Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dickford, of Portland. Miss Ortha Walters left this morning on the early passenger train for Hood River, expecting to join her mother and Mr. Charles McIntosh in camp near Hood River. Later she will accompany her mother to her homestead, farther up the valley.—Chronicle. Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Thomas, accompanied by their daughters, Evah and Izett, left Hood River Tuesday for an extended trip east. They will be absent three months and will visit with relatives and friends at various places in the middle western states, but expect to spend most of the time during their absence at Rockford, Ill. Arthur Cole, formerly employed by the Davidson Fruit company and a resident of Hood River for some time, but now located in Portland, was a visitor here between trains last Tuesday. Mr. Cole was accompanied by a friend and both were on their way to Wisconsin. Their stop here was limited to the time between the local and No. 2 and was spent by Mr. Cole in visiting friends and acquaintances. Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins, who with their children and Mrs. Jenkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Odell, of The Dalles, have been camping on the Little White Salmon for some time, returned from there Tuesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Odell went to their home at The Dalles. Dr. Jenkins says that there have been so many people camping on the Little White Salmon this season that many who went there with the intention of finding good fishing were disappointed. He says that he has been informed that there have been at least 300 campers there in a short time and that there was a camp near the one occupied by his party that contained 40 people. Being more fortunate than other fishermen and knowing the stream well, he was more successful than many of the would-be anglers and made good catches. He brought home one trout measuring 14 inches and says his largest fish measured 15.

Dr. Watt went to Mosier Tuesday in connection with his interests there. Capt. Coe, was a visitor in Portland for several days this week. Jos. A. Wilson who has been at Portland for a week, where he has been under the care of a physician, resumed Sunday, feeling somewhat better. Miss Lizzie Elder is at present on a vacation trip which will include Moro and other places in eastern Oregon. Miss Elder left Monday and will be gone some time. The lecture to be given in the Unitarian church next Sunday evening at 8 p. m. will be on the topic, "Pessimist or Optimist—Which?" "Every body will be made welcome. N. B. Mr. Borden was offering inducements to subscribers in the shape of some handsome colored pictures. Mrs. J. C. McGrath, a well known resident of the Belmont section, left here Tuesday for Portland where she will take the Southern Pacific for New Orleans. Mrs. McGrath will be absent several weeks and expects to visit other eastern and southern cities while away. The contract for the new addition to the building of the Hood River Milling company was let Monday to Fredericks & Arnold. The new building will add about 12,000 feet of floor space to the Milling company's building. The contract specifies that work must be commenced immediately. F. C. Sherrieb went to The Dalles Monday to complete the sale of the Water Supply company to the Hood River Irrigation District, and draw a check on the same. After a meeting of the stockholders to take steps to dissolve the corporation, said company will be out of existence. A bonfire and ice cream social will be given by the patrons of the Barrett school district tomorrow evening. The affair will take place on the site of the East Barrett district school house and will last from 8 to 10:30 p. m. Everybody is invited to attend and enjoy the evening. The corn roasting will be the feature of the evening. The proceeds will be used to purchase an organ for the new school house. G. H. Robbins and C. D. Thompson have formed a partnership to conduct the nursery business under the firm name of Robbins & Thompson, with headquarters in the Barrett district. They will make a specialty of Hood River grown nursery stock, which they already have growing at Barrett and Willow Flat. Mr. Thompson has had considerable experience in the nursery business and Mr. Robbins is an old nurseryman, having been engaged in the business in the Willamette valley before coming to Hood River. Prof. Chas. A. Barry, member of the faculty of Washington state college, located at Pullman, was a visitor at Hood River several days this week. Mr. Barry is at the head of the German and French department of the Dalles. He is well known as a teacher of languages in the Pacific Northwest. He was enroute to Gearhart for an outing and stopped off at Hood River for a tour of the valley which he made Sunday, leaving for the coast the next day. In reply to a question, Mr. G. D. Woodworth, of Hood River, says he has never shipped the Royal Ann to London, New York, other far Eastern cities, or to Mexico, and did not think they would ship as well as the dark varieties; every touch, no matter how slight, seems to show on the surface of the Royal Ann, which would, of course, detract from the appearance of a box of fruit. He would not recommend the Ro at Ann for long-distance shipping. He approved of the use of cartons as shown by his exhibit for packing cherries.—Horticulturist. On Saturday afternoon last Claude N. Lambson, of Portland and Mrs. Margaret Gatchett, of Hood River, were married at The Dalles. The ceremony took place at the residence of Rev. D. V. Poling who tied the nuptial knot. Mr. Lambson, who formerly resided at Albany, where he was a member of Mr. Poling's congregation for several years, was desirous of having his former pastor officiate on the occasion of his marriage and so the important event took place at the surface of the Royal Ann, which the young couple came to this city and went to the residence of Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Carnes the latter being the bride's sister. Mr. Lambson, who is employed as a bookkeeper by an electric company in Portland, after remaining over Sunday in Hood River, returned to his duties there, his wife following a day or two later.

L. N. Bowers made a business trip to Heppner yesterday. W. L. Clarke, of Cascade Locks, went to Boise on business last evening. Dr. Nichols, a well known physician of Spokane, took the stage for Cloud Cap last night. W. D. Noyes will lecture at the Unitarian church the 14th and 15th. Subject: "Spiritual Life." W. A. Wood will preach at Dukes Valley Saturday evening, and at Odell Sunday morning and evening. Lutheran services Sunday August 12. Sunday school at 2 p. m. German preaching at 3 p. m. H. J. Kohl, pastor. W. B. Galke, of Portland, at one time candidate for mayor of that city, was a guest at the Mount Hood hotel Wednesday. Roy Jackson, who has been working in and around Hood River during the summer, left for his home at Vancouver Monday. Mayor Bowers, C. H. Stranahan and S. A. Skinner left yesterday for Minneapolis to attend the G. A. R. encampment. The popularity of the Hood River apples gives rise to the suspicion that they're the kind that Adam ate.—Chronicle. M. E. McCarty left this week for New York to make his annual purchases for the Paris Fair. He will be gone several weeks. Misses Josephine Westerman and Genevieve Wallace, of Des Moines, Ia., paid this city a short visit Wednesday, enroute to Cloud Cap Inn. J. W. Simmons, State Deputy Consul, M. W. A., has moved his headquarters to Hood River while his family are in camp in the mountains. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fox, formerly of Indianapolis, Ind., arrived in Hood River Tuesday and went to the home of Frank Fox, at Hosum, where they will reside in the future. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith left town Tuesday for Bellingham, Wash., for a two weeks' visit with Rev. and Mrs. Nelson, the latter being their daughter. W. N. Gatens, private secretary to Governor Chamberlain, accompanied by his wife, visited Hood River Wednesday. Thursday morning they left for Cloud Cap Inn. Phillip Spangler left for his old home in Missouri yesterday. After a visit with old friends and relatives, he will go to California to the soldiers' home. Mrs. Spangler will go east later. Miss Nettie Kemp, stenographer for the firm of Heilbronner & Co., is at present on her vacation and is spending it in camp near Lost Lake. During Miss Kemp's absence Miss Hoadley is substituting for her. A. R. Thompson started Wednesday morning for Hood River, accompanied by his children, Alfred, Edna and Lois, and Charles Huntington. From there they will go on to Lost Lake to spend some time in camp.—Chronicle. Thos. Dipton, general purchasing agent of the D. & R. G., and his assistant, C. C. Conkie, both of Denver, were in town several days this week. They made a trip to Deo and are said to have been here for the purpose of purchasing railroad ties. D. Yagdjoglona, a native of Vladivostok, Siberia, registered at the Mount Hood hotel Wednesday. The gentleman came here from Portland and in company with W. B. Glafke, who is in the commission business in Portland, took a drive over the valley. Mr. L. E. Morse and wife, accompanied by Mr. Ash and wife, all of Hood River, passed through Dufur on Monday on their tour of Eastern Oregon. They propose to go to near the south line of the state, "kill the fish" and "catch the deer" and then return by the most desirable route.—Optimist. J. D. Fletcher, who bought Okada of Robt. Hand several months ago, is turning his attention to the raising of flowers for market. He has some of the finest gladioli ever seen in Hood River, and has the bulbs for sale, as well as cut flowers. He intends to build a green house this summer and will make a specialty of cut flowers. D. J. Cooper, of The Dalles, who recently was a candidate for the nomination of representative to the state legislature and who is the father of Miss Nan Cooper, the well known and popular school teacher at Mount Hood settlement, while on the way to the wedding of a daughter at Independence, received a telegram from another member of his family announcing the state of matrimony in the person of his son Kenneth, which took place at Oakland, Cal. (On perusing the dispatch Mr. Cooper is said to have remarked that things usually came in bunches in the Cooper family.

Hawkeye Picnic Thursday, August 16th
Arrangements are about complete for the annual picnic which will be held this year in the beautiful grove at Wau-Guin-Guin, Thursday, August 16. All towns and their friends are cordially invited to attend. Bring your lunch and stay all day. A fine program has been arranged, consisting of speaking, music, etc. Outside sports and games will be indulged in. Several contests and races will be pulled off, and there will be a doll hour in the day. The Hood River band will furnish music. Place your order for a nice chicken for your Sunday dinner with McGuire Bros. It is to your interest to refer to Mr. Bartness' ad under the new system. Sam Samson, well known in Hood River where he resided for some time several years ago, returned Tuesday from Nome, Alaska, and is at present visiting with friends in this city. Rev. K. H. Barnes, who will leave here soon, announces that he will sell his household furniture, as he will be traveling about and does not care to be encumbered with it. [Tourangean Ready to Meet Blair. Dave Tourangean, who is noted for his prowess in falling timber and has been working most of the summer at Green Point, but is now at Deo, paid the Glacier office a visit last week. Having seen an article in the Portland Telegram to the effect that Paul Blair could fall more timber in ten hours than any man in the country Tourangean says that he will bet $200 that he can defeat Blair in a timber falling contest. He says that the money is ready in a Hood River bank to back his assertion at any time. Notice to Contractors. For the construction of a bridge across the West Fork of Hood River near the Punch Bowl, The striglers and abutments to be constructed of the standing timber in the vicinity.
