A. I. Mason and Chris Griese left for the Yakima country Sunday to give a series of lectures at North Yakima, Prosser and Sunnyside, at fruit meetings. Instructors on Hood River methods are in demand by the enterprising fruit sections, and Mr. Mason is especially fitted to give valuable advice, while Mr. Griese has also a fund of information about union methods which he will impart, at the same time looking after the interests of Better Fruit.

H. R. Gearey, wife and daughter arrived from St. Paul Wednesday morning and will make their home here. Mr. Gearey is the owner of 15 acres adjoining his brother-in-law, C. S. Smith, and will erect a residence on the land in the spring. The daughter, Miss Susan A. Gearey, has had ten years experience in the St. Paul telephone exchange, and will have charge of the Home Telephone central as soon as the company are ready for business.

H. L. Price, a merchant from The Dalles, spent Sunday with the Vogt brothers and was much interested in the new suit cabinet which Vogt Bros. are installing in their new store. It is the first one to be introduced in Hood River, or this part of the state, and will be an attractive feature of the new store. It is made in the sections. The coats are all hung up on a sliding carrier, while the other parts of the suit are piled on small receptacles, which can be pulled out to show the garments. The clothes are kept neat and clean, free from wrinkles, while a hundred patterns can be displayed at a moment's notice. Glass doors which push back into the cabinet, can be pulled out and the compartments shut up tight.

Brother Eyerlee, of the St. Johns Review, came near getting a Christmas present which we know he would have appreciated. About the time the children in the editorial paragon were examining their stockings to see what Santa Claus had left in them, a big stork came along and was about to light on the house, when the kids made such a racket that he was scared away, and sent to the next house. Now this species of bird has called at Brother Eyerlee's place a number of times in the years gone by, but we rather suspect that he has become so ornery since moving to St. Johns that he has been cut off the visiting list of the stork.

Edgar Meresse, formerly manager of The Dalles Chronicle, visited in Hood River yesterday.
