COST OF IRRIGATION DISTRICT'S DITCH

In a statement which we print below will be found an accounting of what it has cost to build the section of the new ditch of the Hood River Irrigation District, which has so far been completed and the amount of funds still on hand. It is estimated that it will require $40,000 more to complete the ditch which amount it is said will include all expenditures. The proposition has been a much more expensive one than was anticipated and for this reason has exceeded the original estimate. As the ditch will practically reclaim many acres of land that would otherwise be useless it is thought that the additional expense is well warranted. The statement is as follows:

There are 620 stations or 62,000 linear feet of the Hood River Irrigation District ditch from Ditch creek to the south fork of Green Point creek. There have been 323 stations or 32,200 linear feet completed at a cost of $36,174, leaving 298 stations or 29,800 linear feet still unfinished. At an average cost of $1.15 per linear foot this would amount to $34,270.

The approximate cost of the Rorden and Dead Point ditch from Dry Chute to the intersection with the Dead Point ditch near T. W. Calpham will be $10,000. The cost of completing the Rorden section will be about $800. Added to the above will be the enlarging of the old ditch coming out of Ditch creek. Building the necessary flumes on all laterals, enlarging some of the present laterals, and digging others, building the dams at Dead Point and at North and South Green Point creeks. Rights of way, attorneys' fees and all other expenses connected with the work. Also the amount the district owes Gebisch & Joplin which is about $3,000, the latter being ten per cent held out on the contract.

The amount following is a statement of the disbursements and cash on hand:

The amount received from sales of bonds was $60,000. Cash paid Gebisch & Joplin

Condensed Infected Fruit.

Pendleton, August 22.—Starling statements concerning the Pendleton fruit market were made Saturday by County Fruit Inspector Evans, who while in the city, saw a wagonload of infected fruit and horses in the western suburbs of the city.

Mr. Evans says that a packing house in Milton is selling culls and infected fruit to peddlers at 1 cent a pound, and that these peddlers then bring it to Pendleton and dispose of it to the merchants of this city. It was a load of pears thus sold to a peddler that Mr. Evans destroyed Saturday morning.

Mr. Evans states further that the fruit dealers of this city do not seem to be inclined to pay much attention to the law, he was warning, but that the warning he gave each day to every one of them Saturday is to be the last. The fine provided by law for the offering for sale of any infected fruit is from $50 to $100, and Mr. Evans declares that this fine will be imposed against the next Pendleton merchant that offers such fruit for sale.

It seems that the officials in the city of Walla Walla and the other Washington towns will not allow the peddlers with infected fruit to come into the city, and therefore it is always sent to Pendleton to be disposed of.

Mr. Evans is also after the packing house at Milton, and says that he will see that the peddlers whose fruit he destroyed is fully reimbursed by the packing company.
