OREGON APPLES VS. HOOD RIVER APPLES.

Since the success of Hood River apples in the world has raised the ire of the other sections of Oregon which raise apples, tremendous pressure has been brought to bear on the Portland papers and publicity bureaus to stop advertising Hood River. The argument used is to do away with all sectional lines and work for a greater Oregon. It is a beautiful sentiment, and all things being equal, it might be adopted. But when the difference between Hood River apples and simply Oregon apples, no matter where the latter may be raised, how badly put up, disease infected, water-cored, inferior in many ways, and what not, is all the way from one to four dollars a box in the markets of the world, it is time for Hood River to object.

Tom Richardson's press bureau in Portland sent the following article to probably every paper in the state of Oregon.

The Oregon apple has captured the Orient and Russia. Yadjiglogli Bros. of Vladivostok, after making a display in one of the principal show windows of the city, removed the display and after it was crowned and surrounded with American and Russian flags it was photographed, and is to be reproduced in colors for international advertising. Thus the glory of the Oregon apple goes around the world. The display was unusual because most of the boxes shown were ready for ocean shipment, each encased in burlap. Varieties of apples included the Winter Banana, Orley, Hyde's King and Arkansas Black.

Many papers printed the article. The apples all came from Hood River, and Mr. Yadjiglogli has stated to the writer several times that at no other place can he get apples that will pay to ship to Vladivostok. To the easterner who already regards all the statements about the Hood River country with suspicion, he will at once come to the conclusion that all Oregon apples are alike, and all Oregon country alike. Hood River has shown the world how to raise apples, pack and market them, and moreover has the best soil and climate for the business. The honors are rightly hers. She cannot afford to use her reputation to bolster up inferior places, even if they do happen to be in Oregon. There are many kinds of Oregon apples, but only one Hood River.

To indicate how this confusion of names may work an injury to us, it may be stated that a Portland paper recently reported that "Hood River apples sold in New York at $1.25 a box." The market editor was probably working under the theory that there was no difference in names. It is a fact that "Oregon apples" have sold at that price in New York, but account sales received by the Davidson Fruit Co. show that every car of Hood River apples have sold in New York at a profit, and the prices paid by them in Hood River were double that for Newtowns and nearly three times that for Spitzbergers.

We are glad to know that the Commoner and the lectures have been profitable enough for Mr. Bryan to run for the presidency without a campaign fund.

The Car has lost a title. He was so busy hanging on to his throne with both hands that he could not grab for it when it slipped.

Chicago now has a young and handsome woman on the police force. It will undoubtedly tickle some men to be pinched by her.

The bears that were killed last year will be talked about long after the world has forgotten the guides that were shot by mistake.

The $1,000,000 in greenbacks that Tom Watson would have the government issue would sadly need the motto, "In God we trust."

While serving a five-year term an Ohio convict made $20,000 in the penitentiary. That ought to convince the man that he is able to make an honest living.

Every time some public speaker announces that "the need of the hour is men," he strikes a responsive chord in the hearts of thousands of lonely women.

The populists will hold their national convention in St. Louis next April, but it is not believed that extra hotel facilities will have to be provided for the occasion.

Bryan generously declares that Roosevelt could be re-elected. Perhaps this generosity is based upon the personal knowledge gained through a recent interview at the White House that Mr. Roosevelt will positively not be a candidate.—Eugene Register.

A gang of Greeks have been engaged in cutting wood on the Prather place, under the supervision of Emil West. Tuesday they showed signs of mutiny, refusing to do the work as they were told, so Mr. West discharged them. They then showed fight, the ringleader of the gang taking a shotgun and the others knives and a large revolver, and chased him into the house, while they made demands on him for grub and threatened him if he refused. He told them to dig potatoes if they were hungry, and then went over to a neighbor's house and telephoned Mr. Prather of the situation. Mr. Prather and Marshal Ganger went out to the ranch and put the ringleader under arrest, bringing him to town, while the others dispersed. Owing to the absence of Judge Henderson from the city, the Greek is still in jail.

TRAIN SERVICE ON NORTH BANK

"Within sixty days the North Bank road will be rolling freight into Portland," said Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern railroad and the active successor of his father, J. J. Hill, interviewed by the Oregonian at the Portland hotel.

"The first timecard of the North Bank road went into effect Sunday. Trains leave Pasco at 7 a. m. and run to Clifton, 111 miles at the rate of 16 miles an hour, reaching the latter point at 2:30 p. m. the same day. A train leaves Clifton, running east to Pasco, at 8 a. m., and reaches Pasco at 3:30 p. m. By January 15 the trains will be running regularly into Vancouver, and a month later into Portland. So said the dominant man in the "Hill interests" last night and he knows.

"We are throwing more dirt every day on the North Bank road than is being moved from the Panama canal," Mr. Hill continued, "and that shows it is no small job. We have plenty of ready money on hand to put the line through right into our own yards here in Portland, and we are coming just as fast as money and muscle can lay the rails. The only hitch in sight, and it is a small matter, is the terminal arrangements here.

"We have our own yards adjoining the present terminal of all the Portland roads, with plenty of room to grow. We have owned them for years. And we will have the line up to within a stone's throw of our yards with the only obstacle the railroad tracks of the other system, the Harriman line. We anticipate no trouble whatever in getting across, as the law gives us a right of way to our own property. All that has to be decided are the details of the arrangements among the lawyers. All talk of using force as in the good old days is a good natured joke."

Emanuel Lutheran Church Dedication. Next Sunday, December 22, Emanuel Lutheran church will be dedicated and two sermons have been arranged for, morning and afternoon, in German and English. The morning sermon will be preached by Rev. E. Doering, of Portland, at ten o'clock, and will be in German. The afternoon sermon will be preached by Rev. J. R. Rumbaugh, of Portland, at two o'clock, and will be in English. All are invited to these services.

Rev. E. Druckenmiller, a young man graduate from St. Louis, is the first pastor of the church, and will conduct services every two weeks in the church. He has also charges at Mosier, Kent, Skye, Wash., and Latourelle Falls, which prevents him from preaching in Hood River valley every Sunday.

The little church has been completed after having been started for about a year, and occupies half an acre of land purchased from J. Knight, on top of the Davidson hill. It will seat about two hundred, and serves as a home for the Lutheran congregation who have held meetings at different places in the valley at intervals.

Doing a Wholesale Business. J. S. Booth has been very busy all the month looking after his out-of-town customers in Christmas toys and novelties. He has worked up quite a trade at Stevenson, White Salmon, Lyle and Mosier.

Both Co. make a specialty of toys and novelties and buy in large quantities direct from the manufacturers, so are able to sort up a great variety for the stores of the smaller towns which carry them only as a side line for the Christmas trade.

Both is an artist as a window dresser, and he displays the goods for his customers, and this is an added advantage. He said that his trade this year was much larger than ever before, and this department of his business was growing to be one of the big departments of the store.

New Masonic Temple. Prineville is to have a new Masonic Temple. The initial steps are being taken and it is a pretty safe conclusion that the Masons will not fall down on anything they undertake, says the Prineville Review.

The building contemplated will be a two-story brick and stone structure 70x100 and will be erected on their lot, corner of Second and A streets. Two stores will occupy the ground floor and the one above will contain the lodge rooms. The temple will cost somewhere between $17,000 and $25,000. Already $2100 has been raised and it is not thought there will be any difficulty in securing the balance.

Bridges-Peugh. Orus Z. Bridges and Miss Cora A. Peugh were married Sunday, December 15, at 12:30 p. m., at the residence of W. H. Peugh, Rev. A. A. Wood officiating. Mr. Bridges is from Seattle, and the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Peugh, of this city. A number of friends and relatives were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Harriet and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Peugh, from eastern Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bridges left on the local Sunday afternoon for Portland, where from there to Seattle, where they will make their future home.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL. Mrs. Marousis came up from Portland ten days ago and passed ten days on the coast side of Leo Zabel. She returned to Portland Tuesday, and will return the middle of next month and make her home on the place. Mr. Zabel intends to return to Portland. The University of Oregon Glee club will give a concert at the opera house Friday evening. The club is making a tour of the state, and are giving a very high grade entertainment. They have a fine mandolin club in connection. Prof. Glenn, who is with the club, is one of the best baritone in the United States. After the entertainment a reception will be given at the Odd Fellows hall, to which all are invited. It is especially desired that the business men attend and meet the students. Clarence Gilbert, of the Mt. Hood hotel, remarked: "We often hear the question, 'Where do all these people come from?' and on looking over our register for Saturday, I find a pretty good answer. Out of a total of 44 arrivals for the day I find registered from Chicago, Ill., 1; Portland, Ore., 7; Des Moines, Ia., 7; Spokane, 1; Myersdale, Pa., 1; Six Mile Run, Pa., 1; Funk, Neb., 1; Menominee, Ore., 1; Mt. S. land office in The Dalles are nearly snowed under by the vast number of patents to be issued and proofs to be heard, which work has been tied up to a considerable extent on account of the late delay in money affairs. Applicants for patents have made proof but on account of the hurry were unable to pay publication and other fees, thus preventing the issuance of patents. These applicants had been granted thirty days' grace in which to pay the fees, and since the banks are open the work is coming into the land office rapidly. H. T. Jones, special land agent, is in the city assisting the local officials.—Chronicle.
