Weather For July. D. N. Byerlee, local weather observer, reports the weather for July as follows: The weather for July has been phenomenal, both as to temperature and precipitation. Never has the temperature reached the figures shown for July 3d, 105 degrees or that of the 12th of 105 1/2 degrees, since the records have been kept. In only two years has there been a total blank in the precipitation column of the record of July, to wit: 1887 and 1900. The normal precipitation for July is .20 of an inch, which puts us that much below normal.

Temperature is exceptionally high for the month. The mean temperature since the records have been kept is 95 degrees and the highest point reached by the mercury is 103 degrees, which was on August 15, 1901, while this year the mean temperature for the month was 87 1/2 degrees and the maximum temperature was 106 degrees. One feature that is particularly noticeable is the high night temperature. There were 22 nights during the month when the minimum was over 60 degrees, and at no time has the temperature fallen below 50 degrees. The winds have been from the west 26 days, from the east 5 days. On the 16th there was a very high west wind and from the 19th to the 28th inclusive there was a strong west wind every day. There was distant thunder, apparently in the neighborhood of Mt. Hood on the 12th and 14th. There were 27 clear days and four partly cloudy.

Packs Worth Knowing. Our little daughter Gladys, suffered for some time for causes unknown to us until we had to keep her out of school. We finally took her to our physician who recommended nerve treatment of the eyes. So we took her to Dr. W. P. Laraway and had glasses fitted. Soon after she had one slight attack and now we consider her perfectly well.

Habit-forming Medicines. Whatever may be the fact as to many of the so-called patent medicines containing injurious ingredients as broadly published in some journals of more or less influence, this publicity has certainly been of great benefit in arousing needed attention to this subject. It has, in a considerable measure, resulted in the most intelligent people avoiding such foods and medicines as may be fairly suspected of containing the injurious ingredients complained of. Recognizing this fact some time ago, Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., "took time by the forelock," as it were, and published broadcast all the ingredients of which his popular medicine is composed. Thus he has completely forestalled all harping critics and all opposition that might otherwise be urged against his medicines, because they are now of known composition. Furthermore, from the formula printed on every bottle wrapper, it will be seen that these medicines contain no alcohol or other habit-forming drugs. Neither do they contain any narcotics or injurious agents, their ingredients being purely vegetable, extracted from the roots of medicinal plants found growing in the depths of our American forests and of well recognized curative virtues.

Instead of alcohol, which even in small portions long continued, as in obstinate cases of disease, becomes highly objectionable from its tendency to produce a craving for stimulants, Dr. Pierce employs chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine, which of itself is a valuable remedy in many cases of chronic diseases, being a superior demulcent, antiseptic, and softening and supporting nutritive. It enhances the curative action of the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark and Bloodroot, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery." In all bronchial, throat and lung affections attended with severe coughs. As will be seen from the writings of the eminent Dr. J. C. Grover, of New York; Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, Phila.; Scudder, of Cincinnati; Ellingwood, of Chicago; Hale, of Chicago, and others, who stand as leaders in their several schools of practice, the foregoing agents are the very best ingredients that Dr. Pierce could have chosen to make up his famous "Discovery" for the cure of not only bronchial, throat, and lung troubles, but also of chronic cases in all its various forms wherever located.
