

BY THE WAY

Colonel Bryan is trying to make it plain that he is going into the campaign as a radical conservative.

"Bryan and Bailey" may remind one of the name of a certain circus, but Bryan and any old name will be sure to promise some kind of a circus.

The negro bishop who referred to America as the vestibule of hell should be taken and admonished not to go any farther.—Washington Post.

Several of the 17 or 18 different factions of the Democratic party in Chicago are already figuring on how they can use Mr. Bryan to advertise themselves.

Cincinnati has indicted the members of the laundry trust, and is preparing to clean them up. Secretary Taft's attempt to break the solid South will probably end like those numerous attempts to break the bank of Monte Carlo.

Anyway Mr. Bryan must admit that this country gets along much better on one leg than the Democratic mule does on four.

Mr. J. G. Phelps Stokes, apparently, like the young Mr. Patterson, has tired of Socialism of the "skin-deep" variety, and now wants the real thing.

"It was merely a little mistake" says France to Captain Dreyfus. "The joke is on me."

A Kansas City ice man testifies that he went into business with $300, and the following season made $45,000. Evidently, the Toledo fellows wanted to beat this record.

It is now up to Mr. Thomas Taggart, of Indiana, to decide whether he will run the Democratic party or the gambling joint at French Lick Springs.

John D. Rockefeller is going to write a book. Is this the beginning of the Author's trust?

Taft says that he doesn't want the presidential plum. It's green now, just wait until it ripens.

Save your money and buy a Panama canal bond. They are said to be as pretty as pictures.

A Cleveland paper tells its readers that there is no excuse for idleness now. The editor ought to hear some of the short stories listened to by the women who take in washing to support their husbands.

Whatever else may happen to his reputation, Harry Thaw is now in a fair way to escape the terrible disgrace of dying rich.

Colonel Bryan intimates that he stands just about where he did in 1896 and 1900. It will be remembered that he stood just outside the White House gate in those years.

Secretary Wilson surprised a Cedar Rapids firm of packers by dropping in unexpectedly for an official inspection. He found nothing to criticize. Cedar Rapids is in Iowa.

If it is true that Thaw once bet $200,000 on a pair of jacks, Mr. Jerome might as well go to sleep for that insanity plea will hold.

As we consider the Dreyfus case, we are led up to the conclusion that all things come to him who fights.

Several chorus ladies have not yet been mentioned in connection with the Thaw case, but the trial cannot take place until October, so they need not despair.

"Wm. Randolph Hearst refuses the presidency" says a New York evening newspaper. "I cannot wed you my pretty maid." "Nobody asked you sir," she said.

Says the Chicago Record-Herald: "We feel safe, however, in assuring the public that English walnuts are comparatively clean." Yes, they are grown in France.

Heywood, the Socialist who is in jail in Idaho for murder, has been nominated by that party as their candidate for governor of Colorado. Evidently they want to know where their candidate is.

Mr. Bryan is touring Scotland in an automobile, but then he does not expect to run for president in Scotland.

It will be a hard day for the Czar when all the little revolutions scattered through Russia succeed in affecting a merger.

Presumably Pittsburg has another sensation hatching to take the place of the Hartje case as soon as it is finished.

Why was Thomas Taggart so shocked at being shown up as a gambler? Nobody else was.

Secretary Shaw should not run away with the notion that he has done anything original by discovering the shortage of small bills.

Senator Tillman is scheduled for a few speeches in Iowa, and all the farmers are hoping he will bring the pitchfork with him, as theirs are all in use.

In the meantime David B. Hill continues making a noise like a willow's rooster gone to rest.

H. Clay Evans says he is very fond of joint debates, and possibly Tom Taggart would have a better liking for them too, if the talking would turn to some other fellow's joint.

Col. Bryan expresses surprise that the United States has made such progress on one leg. Still the Colonel has done pretty well on the stump himself.

"God will not look you over for medals, degrees and diplomas, but for scars" says Elbert Hubbard. There ought to be a crumb of comfort in this for the man who owns an automobile.

Count Booi is a failure as an orator, partly because he got into the habit of letting his wife's money do all the talking.

"You may gamble on Tom Taggart," his friends have always said. Nobody disputes the statement now.

A Londoner has paid $13,000 for some old pre-Shakespearean plays. But that's nothing to what "Flora-dora" cost White and Thaw.

Mrs. Cassie Chadwick pleads for a simple little Paris gown, with hat to match. She doesn't like the prison's summer styles in stripes.

Soliloquy of the Czar: "Would that my generals had had half the desperate valor of my anarchists."

The president has been showing the country that he can pitch hay as well as he can wood.

Pittsburg young bloods broke up a performance at Madison Square Garden. What a fuss would have been raised if the disturbance had been caused by visitors from Oklahoma or Texas.

Boundaries of Shore Lands.

Shore lands along the navigable streams of the state of Washington include those lands between ordinary high water and low water outside the meander line. A deed from the state does not convey title to any agricultural lands above high water mark, even though they may be outside the meander line. All lands above ordinary high water mark belong to the riparian owner. Likewise do those shore lands where the meander line covers them. Meander lines are supposed to have been run at ordinary high water mark, but if such is shown not to be the fact, the riparian owner has title reaching to ordinary high water mark, though such may exceed the acreage in the government's deed.

Meander lines are surveyed for the purpose of computing the acreage of riparian lands, adjoining lakes and the ocean. While it is presumptive evidence that the meander line follows ordinary high water mark, as such is the instruction to United States deputy surveyors, it may be proven that the surveyor did not follow such instruction. No buyer of shore land gets title to any land outside of the meander line which is above ordinary high water mark. While the state land office formerly held to the contrary and sold land by the acreage, since the supreme court has ruled on the matter, it is sold by the lineal chain.—Goldendale Sentinel.

Rattlesnake In Bed. Milton, Aug. 15.—Richard Armstrong, who lives in the wheat county 15 miles south of town, took his mattress and bedding outside last Saturday night and made a bed alongside of the house on the ground on account of the extremely hot weather.

He was awakened near morning and at once realized that a large snake was crawling across his neck just below his chin.

Mr. Armstrong maintained his presence of mind and made no noise until the snake had crossed completely over. He then leaped from his bed and secured a large stick with which he killed the rattler. It measured 3 feet and 8 inches, and contained 11 rattles.

Mr. Armstrong is a man 70 years of age and is a civil war veteran, and has had a varied experience with all kinds of danger, but he says this experience with the rattler exceeds them all. It is probably the largest rattlesnake ever killed in this part of the county.—Chronicle.

Do You Want to Know What You Swallow? There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of MEDICINES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. It is but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicinal preparations, Dr. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of all the ingredients entering into his leading medicines, the "Golden Medical Discovery," the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and heart regulator; also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous and invalid women.

This bold and outspoken movement on the part of Dr. Pierce, has, by showing exactly what his well-known medicines are composed of, completely disarmed all harping critics who have heretofore unjustly attacked them. A little pamphlet has been compiled, from the standard medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, showing the strongest endorsements by leading medical writers of the several ingredients which enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Do not loosen the "pill habit," but a laxative and regulator, three or four for an active cathartic. Once tried always in favor.
