HOOD RIVER GLACIER

Issued every Thursday by ARTHUR D. MOSE, Publisher.
Terms of subscription—$1.00 a year in advance.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 6, 1906.

These Oregon apple growers who contracted their apples last week at $2.25 to $3 a bushel box evidently are justified in asserting that theirs is "the" apple country.—Packer.

The Dalles business men's association are doing effective work advertising the city and have just issued 10,000 pamphlets showing up the advantages of that metropolis. Dalles advertisements are even found on the backs of envelopes issued from the county clerk's office of Wasco county.

With the prosperous times which we are experiencing with the Republican administration, if a man transfers his services to another we say that he has "accepted the position". Under the rule of Democracy, with Coxe's army touring the country, when a man was fortunate enough to secure work, we said he "got the job."

The Dalles Chronicle takes exception to the statement of the Glacier recently that Hood River had the most phones in its exchange, and says that The Dalles has 1,000 telephones within the city limits. We have authority for the statement from the manager of the telephone company at Hood River. Besides, the telephone directory just issued shows over 100 more numbers at Hood River than for The Dalles. It is now up to "doll rags" of the Chronicle to "hit the trail."

There are fears of a wood famine at Hood River for the coming winter. Considerable of the wood cut this year in clearing land has been shipped out where it was close to the Mount Hood road, and there is but a small supply in sight for the city. Several buyers from Eastern Oregon have been picking up what wood they could, and would take a good deal more if they could get it. Scarcity of labor and teams has also operated against the usual supply coming into town.

A Boston paper which takes results for granted, has this to say: Oregon's new senator, Jonathan Bourne of Portland, represents a new order of things both in his state and in the nation. He is the first senator ever elected by a popular vote. Senator Bourne will be a business senator. He is a millionaire. He will be one more Harvard senator and one more lay stater, for he was born in Boston a little more than fifty years ago. Thirty years ago he went to Oregon and has lived there ever since.

Dalles Young Man Commits Suicide.
Guy Sexton, son of ex-Sheriff Sexton, committed suicide at the home of his parents at The Dalles Sunday afternoon, by shooting himself in the temple with a revolver. The young man had been melancholy for several days, but it was not thought that he was taking life too seriously, and there seems to have been no cause for the rash deed. He was an employee of the telephone company at The Dalles, and on Saturday stated that he had been transferred to Portland and would go at once. The case is a sad one and the many friends of Sheriff Sexton in this city sympathize with him in his bereavement.

Removal of Postoffice.
The Dalles postoffice is soon to be removed to more spacious quarters, much to the delight of Postmaster Hostettler. The location is one block east of the present site, and on the opposite side of the street, in the O. F. building, on the corner of Second and Federal.—Optimist.

PETTY THIEVING BECOMING RIFE

The room of George Fox, over the Club Chop House, was entered last Friday night while he was asleep and his watch stolen. The timepiece was taken from the pocket of his vest which was hanging on his bedpost and so far there is no clue to the thief.

Another theft reported was that of a suit case which was taken from the Spokane train Friday night. It is thought, at this place. The owner of the suit case, whose name was not learned, missed it as the train was pulled into Hood River and made a search for it. Railroad Detective Fitzgerald and another sleuth were on the train and were notified of the theft. They told the owner of the lost baggage to get off here and inform the officers of its loss and they would search the train. The train, which was then pulling across the bridge, was stopped and getting off the man notified Marshal Ganger, who, in company with Deputy Sheriff Schmelzer, made a thorough search about town for the missing articles but could not locate it.

Several petty thefts have been reported to the city authorities of late, one of which was the taking of a name book of pennies from the cash register of Hood's cigar store by an early morning visitor who was seen by a passing man who had just alighted from No. 5 but escaped before he could be recognized.

Many strangers have been dropping off trains here lately from the east and although efforts have been made to keep suspicious characters and those who looked like members of the light colored gentry moving it is thought that some of them have evaded the officers of and are responsible for the thieving that has been going on.

Statement to the Public.
On account of gross, malicious misrepresentations I feel compelled to write the following card of explanation. I say "malicious" because of the full knowledge of the party making them as to the untruthfulness of the statements. This course is very advisable for me for I have always avoided flaunting in the faces of the public that which is unpleasant for them to see.

The facts in the case are, I have been a licensed embalmer longer than any one who has ever done business in Hood River, but that is nothing which to boast for every undertaker should be licensed.

Free use has been made of the mails in these misrepresentations, proofs of which I have in my possession. A continuation of the part in Hood River, but that is nothing which to boast for every undertaker should be licensed.

Hood River is Not Worrying.
Discouraged by the predictions of low prices growers in some sections have arranged to install drying and evaporating plants to provide a means of finding an outlet for their fruit. Presently in the manner applied, can be held much more easily than when placed in cold storage. It is also reported that growers are preparing to place large quantities of apples in their own cold storage plants for their own account. A continuation of the present disposition on the part of buyers to decline to make prices will increase this sentiment.

No Mail Service on Route 2.

Since the resignation of J. R. Kinsey, which took effect Saturday, Route 2 has been without mail service. It was thought a man had been secured, but would not take the job unless a bonus from the railroad on the line was put up in the bank in advance, and not enough could be secured to guarantee sufficient wages to be an inducement. The government pays only 85¢ a month, and while this amount is sufficient to secure a carrier in a level country, where one horse can do the work, and feed is cheap, it is not enough here, especially when a man and team can get $4 and $5 a day at present. Mr. Kinsey has been a faithful carrier for a long time, and was very popular with his patrons, but he cannot be blamed for bettering his condition when the opportunity offered. He has accepted a position with K. B. Bragg & Co., Postmaster Yates, as well as the patron, are anxious to secure another carrier, and it is hoped that arrangements will be made with some one that will be satisfactory all around.

The Deacon is Interviewed.
Charles Davidson, "The Red Deacon," of Hood River, Oregon, blew in Friday morning for a visit with relatives and old friends. It has been just about five years since he shook the dust of Centerville from his feet and returned to Hood River, where he has laid his whiskers out in long locks, wears a wedding ring, and seems generally contented with himself and the world, and is, if possible, better looking than when he was stumping the state for Coxe and giving the two old parties—, several years ago.—Centerville Gazette.

White Salmon's Progress.
Last Monday there was shipped over the White Salmon dock eighty tons of freight, of which twenty tons were bound out and sixty tons into town. One hundred and seven dollars and fifty cents were collected in fees by Agent Gladden. That was about the average for a whole month two years ago and it shows a phenomenal growth in business at this point during that time.—Enterprise.

Charles M. Busy Dies of His Injury.
Charles Busy, a well known rancher of Hood River, met with an accident while visiting at The Dalles and the Chronicle says that he was found at Mill creek near there one morning last week by two men employed on a steam shovel. When first seen they thought Busy was dead, but hastening to him they discovered that he was alive, but in an unconscious condition. Sheriff Christian and Dr. Lowe were summoned and as soon as the latter saw the condition of the man he was taken to the sanitarium, where he has since remained unconscious.

Joe Gans the Lightweight Champion.
Joe Gans defeated Battling Nelson at Goldfield, Nevada, in one of the hardest fought battles that have ever been witnessed in the prize ring. It took 42 rounds to decide the contest, and the decision was given to Gans on a foul. The gate receipts amounted to about $50,000, having a net profit to the club that managed the affair. Fortunes changed hands on wagers, and the affair created wide interest among sporting men all over the country.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS MEETS AT BOISE

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 4.—Boise today is a city of 30,000 people, one-third of whom are delegates or visitors to the fourteenth annual irrigation congress. The arrivals began Saturday and continued yesterday and today. All the regular trains are crowded, and specials from every direction brought visitors representing 32 states.

The city is handling the immense crowd admirably. Residents opened their homes to the strangers, and temporary restaurants have been established. While Boise is jammed with people, there is no confusion and all are provided for in comfort. The Oregon special brought 250 delegates, including Governor Chamberlain and many of the most prominent citizens.

Utah sent a special train with two loads. Nevada has a trainload and California has 100 delegates and many boosters. New Mexico, Washington, Montana, Colorado and Texas sent big delegations.

The meeting, which will continue through the week, promises to be very important. The addresses and discussions will revolve around the four great objects that the congress aims to accomplish, namely: "Save the Forests," "Store the Floods," "Reclaim the Desert," and "Home on the Land."

Revelers on Stanley Rock Were Sassy.
Marshal Ganger and Deputy Sheriff Schmelzer were called to the residence of J. W. Koberg last Thursday evening to suppress a party of revelers who had taken possession of Stanley Rock on Mr. Koberg's premises and were holding high carnival. The party had started a big bonfire and in the midst of their doings it was feared that they might set fire to the dry grass back of it and cause a conflagration that would result seriously. Their attention was called to this fact and they became sassy, but by the time the marshal and deputy arrived had extinguished it. A few words of explanation on the part of the officers and the statement by members of the party that they did not know that they were trespassing on Mr. Koberg's premises straightened the matter out and the officers returned to town.

More Room Needed.

On account of the lack of room in the office at the depot, Agent Hoyle is having an express room built in the baggage room, and the compartment in the office now taken up with express packages will be torn out. Business at Hood River is outgrowing the present accommodations for room, both at the passenger and freight depots, and an additional building is needed to take care of the accumulations of freight as well as the express. Hood River does the largest express business on the line between Portland and Baker City, taking the year's business as a whole, and the freight business is increasing by leaps and bounds.
