma, Wash., July 25.—It is authoritative announced here that the Great Northern railroad will build into Tacoma within another year and construct depots, warehouses and docks. A union depot to be used by both the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern will be built. The road is now arranging for terminal property in Tacoma. It is believed by railroad men here that when it starts to build south from Seattle, it will not stop short of Portland.

Russell Sage Dead.
Russell Sage, the well-known New York financier, died at his country home, Cedarcroft, at Lawrence, L. I., at 4:30 o'clock Sunday evening. The cause of death was heart failure, resulting from a complication of diseases incident to old age.

Lecture Course.
The ladies of the Congregational church are making arrangements for a lecture course for next fall and winter. The dates to be announced later. Among the attractions already secured are the Midland Opera Quartette, Royal Male Quartette, Mrs. Wm. Calvin Chilton, monodramatist, Thos. McClary, lecturer, and Marshall Choate Crouch, lecturer.

Accident to Spencer.
Coming up the river just this side of Bonneville, the steamer Spencer met with a slight accident in the breaking of her pump, which forbade further progress and she turned about and returned to Portland after transferring her passengers to the Dallas City, which brought them on to their destination. Repairs were made and she made her regular trip Monday.

Must Be Good.
The famous Hood River strawberry growers have met their equal—and that is Bend last Sunday "Dad" West presented the Bulletin with a quart of sweet grown strawberries that for size, color and flavor can not be excelled anywhere. Whenever strawberry plants have been set out by Bend people, the owners report a fine growth and good yield for young plants.—Bulletin.

Notice.
To fruit growers and dealers.—I find that there is fruit offered for sale in Hood River that is infected with both San Jose scale and worms. I wish to give notice that hereafter all such fruit will be condemned and destroyed and it will not stop the offering of it for sale, action will be taken according to law, as it is unlawful and punishable by a fine of not less than $25 or more than $100.

Facts Worth Knowing.
Our little daughter Gladys, suffered for some time for causes unknown to us until we had to keep her out of school. We finally took her to our physician who recommended nerve treatment of the eyes. So we took her to Dr. W. F. Laraway and had glasses fitted. Since that time she has no slight attack and now we consider her perfectly well.
