NEW COUNTY IDEA POPULAR

MANY VOLUNTEER ASSISTANCE

No Opposition After Situation is Explained and Residents Fied Taxes Will Be Lower.

The petitions for county division are being rapidly signed and the Commercial club has every reason to believe that there will be no difficulty in getting a large majority of the residents in the proposed new county to declare in favor of it.

Many who made opposition to it before are now in favor of it and have voluntarily offered to work for the movement. When shown that the tax levy will not be any higher and will probably be lower than under the administration of the old county they say that all objections to the creation of the new county are removed and that they are unreservedly for it. Petitions have been sent to all the districts interested and reports received from them are to the effect that little, if any real opposition, is being manifested after a little inquiry or investigation is made as to the estimated expense of establishing the county government.

In order that the club may be informed as to the exact progress of the work of circulating and signing petitions it is proposed to hold a meeting of the committee appointed to circulate petitions Saturday, December 1, when reports will be received and those districts which have not been covered will be canvassed and the residents given an opportunity to sign.

It is requested that as many as possible attend the meeting and bring with them any who are interested, whether they have signed or not, in order that they may be fully informed on any points that they do not understand.

The attitude of the people toward the movement is very pleasing to the members of the club and the committees who are working with them, inasmuch as they taking hold of the question in a popular spirit in which everybody is working, as one member of the club expresses it, including farmers.

Offers of assistance have also been received from property owners at Hood River who live out of town and who are very enthusiastic for the new county.

Skeletons of Giants.

What archaeologists declare will solve the mystery surrounding the ancient mound builders was discovered recently in one of a series of hills along the Illinois river in that state. The "find" shows traces of handiwork of past ages and the bones of those who wrought it. Several skeletons were exhumed more than eight feet long, and pieces of remarkable pottery, beads and curious implements. Under the bones of the ancient dead were found vases, the largest of which are capable of holding more than two gallons, while under a skull was unearthed a bowl, in the center of which is a well fashioned figure of a king, seated upon a crude throne. It is believed by scientists that these bones may be those of a great leader of the race that once ruled this portion of the country.

Another interesting and curious "find" is a shell shaped dish with a wolf's head on it. No one doubts that it was carved even the teeth of the wolf gleaming from it, and as exquisitely executed as some of the ivory carvings of the Japanese.

Thousands of persons are being attracted to the bones of these ancient men by the news of the wonderful discoveries. The soil of the mound has never been disturbed and to this fact is attributed the marvelous preservation of the things taken from it.

Eminent archaeologists are unanimous in the opinion that the mound is a pre-historic burying ground, greater in extent and more perfectly preserved than any yet discovered, and is a valuable contribution definitely settling many mooted questions.

An effort is being made not only to secure this remarkable "find" in its entirety for the Jameson exposition, but the results of investigations determining the history of this extinct race of people.

W. C. T. U. Medals Contested.

The medal contest of the W. C. T. U. which was held at the Congregational church last Friday evening, was well attended and brought out one contestant for the medals. No little elocutionary ability was displayed by the young ladies and gentlemen who took part and the audience was well pleased with its evening entertainment.

The medal was won by Miss Frances Bragg who has on several occasions demonstrated that she has unusual ability as an elocutionist. The other who took part were: Miss Clarke, Miss Zora Day, Miss Ellen Treiber, Gilbert Edgington, Harold Hershner, Homer Wood and Paul Treiber.

A Good Fellow's Fate.

Not long ago there died in a Walla Walla cell a poor, ragged, bloated, unkempt wretch without a friend in the broad world to shed a tear of sympathy. No one cared for him, and no one mourned him. "Unwept, unburied and unnamed" his bones were rattled over the stones to the potters' field.

Fifteen years ago this man bright-eyed, erect, clean-limbed and vigorous stepped aboard his train at Pendleton. He wore the handsome uniform of a conductor, a place to which he had steadily ascended from the bottom rung of the ladder. He greeted his friends with a smile and his friends were everywhere.

On duty he indulged in a social glass now and then with boon companions. He was popular, debonair and liberal. He had a kind heart, and was lauded as one of the most affable conductors on the road. His revels increased in the frequency of Pendleton was then and is now a sociable place and he liked to make merry with them in a drinking bout. His salary proved inadequate for this

PAST HISTORY WAS ROMANTIC

DAUGHTER OF CHIEF CHENOWETH

Wife of Amos Underwood Passes Away and is Buried With the Honors of Her Race.

Mrs. Amos Underwood, who has been in failing health, died at her home back of Underwood Saturday at an advanced age and Sunday was buried in the Indian burying ground there with ceremonies considered appropriate to one of her race.

The large Underwood family were all present, including her husband, who came from Stevenson, where he has been undergoing treatment for failing health. The services were conducted by Indian Jim, who is well known both on the other side of the river and at Hood River and included the reintering of two sons born to Mr. and Mrs. Underwood and buried in 1881 and 1886 respectively. It was the wish of Mrs. Underwood that she receive a burial according to the customs of her race and her family respected it.

The passing of Mrs. Underwood is not without interest and historical significance, as she was a daughter of the well known Indian chief, Chenoweth, after whom a town is named in Washington, and who figured very prominently in the Indian wars along the Columbia river in the early days of the white settlers. In company with six other Indians Chenoweth was executed by a rival tribe of Indians for being too friendly to the whites. He claimed during the service by court martial and to the last that he and his companions were innocent, but his protestations did not avail.

After her father's death Mrs. Underwood, whose name was Ellen, was wooed by an army officer, but she did not look on his suit with favor and would have refused him had it not been for the pleadings of many of her race who thought that it would be a good stroke of diplomacy to make an alliance with the army officer. So they were married according to the Indian custom and for two years lived together, when the soldier was transferred to a post in California and his young wife refused to go with him. In vain he pleaded but the Indian girl who had never cared for him was more attached to her people and the shores of the beautiful Columbia where she and her husband had lived for many years, than she was to the officer, and they parted. Her husband went to California, where he served several years and was transferred to Alaska, but before going to the far northern post or duty station he came to Hood River and was accompanied by his wife. He was a good man and a good soldier.

Three gasoline outfits have expressed a willingness to enter, and one compressed gas outfit will be in service. This demonstration will be a valuable feature of the meeting and well worth any orchardist's time.

The fifteen splendid cups to be offered as prizes for the best exhibit of apples, pears, prunes and nuts, will draw a big display of the finest fruit. As most of the cups are given for fruit in commercial packages, the exhibit will be an educational factor of no small moment.

Particulars as to competition and exhibits may be had of the secretary. Entries must be made by 12 p. m., January 8. Only members of the society may compete for cups or awards but any one may become a member by sending his name and address and one dollar to E. R. Lake, secretary, Corvallis.

In Show Windows.

The apple growers of Yamhill, Marion, Polk, Linn, Lane and Benton counties have prepared an exhibit of well grown and well packed apples of their best bear on an exhibition today in the show windows of Olds, Worthman & King. It is due to the tireless efforts of Millard O. Lowndale that the display was gotten together.

Representative George F. Rodgers, of Marion county is much interested in the apple display.

"We combat the idea," said Mr. Rodgers, "that Hood River is the only district in the state that can grow a perfect apple. We insist that in several of the valley counties apples are as good or better than the Hood River variety can be grown. For color, quality and keeping our apples can't be beaten."

The Willamette valley has grown apples for the past half a century in a haphazard sort of way, making no effort at scientific culture, spraying, etc., with the natural result of the cold moth and San Jose scale and had many friends. He got rid of these old orchards that are a menace to the fruit industry of our section," said Mr. Rodgers. "And in a few years Willamette valley apples will be as famous the world over as are the Hood River apples now."—Journal.

Annual Meeting A. F. & A. M., No. 105.

The annual meeting of Hood River Lodge, No. 105, A. F. & A. M., was held Saturday evening and the following officers elected for the ensuing year:

A. D. MOE—W. M.
C. N. CLARKE—S. W.
T. M. BLOWERS—J. W.
C. R. BUTLER—Treasurer.
D. McDONALD—Secretary.

A joint installation will be held Thursday, December 27th, for the purpose of installing the above officers and also those of the lodge of the Eastern Star.

In Time of Peace.

In the first months of the Russia-Japanese war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has become settled in the system. Sherman Man for Register.

Hon. R. J. Ginn, of Sherman county, has been recommended by Senator Fulton as the man to succeed M. T. Nolan, resigned as register of the Dalles office. The appointment is in the hands of the president, but if all is satisfactory Senator Fulton's recommendation will be followed.

Mr. Ginn is well known throughout the state and especially in this county, having been in business at Moro for a number of years. He also served as representative from this county. He was elected a member of the state legislature in 1902, and while a member of that body he rendered efficient service to the state by his active support of the portage road. He was also an ardent supporter of Mr. Fulton for the senate.—Moro News.
