WANT MORE CREAM FROM HOOD RIVER

A representative of the Glacier recently called at the celebrated Hazelwood creamery in Portland, at the corner of Third and Oak streets. The establishment is a landmark in that city and probably no place of business is better known there than it is. One of the first and most impressive things that greets the eye of the visitor is the scrupulous cleanliness of the establishment from top to toe. The huge machinery, vats, cans and all other appliances for the manufacture of the products turned out by the Hazelwood company, exhibit a spotlessness that would be the envy of a Swiss housewife and the despair of the ordinary one. The creamery is at present doing an immense business and the courteous manager of the concern, who escorted the newspaper representative over the plant, remarked in this connection: "We have heard of Hood River, and also of the fine strawberries they grow there. But what are strawberries without fine rich cream? Cream is the finishing touch to strawberries that makes them a dish fit for the palates of epicures. While you have plenty of strawberries, we don't have enough cream. The rancher in Hood River valley should produce more cream, so we could even things up. The demand for our products is far in excess of the supply of milk and cream which we are able to obtain. Dairying is one of the most profitable business ventures in which the rancher can engage and the establishment of a number of creameries in your valley would provide no inconsiderable income at all seasons of the year. Particularly during the summer months when there is little or no income there from other sources except the strawberries in the late spring. We have been preaching creameries for a long time and when the ranchers will investigate the matter they will find that there is a sale for every dollar's worth of their dairy products at figures that insure a profitable and steady income. I know, of course, that the Hood River valley is a fruit country, but still there are many ranches where a good dairy could be kept and which would support the operation of a creamery. I should think that the new railroad which has been built up the valley would also help in the matter. By building a creamery along the line of the road, dairy products would be only a few hours away from a ready market. Give us plenty of apples and strawberries, but give us plenty of cream also. That is what we need."

UNDERWOOD.

Our merchant received a shipment of watermelons Saturday.
E. C. Goddard and family returned home Monday.
Miss Maud Fuller passed through Underwood on a visit to Hood River.
One of P. Sather's horses had the pupil of its eye broken Friday in some unaccountable way.
The new piling camp in the Norway district is running with good force of men.
Mrs. Cromwell has been moved to the home of her mother, but is yet very weak from the operation.
Mrs. Luthy returned home Saturday from a few days' visit in Portland, accompanied by her aunt and niece.
Mr. and Mrs. Kopp became reconciled and settled their case out of court, and will reside on their homestead for the future.
Roland Cash celebrated his ninth birthday on the 24th (Tuesday) with plenty of ice cream for himself and friends.
The Sisters of Charity were visiting the railroad camps Thursday, seeking help from the members of their faith.
Mr. Smith, of Smith & Clark's store, made a business trip to Portland Thursday.
The Cottage hotel affords a new piano.
Mr. Cash and Michael Thornton shipped peach plums last week.
Mr. Cash made a business trip to Stevenson Monday.
Mr. Kollock came over Monday from White Salmon to sign up contracts as teacher of our school. Mr. Kollock is to receive $50 per month, the largest salary paid any teacher in the county for a ninth grade school.
Miss Dukes, a teacher in the Salt Lake schools, arrived Monday to spend her vacation with her friend, Miss Jessie Goddard, at Acorn Lodge.
A. J. Haynes is building wood shed onto the saloon building for Amos Underwood this week.
Several fine pianos just in from the factory at Seale's Piano House. Call and see them.

MOSIER

After a two month's sojourn in Victoria, Mrs. Rosella Jones, has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Root.
Mrs. Walter McGregor and daughter, of Victoria, B. C., are visiting relatives and friends in Mosier.
Having spent a two weeks' vacation with her mother, Mrs. M. Davenport, Miss Alice Davenport returned last week to Portland.
George Chamberlain made a business trip to Portland Saturday last.
Mrs. E. P. Taylor and daughter, Miss Lois, were the guests of Mrs. Taylor's sister, Miss D. Mosier on Saturday and Sunday.
J. N. Denny, of the Mosier box factory, is building a neat addition to his residence.
Mr. Gordon, who has purchased a tract of land from Jerold Wyes, is having a neat cottage erected upon the land, and expects to open up a comfortable home.
Mrs. E. U. Phillips was a passenger on Saturday's afternoon train for Portland.
Dr. Macrum, of Portland, is spending a week's vacation on his fruit farm.
General Freight Agent Coman and family, of Portland, spent Sunday in Mosier, the guests of Dr. Macrum.
Mrs. Robinson and daughters, of Portland, are in Mosier to spend the summer with Mrs. Robinson's mother, Mrs. M. Davenport.
J. T. Browers has sold his interest in the Brower & Morton fruit farm to his partner, Mr. Morton.
Messrs. Chamberlain and Bennett, accompanied by several other gentlemen, constituted a party bound for Lost Lake last week. The equipment consisted of plenty of food, abundant fishing tackle and ammunition sufficient to divert Hood River mountaineers to its game for some time to come.
Allen Wright has disposed of his farm to a Mr. McCarthy, for $8,000.
Misses Katherine and Gertrude Davenport left for Hood River on Monday, at which place they will join a camping party for Lost Lake.
A. P. Bateman was a passenger on Saturday's train for Hood River.
C. D. Morgan has resigned the management of the farm formerly owned by Allen Wright, and has moved to his home near town. The Evans will assume the management of the farm under the new proprietorship.
Miss Nora Hunter is filling the vacancy made by the absence from duty of Charles Bennett in the Alex Stewart's general merchandise store.
Mrs. E. U. Phillips, Miss Golovson and Miss Mosier were entertained at dinner in the beautiful new home of J. W. Wiedrick on Friday of last week. The geniality of host and hostess, with the aid of their accomplished daughters, in entertaining, rendered the occasion a pleasant one, indeed.

Miss Zoe Gunning was tendered a pleasant surprise on Friday evening by Miss Gertrude Davenport, whom she has been visiting. The evening was delightfully spent, after which delicious refreshments were served.

CRAPPER.

A party including Messrs. Joe Hall, John Lindsey and Carl Jantzen, and Misses Susie Kelley, Freida and Emma Proge, and A. nes and Margie Jantzen, returned from a trip to Mt. Hood on Tuesday of last week. They had a jolly good time, but did not report any bears killed, or fish caught.
Roy Kelley and James Wickham left for Trout Lake on Monday for a few days' outing at that place.
Frank Parker was bailing buy in this neighborhood last week.
Rev. Barnes, rector of the Episcopal church at Hood River, preached at the school house on last Sunday evening.
S. Johnson is building a commodious barn on his ranch.
Fire broke out in West Crapper a few days ago, but it was put out before it did any considerable damage.
Work on the addition to the school house is progressing rapidly. When it comes to carpenter work Jordan & Huzak are star performers, and Charles Reed is also worthy of "honorable mention."
Last fall a gentleman from another part of the valley bought a piece of land near the school house that was partly set in strawberry plants and being a hustling hooster, he worked it for all that he could make on it. In due time he ordered 50 crates, and after getting them home he told one of his neighbors how many he had or cared, with a remark that he had probably too many and would not need all of them. The neighbors reply was, "you are not used to Crapper, you will need all of that number and then some." When his 50 crates were filled he found out that he had only fairly commenced picking. And like Oliver Twist, he continued calling for "more" and at the end of the season he found that instead of 50 crates, he had filled and shipped 150 crates. While talking the matter over with ya scribe he smote his hand on his forehead and said he liked to be fooled in that way.
Prof. Tyler, of Amherst college, and recently: "A man can live comfortably without brains: no man ever existed without a digestive system. The dyspeptic has neither faith, hope or charity." Day by day people realize the importance of caring for their digestion, realize the need of the use of a little corrective after overeating. A corrective like Kodol For Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat. Sold by Williams' Pharmacy.
