F. W. Angus returned from Portland Saturday. Frank Chandler came up on train 2 from Portland Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clark came up from Cascade Looks Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carter returned home on the local Saturday morning. Mrs. W. F. Moses is recovering from an operation in a Portland hospital. Rev. Walton Skipworth was in the city the last of the week, going to The Dalles Friday morning. Frank Davenport got to Portland Thursday, after waiting for several days for the road to be cleared. Rev. H. D. Chambers will conduct services in the Episcopal church Sunday morning, February 17, at 10 o'clock. There will be a masquerade ball at the Mount Hood hall February 22, 1907. Supper served. Given by the directors. Peter Smith, of Clifton, Kansas, who has been visiting G. R. Abernathy for a few weeks, returned to his home in Kansas Tuesday. J. E. Nichols was called to Stevenson, Wash., Tuesday, to conduct the funeral of Raymond Totten, the three-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Totten, of Carson. Mrs. Bertha Hemman went to Portland Thursday, after being held here since Monday on account of the blockade. She will take a course in a business college there. Services at the Unitarian church Sunday at 11 a. m., J. A. Baldridge, minister. Subject "The Response of the Sanctuary to the Plague of Faith." No evening service. All are cordially invited. Mr. and Mrs. Stabing, of the Dalles, were among the delayed passengers from the west who were held up at Hood River, and they went home Friday on the first train to go east. Elder Dix, of the Advent Christian church in the valley, left for Boyd Saturday to hold meetings for two weeks. Elder Steers, who has been conducting the meetings at the church in the valley, left Monday for the same place. G. J. Gessling went to Portland last week, where he had an operation in a hospital. While it was painful, it was not serious enough to confine him to his bed, and he is back at his office in the mill as usual. A foreign grocer was removed from his shoulder. John K. Roberts, with his brother and Albert Schiller as witnesses, went to The Dalles Friday morning to argue on his homestead. He found fifteen applicants ahead of him and had to wait over until Saturday to take his turn. Mrs. Mary Olson, of Underwood, received a message Wednesday of the death of a friend at Portland. The message was dated the day before, but owing to the wires being down it was a day late in getting to Underwood. She took the first train out, which was on Thursday. Some damage is reported to fruit trees in the valley by the frozen crust of snow setting around young trees and stripping some of the limbs, but it is thought the damage as a rule will be small. In the foothills, where the snow was very deep, considerable more trouble was experienced along this line.

L. L. Van Nortwick, of Mosier, had business in Hood River Tuesday. Ray Imbler came over from White Salmon Monday, and Tuesday went to Portland on train 5. J. A. Cooper, who has been employed in the Davenport Harness Co. shop, returned to The Dalles Tuesday, accompanied by his wife. Mrs. Bartholomew, of White Salmon, went to Portland Tuesday to visit her sister, Mrs. John Wyers, who was operated on Sunday for appendicitis at a hospital in that city. J. R. Nickelsen and D. McDonald attended the annual meeting of the Oregon State Retail Hardware and Implement Dealers association in Portland yesterday and today. While the wind has remained in the east, the weather has remained about freezing and the snow is gradually going off. It is better to have it go that way than for a chinook to take it off in a bunch and cause disastrous washouts, as have occurred in Eastern Oregon and Washington. W. F. Smith, a rancher near the Davidson hill, has leased a quarter section of land in Columbia, Wash., and will move there soon with his family to take possession. Mr. Smith has a nice place started in the valley, but most of the trees are young and he will farm the Columbia ranch while waiting for his Hood River property to develop. J. L. Jorgenson, a practical creamery man of Minnesota, who has been in the valley for some time, went to Dufur Monday, where he will take charge of the creamery at that place. Mr. Jorgenson was in hopes that a creamery would be started in Hood River that would give him employment here, as he likes the valley very much. The spent on the standpipes at the east of the depot, which is used to water the east bound iron horses, has been fixed, and it will not be necessary for the trains to stop to take water before pulling into the depot. This has been very awkward, as the dripping water from the tank, after filling the engine tender, dripped on the passengers coming from the train. The steel girding is doing preliminary work on the new railroad bridge. Holes are being drilled in the abutments to set the plates for the masonry steel beams, and timbers are being mortised and cut to required lengths. The trestle approach at the west end is ready for the rails, and when they are laid the bridge material can be carried out to the piers on that car. N. D. Sanford, of Cascade Locks, got off the local at Hood River Saturday. Mr. Sanford says that about the only shortage of the necessities of life at Cascade Locks during the blockade was wood. There was but little left in the town, and some of the men had to go out and cut wood to tide them over. He had just got in a shipment of hay on the last freight train before the storm, and that settled the food question for stock. The O. R. N. track was again blocked Saturday night near Bonneville, after being cleared for a day. It was reported here that the derailment of a freight train was caused by a slide, but the conductor of the freight says it was due to a car in the middle of the train jumping the track, which caused sixteen cars to pile up in a cut. This made clearing of the track a slow process, requiring until Monday morning. J. A. Moore has sold his interest in the Davenport Harness Co. to Frank Davenport, and will go to Crook county in a week or two, where he will engage in the well drilling business with his brother, Mr. Moore. He will open a mill very store in Lone, Ore., which will be Mr. Moore's headquarters. Gay Yowell will manage the harness shop here for Mr. Davenport. Butler & Co. have made arrangements to receive taxes for this part of Wasco county, and will give receipts therefor, as well as allowing the regular three per cent discount, to be paid before March 15. This is a great convenience to the people of Hood River and valley, saving the trouble and expense of sending the money to the Dalles or making a trip to that place for the purpose of paying taxes, and is in line with the usual practice of the Butler bank. J. P. Egan was over from White Salmon assisting Mr. Wyers in taking his sick wife over on the ferry and sheing her on the train for Portland. He said that a petition was circulated asking the county court to incorporate the town of White Salmon, and that the petition contained 63 signatures. The population is stated to be 324. The county board will order an election, at which three officers of the proposed new town will be voted on, as well as the question of incorporation. It is to be hoped that the election will carry, as the growing town should have the power to govern its own local affairs. H. C. Backmaster, recently clerk at the Mount Hood hotel, came up from Portland Monday on the delayed train. While waiting at the depot, the freight train, he climbed on the tender of a couple of tramps on the tender, who asked him what time it was. He pulled out his watch, when one of them struck him in the face with a piece of coal. He received a bad bruise, but was not knocked out, so he cried for assistance and resisted their efforts to rob him. The tramps made off in the darkness on the approach of help, and were not apprehended.

St. Mark's Guild will meet February 20 with Mrs. Jayne. Mrs. George Perkins, at Mount Hood, is seriously ill. W. M. Wynne, of Portland, made a business trip to Hood River Tuesday. A. I. Mason and J. H. Heilbronner boarded the local for Portland yesterday. Prof. Thompson and Miss Wright attended the teachers' examination at The Dalles this week. S. W. Arnold has come out with a fine horse and buggy, and can be seen cutting the wind on the boulevard around town. F. L. Thomas left for Portland yesterday to look up a new location. He has a couple of propositions in view in the valley towns. Mrs. E. K. Bradley was called to Dayton, Ore., yesterday on account of the serious illness of her brother, John Bradley, who lives at that place. Mrs. Chester Shute accompanied her. Mr. and Mrs. Ned Bythe and children came up from Portland yesterday for a visit with his parents at Dayton. Henry Mills, an employe of S. J. Frank's harness shop, and left for her home in Heppner yesterday. Miss Maud Mills, who has been on a visit to her mother in Columbia county, stopped off here to visit her father, Henry, for the first time in many years. J. Frank's harness shop, and left for her home in Heppner yesterday. Silas H. Soule came up from Portland the first of the week for the first time in about three weeks, having been confined to his home in Portland with the grip. He went to The Dalles yesterday to close up a piano deal. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Booth returned from Portland Friday evening on the boat. Mr. Booth feels much better than when he left, but it is still somewhat weak from his recent illness. He was ready to come back east in a week, but was delayed owing to the blockade. Mrs. Ann Whitcomb, aged 75 years, died at Lytle February 6, and was buried at that place last Friday. Rev. J. L. Hershner officiated and J. E. Nichols had charge of the funeral arrangements. Her two sons were sick in bed with measles at the time of her death, which made the occasion all the more sad. There will be a meeting of Hood River Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, at Masonic hall, February 15. Work in the P. M. degree. On account of the entertainment at the opera house the same evening, the lodge will be closed at 6:30 o'clock, and it is hoped that all members who can will be present at this time, in order to get through in time to give those who desire an opportunity to attend the lecture course entertainment. The Broom's dance at the Odd Fellows' hall Tuesday evening netted $100, which was very satisfactory. A good crowd was in attendance, and the large hall well filled. There was a good response to the efforts of the local fire department in raising funds to pay for the new bell, the citizens appreciating their efforts to increase the efficiency of the department. Frank Davenport dropped in to the dance after he arrived from Portland on the late train, and after purchasing $5 worth of tickets proceeded to enjoy himself. Gray's orchestra furnished excellent music for the occasion. Eight of the premium cups which were given to Hood River growers at the meeting of the State Horticultural society at Portland in January, arrived yesterday by express from the engravers, and were unpacked at the office of the Apple Growers' union. The other cups had been taken away previously by the owners. They are finely engraved, stating the prize for which they were given, and something to be proud of by those who won them. The sixteen cups would make a fine display in the windows of some of our merchants. George Young, an employe of the Menominee Lumber Co., met with a painful and serious accident Tuesday. While unloading lumber near the noon hour a pile toppled over, pinning him to the ground. He was alone at the time and the rest of the workmen had gone to dinner, so that he lay pinned down by the heavy pile of lumber for an hour before he was discovered. He was taken to the home and a physician summoned from Hood River, who discovered that the unfortunate man had sustained a fracture of both bones below the knee. Having lain so long before securing relief, makes the accident much more serious, but he is getting along well as could be expected. We an Suffrage Defeated. Salem, Or., Feb. 12—Woman suffrage met an overwhelming defeat in the senate yesterday, when house joint resolution 13, by Jones of Polk and Lincoln was killed by a vote of eight yeas to 19 nays. There was very little discussion upon the merits of woman suffrage, but a number of senators insisted that the people settled this question last June and there is no need of submitting the question at this time.

Boats Collide and Many Drown.

Block Island, R. I., Feb. 12—In the storm swept seas of the Atlantic, with the temperature below zero, approximately 180 persons are believed to have met death as a result of the schooner Knowlton and the steamer Larchmont colliding off Block Island last night. The Larchmont carried an estimated passenger list of 106 and a crew of about 60. The Larchmont sank ten minutes after the collision, and the Knowlton, laden with coal, foundered soon after. A score of bodies have washed ashore, including Captain McVay, one of the Larchmont's crew, and the officers and crew of his vessel were saved. Survivors express the opinion that although all on board the Larchmont secured places on board rafts or in the boats, that scores of them were swept overboard by the high seas and that many succumbed to cold before they had been afloat but a short time.

The Valley Christian Church.

The Glacier reporter attended services at the Valley Christian church on last Sunday evening. The pastor, Rev. W. A. Elkins, has been preaching a series of sermons on the subject of "First Principles," divided as follows: "Sin, Faith, Repentance and Confession," the latter being the subject of last Sunday evening. The speaker said that "confession was both natural and essential, that many desired to be silent partners in the service of God, but that this was impossible," citing as illustrations the lives of the early apostles and martyrs, and that the confession of the lips was not sufficient but that a confession of an obedient life was all essential. The speaker dwelt at length on the thought of baptism by immersion, stating that "baptism by immersion was the scriptural mode," quoting numerous citations from the scriptures, and reading the conclusions of Luther, Calvin and Wesley in support of his contention, and explained that the Christian church did not believe that immersion alone would afford salvation, but that faith in, and obedience to, the Christ who commands it would save. Rev. Elkins possesses the qualities of a successful orator, namely a virile mind and sympathetic heart. His sermon technique is both textual and expository. He is fearless in the proclamation of what he believes to be the truth. His logic is both coherent and convincing and there is

Export Trade Cut Short.

Seattle, Feb. 12—Failure on the part of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific to deliver more than 25 per cent of the wheat crop of Eastern Washington counties has caused a loss in exports of flour of $750,000 to the banks on their loans. The financial loss to the mills of Puget Sound is heavy and most of them are running on half time or not at all. Conditions existing at present are without parallel in the flour-milling history of the coast. No hope appears and flour has advanced 25 cents over a week ago while the miller's advance is added to by the jobbers. Moreover, bluestem could be sold today at from 73 to 74 cents per bushel, while two weeks ago the average price was 67 and 68 cents. F. H. Luce, ex-Lieutenant Governor of the state of Washington, said today that not 25 per cent of the wheat crop of Lincoln county had been moved as yet. The farmers have sold a great portion and it is being held in the warehouses by the buyers, who have to pay heavy interest charges on the banks on their loans. In Seattle the flour export business has dropped to practically nothing. There is a big demand in the Orient for American flour, but necessarily orders must be turned down.

Nothing will relieve indigestion that is not a thorough digestant. Kodol digests what you eat and allows the stomach to rest—re-converts—grows strong again. Kodol is a solution of digestive acid and as nearly as possible approximates the digestive juices that are found in the stomach. Kodol takes the work of digestion off the digestive organs, and while performing this work itself does greatly assist the stomach to a thorough rest. In addition the ingredients of Kodol are such as to make it a corrective of the highest efficiency and by its action the stomach is restored to its normal activity and power. Kodol is manufactured in strict conformity with the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Keir & Cass.
