HOOD RIVER GLACIER THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1906

CORRESPONDENCE.

ODELL.

Real estate transfers are becoming sold his place in Upper Mount Hood so numerous your correspondent has settlement. Consideration 84,000, Tailed to make note of some of them. One that ghould have appeared in last week's items was the sale of the Lenz home, 53 acres for $15,000. During the week just closed John M. Johnson WHITE SALMON. sold to Geo. Kinsman 20 acres. Con-sideration $0,000, These sales go to prove that there is but one way to keep land in Hood River valley and that way is to refuse to pla a price

Lumber is on the ground for anoth-er house along Odell's Broadway, that in this case it is a narrow way for pe-destrians when, as is the case during and relatives cal the winter, the road is muddy and the next great need is a side walk, say from the corner where Broadway and the avenue intersect south as far as the Mount Hood railroad excepting such parts as are not bad, even at the worst. Some favor a temporary affair of sawdust while others think a substantial board walk the better. This bit of road is important because of the number who would receive benefit
