Coe returned from Portland Monday where he spent a few days with his family. Manager Merrill went to Mosier Thursday in connection with the telephone business. E. Quackenbush, who has been taking an outing in Hood River, went to Portland Monday. Murray Kay went to Portland Thursday on business connected with the sewer for the city. Mrs. Fred Dietz and daughter left on Monday for Clatsop beach to visit friends and take an outing. Mrs. Davis returned to her home at East Prairie, Neb., after visit to her nephew, O. B. Hartley. A. D. Dabney returned last Saturday from a two weeks' outing at the beach. His father looked after the store during his absence. T. Ben Turnbaugh, of Hoomfield, Mo., was in Hood River last week visiting his old friend, L. H. Huggins. Mr. Turnbaugh is looking for an opening on the coast for a jewelry store. F. E. L. Beal, of the biological survey department of the U. S. department of agriculture, is spending a couple of weeks in Hood River studying the native bird and insect, whether harmful or beneficial. Roy Sproat, son of Hoyd Sproat, now living at Beaverton, Ore., was badly injured last week. While riding a pony the animal ran into a barbed wire fence, nearly cutting off one foot of the boy. He was taken to the hospital and will get along all right unless blood poisoning shows up in a few days. An appeal, having on board Julius Kruttschnitt, director of operation and maintenance of the Harriman system, General Manager O'Brien and Division Superintendent Campbell, passed through Hood River Thursday. Mr. Kruttschnitt was on his way to Chicago, and was being accompanied by the way by the other officials. Chas. Brewer, of Belfry, Mont., spent a few days with his old friend, A. C. Buck. Mr. Brewer has visited other parts of the coast, and is looking around with a view of locating a place that suits him better than Montana. He was well pleased with Hood River and may be back to stay some time in the future. G. E. Williams was called to Hood River Saturday morning from Kenesaw, Neb., on account of the death of his nephew, Little Frampton Brosius. Ed is looking much better than when he went away, and says that the climate of Arizona did him much good last winter, and he intends to return there October 1. He will go back to Nebraska in a few days. The funeral of little Frampton Brosius was held at the family residence Saturday afternoon. Revs. Gilmore and Hersher officiating. Mrs. Sletten sang two solos for the occasion. Undertaker Nichols had charge of the funeral arrangements. Many friends and neighbors paid their last respects and followed the remains to Idlewild cemetery. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. G. E. Williams, brother of Mrs. Brosius, arrived from Nebraska in time for the funeral.

Misses Clara and Judah Gatchett, of Portland, visited their sister, Mrs. E. T. Carns, last week. Chief Engineer Boscho, inspected the work on the new railroad bridge the latter part of the week. Mrs. Dr. Shackelford, of The Dalles, came down Friday on a visit to Capt. H. C. Coe and daughter. Rowels and Miss Jennie McMillan, of LaCrosse, Wis., arrived Tuesday on a visit to Mrs. P. S. Davidson, etc. Henry McGuire and family and his brother, Grant McGuire, of the Willamette valley, are camping on the Little White Salmon. Miss Kate Davenport, of Mosier, and Miss Gunning, of The Dalles, returned home Thursday after a visit to Hood River for a few days. Rev. J. B. Spight had an attack of rheumatism and other complications, following his apparent recovery from typhoid fever, and Thursday he was taken to a Portland hospital for treatment. Mrs. Chas. Jones and family have come in from Mount Hood to be ready for the opening of school. Mr. Jones will stay out and continue to drive the stage to Cloud Capp Inn from the Edick place. J. T. Holman has sold his meat market and one of the buildings to C. E. Barnes, who will continue the market. Edgar Holman is working for Mr. Barnes in the market. Mr. Holman will continue to run the grocery store. E. B. Landy, of the firm of London & Powers, who are extensively interested in orchard land in the Mount Hood section, spent Sunday on the Hood River, where they expect to spend a few days. Mr. Landy says that their places are all looking fine. Mrs. Walter McGregor and daughter, of New Westminster, B. C., formerly old residents of Hood River, visited J. K. McGregor and wife at Mosier, last week and also spent a couple of days in and around Hood River. Max Leonard, who has had charge of the baggage and express at the depot for two years, and Ashley Wilson, who has been the operator for about the same length of time, left last week for Portland, where they expect to spend a few days. Carl P. Ross takes the position of Mr. Leonard and C. S. Smith that of Mr. Wilson. Chas. Castner writes his father that he is having the time of his life. He went as far east as Buffalo, visiting also Niagara Falls, Cleveland, and De Soto. He expects to be home August 25, but Mrs. Castner will remain in Kansas for a time to complete her visit with relatives. During their trip they visited his father's homestead in Michigan and his mother's homestead in Ohio. G. R. Castner has let the contract for his new residence to L. M. Bentley. The residence will cost about $3,000 when complete. It will be an seven-room house, and built modern in every way. Mr. Castner will move to town as soon as the house is completed, which will be located on lots across from Geo. P. Crowell's real drive. It will make a fine addition to the already beautiful homes in that neighborhood. J. R. Kinsey, mail carrier on R. F. D. No. 2, has tendered his resignation to the department, to take effect September 1. The salary allowed by the department, together with the extra amount made up by private subscription, is less than he can get elsewhere. In fact, he can get as much for his work alone at some other occupation, without having to keep at the expense of a team and rig. No one has applied for the position as yet, and route 2 may be without mail delivery in ten days. Mrs. C. H. Sproat returned Thursday from a Portland hospital, where she recovered from an operation. A goiter was successfully removed from her neck. It was a delicate and skillful operation, and entirely successful. Owing to the danger, she could not be given an anesthetic, but was kept counting, to assure the doctors that the vocal chords were not cut. The goiter had grown fast to the jugular vein, making this an extreme point of danger. Mrs. Sproat underwent the original remedy, and is now quite recovered.

Wallace Shay, of Wyeth, was visiting friends here last week. George Weigel and family left this morning by boat for Hood River for an outing.-Chronicle. Geo. T. Prather and A. C. Buck are sending in many applications for hunters' licenses for sportsmen. L. D. Boyd has been awarded the contract for the bridge of the Hood River Irrigation District across the West Fork. Mrs. C. M. Powell left for her home at Wasco Thursday, after a visit of a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pough. Mr. Martin Einstrum has disposed of his property at Oregon City and he and his wife will make Hood River their future home. There will be no services in the Unitarian church next Sunday. Rev. Bakbridge will speak in the First Unitarian church of Portland on that day. Joseph Douglas, of Hood River, passed through The Dalles Tuesday to Wauke. He will spend a couple of weeks visiting his mother at that place.-Optimist. Johnnie Cates, while working at the saw mill in the Wind River Lumber Co.'s mill at Cascade Locks last Saturday, was so unfortunately as to have his right hand nearly severed.-Steveson Pioneer. L. H. Curtis had an ankle crushed Monday while working at the Oregon Lumber Co.'s Mill A, near Cheno-weth. He is being treated at the Hood River hospital and getting along nicely. No serious consequences are feared. Al Klingor, barn man at the Transfer Stables, was bruised up Tuesday and had his arm in a sling. While leading a team up from the lower part of the barn it became frightened and ran over him. His arm was stepped on by one of the horses, spraining and bruising it quite badly. Mr. Klingor stated that they would locate at Tacoma. Mr. Cross has secured a position with the Great Northern road at Everett, Wash. Their janitor work will be taken up by D. K. Ayresman. H. H. Kiddell, a well known attorney of Portland, accompanied by Mrs. Riddell, arrived at Hood River Friday evening and will spend two weeks in and near this city in recreation. Mr. Riddell is a brother-in-law of Dr. Jenkins and has been ardently engaged in prosecuting the case of the Johnston heirs vs. Ladd in the courts of Portland recently in which there is as yet no decision. Capt. H. Crandall, wife and son, of St. Paul, arrived Thursday and are registered at the Wagoner. They have concluded to make Hood River their home, and have bought the S. D. Garner place on Lyman South avenue. That already blue place will be improved by the erection of a modern cottage, and it is their intention to make a comfortable, attractive and successful home. We welcome them to the valley. Amos Underwood has been granted a license again at Underwood after being closed a little over a month. Now that he has that business settled, he is trying to prevent the filling of the railroad grade across the county road to the boat landing. The understanding was that he sold the right of way that a trestle be put over the road, which would allow a wagon road under the track to the river. He intends to enforce this agreement, if possible. J. W. Grasse and wife and W. H. Grasse, of Milwaukie, Ore., came to Hood River Tuesday to look over the valley. The gentlemen comprise the firm of Grasse Bros., commission merchants, and also have a ranch in the valley near Astoria. E. L. Smith offered to guide them through the valley, and his offer was accepted. They were much interested in the valley, and went away fully convinced that Hood River had merit and good methods to back up her reputation. Ed Bond, son of Jack Bond, passed through Hood River Thursday on his way to Portland. He is sheriff of Baker county and resides at Baker City. He stopped off one day on his return. Mr. Bond left here nine years ago with a twenty-dollar gold piece and a cypress. The pony was so small that he was ashamed to ride it through the town, although he rode it 60 miles a day for six days. He has prospered, however, in Eastern Oregon, and when he ran for sheriff of Baker county, was elected by a large democratic majority in a republican county.

Special prices on large meat orders, at Alcorn's. J. C. MacInnes, of White Salmon, was a passenger on No. 2 Tuesday. T. R. Kent went to Portland Tuesday on a visit to friends and relatives. Mrs. C. Cronse and Miss Cronse visited friends at Mosier the first of the week. C. E. Glesien has accepted a position at Frank A. Cram's store and will assume his new duties September 1. Rev. Walter Skipworth, presiding elder of the M. E. conference, held quarterly meeting at the Hood River church Sunday. Louis Solberg, of Seattle, spent several days in the valley looking for ranch property, and will locate here if he finds a proposition to suit. Rev. Barnes and wife left for Salt Lake yesterday, where they will visit relatives and friends, and then will visit a month in Colorado. From there they expect to go to New York. Sheriff Christman was down from The Dalles yesterday with another batch of district attorney subpoenas, presumably for a continuation of the election fraud inquiry. Contractor J. M. Wright has the contract for remodeling the house of N. P. Storgis on the hill. He has also about finished adding a second story to the residence bought by Dr. Watt from Robt. Rand. There will be an ice cream social on the lawn of the Valley Christian church Friday evening, August 29, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society. Come and bring your friends. N. W. Bone and C. N. Clarke drove in from their camp on Fifteen-mile Thursday, and their families came by train from Dufur. Friday L. Clark and wife went out to the camp to spend a couple of weeks. They report a very good time. Fishing was very good, and they greatly enjoyed the outing.

A. A. Jayne was a visitor at The Dalles Wednesday. Miss Gertrude Kinney left for her home in Wauke, Ore., Monday, after a visit with friends in Hood River. Mr. Giesbusch, the Portland contractor, was in Hood River yesterday on business connected with the sewer.
