with laughter when he heard Borah's explanation. "That's the same colored man who cleaned the carpet in my office five weeks ago," he said. "Later he came back with a breath showing he was suffering with a chronic case of inebriety and insisted he was a lawyer and deserving of professional courtesy to the extent of having a pass to the courtroom during the trial. I had to throw him out of the office."

Thereupon Borah chased Hawley out of the room and used language.—Telegram.

Flag Day Generally Observed.
Friday, June 14th, the national flag day, was generally observed by the citizens of Hood River. There was no formal program for the occasion, but the old stars and stripes were unfurled to the breeze from public buildings and private homes. A drive through the rural section of the valley proved that the farmers were no less patriotic than the citizens of the town. In some instances the old banner was fastened to the tops of the tall trees, and in other cases "Old Glory" was streaming from the windows of the private residences in both city and valley.

Every Man His Own Doctor.
The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as a slight injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup, and whooping cough.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm (an anti-septic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame back and rheumatic pains.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles.

Chamberlain's Salve for the diseases of the skin.

One bottle of each of these five preparations costs but $1.25. For sale by Keir & Cass.

Praise for Hood River.
This office is in receipt of the following communication, which is self-explanatory.

Mr. A. D. Moe, Editor Glacier, Hood River, Ore.

Dear Sir:—It was with much regret that we pulled in to your progressive and prosperous little city last evening behind time, as we had figured on pushing right on through the Friday that we might see as much of your wonderful country by daylight as possible. The railroad people, however, delayed us out here for Portland and we are the losers there as well.

We, however, saw enough to be most favorably impressed with the present prosperity and unlimited future possibilities of the town of Hood River. The wonderful fertility of your fields and orchards has already made Hood River famous for the berries and we doubt not that a bright future awaits the effort now being made by your people along the lines of progress. We will carry back with us a most favorable impression of both your people and community and should any of our members ever feel drawn towards Oregon we are sure that the attractions of Hood River will land some of them there.

We wish you every success and ask that you extend to the Commercial club the thanks of the party for their generous gift of berries when we assure you were most appreciated and enjoyed. Yours truly,

Will L. Yetter,
Chairman executive committee, Commercial club of Omaha.

J. H. Taylor,
Chairman committee in charge Great Northwest Trade excursion.

J. M. Guild,
Commissioner Commercial club.

team was nearing the depot, running at full speed, they spied H. P. with his hat in hand and bobbing up and down like a cork in the water with a sucker on the line, screaming with the desperation of an old maid "whom there's no other." The team tried to dodge Mr. Davidson, and in this effort they turned up the hill toward the Wagona hotel where they were caught. This ended the prospective sensation for the small boy.

Preaches Sermon on Amusements.
Rev. W. A. Elkins, pastor of the Valley Christian church, preached a sermon on the subject of amusements to a packed house last Sunday evening. Rev. Elkins handled the subject in his usual forcible manner, and said in part:

The question of pleasure is one of importance to all. Parents as well as children should be interested in the things that conduce to the betterment of the social nature of the individual. I may say some things tonight that will jar your nerves a little, because I shall endeavor to handle the subject in a way that I may not be misunderstood.

I desire to present some facts concerning the dance that are harmful. First, it deprives young women of that modesty which is God given. It has been ascertained that from among 200 fallen women of the city of Los Angeles who have been interviewed in reference to the matter 163 have stated that they took their first downward step through the ball room. The dance excites the passions and it is this that gives it the pleasure. The select dance may not seem so harmful in itself but it has an influence that tends downward. Participation in the select dance has been the ruin of hundreds of lives. I pity the soul who pretends to be a Christian who places this snare before the people.

Again, the habit of dancing is prone to induce excess. It has been clearly ascertained that the habitual dancer is short lived. The excesses of the dance tend to break the system down, and cases of lung trouble, caused by going out into the open air in an overheated condition, are not infrequent.

Card playing also came in for its share of condemnation. The speaker stated that many became so infatuated with it that they would often steal from their employers in order to satisfy the losses sustained at the gambling table, and that defectors and suicides were to be seen in the legitimate product of the habit.

In speaking of the theatre the speaker stated that the average modern drama of the stage destroyed the powers of the mind for serious thought, and that it was a waste of time and money to patronize the average modern theatre. However, the plays of Shakespeare are highly beneficial and can be patronized without any harmful results. It becomes the duty of the church and Christian people to supply the young people with wholesome social amusements in order that they may not be required to engage in the harmful pleasures of life.

Prominent Portlander Moves Here.
E. J. DeHart, who has been for many years one of the members of the hardware firm of Honeyman & DeHart, of Portland, and who desires to retire from business life, has made arrangements to become a resident of our beautiful valley. Mr. DeHart has owned a 200 acre fruit farm near Medford, which he has lately disposed of for the purpose of settling in Hood River. He has purchased 30 acres of the rough land of the D. N. Byerlee place west of town and will erect a fine bungalow on the property. A more romantic or picturesque site would not have been obtained. As soon as the residence building is completed, Mr. DeHart, with his wife and daughter, will move to Hood River to spend their future days. We shall be glad to welcome them to our community.

Senator Borah Baffled.
Senator Borah was standing and examining Oliver Crook, one of the San Francisco witnesses, who was testifying for the prosecution as to the actions of Harro Orchard about the time he attempted to poison F. G. Bradley and blew him up with a bomb, recently, when a big negro brushed past the hallway at the door and grandiloquently strutted inside the railing around the table, occupied by counsel for the defense and in front of the jury.

A dozen feet away he began motioning to Borah. The senator stopped in his examination and waited for the "colored gent" to reach him.

"Please see that I get a seat, Mr. Borah," said the negro, in a stage whisper. Borah beckoned Sheriff Hodgins and when that officer stepped forward, requested him to provide the "friend" with a seat. The sheriff brought a chair inside the rail and the negro was comfortable seated.

All who saw the performance wondered greatly a whisper even going around that the newcomer was Hooker T. Washington. As soon as court adjourned it was discovered "Booker" was dozing in his chair, and investigation showed him, to use the sheriff's explanation, "drunk as a boiled owl." When Borah learned this he was mad as a hornet.

"From the way the fellow acted," he said, "I thought he was a colored witness from Denver we have been trying to get for some time, and that he had just arrived in the city. I knew it would never do to anger a witness we expected to take the stand for us."

Hood River Defeats Goldendale.
The Hood River base ball team is still in the 1900 per cent line. Many of the boys entertained grave apprehensions when they went up against the Goldendale aggregation last Sunday, and it may be said that their victory was hard earned. About 50 Hood River rooters accompanied the boys on their trip to the scene of conflict. Promptly at 7:15 Commodore Dean drew in the shutters and the merry crows started up the river in the launches. They arrived at Lyle at 9:30 and proceeded to Goldendale on a special train that was in waiting for the party.

The game was called at 2:30 in the afternoon and was a hummer from start to finish. The Hood River battery did some sensational work, Seibel striking out 10 men, and the heroic and timely batting of Castner, Richardson and Sheets won the game for the locals.

All of the runs that Hood River made, with the exception of one, were earned runs, while the Goldendale bunch made theirs on errors. The boys speak in the highest terms of their treatment at the hands of Manager Spaulding. The line-up and score is as follows:

Hood River	Goldendale
Sheets	ss R. Sanders
Castner	1st b B. Sanders
Richardson	2nd b C. Cook
Starks	3rd b Hunkle
Seibel	p Howard
Slavin	c Glover
Hamilton	cf Spaulding
Baker-Blower	1st b C. Spaulding
Lukey	1st b Hornbrook

Time—1:40
Umpire—Akney.

The future schedule for the season is as follows:

*June 23, Cascade Locks vs. Hood River at Hood River.
*June 30 Hood River vs. The Dalles at The Dalles.
*July 7 Stevenson vs. Hood River at Hood River.
*July 14, The Dalles vs. Hood River at Hood River.

An excursion will be run upon each of these occasions and large crowds will be in attendance at the various games.

Hood River is arranging for a return game with Goldendale, but in view of the fact that Hood River's schedule is full until after the fourth of July, and that Goldendale cannot come after that date on account of the boys going to the harvest fields, Hood River is anxious to arrange a date for Saturday, June 28. This plan can be consummated providing the Hood River merchants will close their stores during the game and throw their support to the team. It is hoped that this can be accomplished.

New Firm to Locate.
The building now being occupied by Onbank & Otten as a real estate office is undergoing some changes. The partitions are being torn out and the interior will be converted into a single room. We endeavored to ascertain the nature of the business that is to occupy the place, but could not find out from the owners of the building. It has been rumored that it will be an undertaking establishment or a sausage emporium. Messrs. Onbank and Otten will move the west partition of the present building back about two feet and then arrange a real estate office between the two buildings, conveying the light through a skylight.

Groff-Helme.
Joseph L. Groff and Edith A. Helme were united in the holy bonds of matrimony last Saturday June 15, at high noon, at the home of the bride's parents in the Barrett district. Rev. W. C. Gilmore, pastor of the Congregational church, performed the ceremony. The wedding was of a private nature, only a few intimate friends being present. Many valuable gifts were received from friends from abroad. At the conclusion of the ceremony an excellent wedding dinner was served. The groom is a man of splendid habits while the bride is a most estimable young lady and very popular. The newly married couple will make their future home in the Mt. Hood district, where Mr. Groff owns a farm.
